PART II.—CESS ON LAND.

Valuation.

8. Whenever it has been decided to make a new valuation or a general re-valuation of lands for the purposes of this Act in any district, or part thereof, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued, requiring every holder of any estate or tenure of which the annual Government revenue or the annual rent shall exceed one hundred rupees, and every holder of any revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure, the gross rental of which shall exceed one hundred rupees, severally to lodge at the Collector's office within one month a return of all lands comprised in his estate or tenure in the form in Schedule (A) hereto annexed, and containing the particulars in such form set forth.

The Collector shall cause such proclamation to be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of such Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every subdivisional officer within the district.

9. After the publication of such proclamation, or, in the event of a partial re-valuation of lands in any district, after the Board of Revenue shall have determined the estates to be re-valued, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served in the form in Schedule (A) for every such estate, and also a notice for every such tenure which may have been named in any return lodged in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, either for the purposes of the re-valuation then contemplated, or for the purposes of any previous valuation, or which may have been entered in any register in the Collector's office; and all holders of such estates and of such tenures who shall, without sufficient cause being shown to the satisfaction of the Collector, refuse or omit, for the space of two months after service of such notice, to lodge in the office of the Collector such return as hereinbefore mentioned, shall be severally liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the expiration of such two months until such return shall be furnished, or until the value of the lands comprised in their respective estates and tenures shall have been ascertained and fixed by the Collector as hereinafter provided.

The Collector may, upon sufficient grounds for so doing being proved to his satisfaction, from time to time, extend the period for lodging any such return.

10. From and after the expiry of two months from the service of any such notice, or any extension of such time under the provisions of the last preceding section, every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which such notice shall have been served shall be precluded from suing for or recovering any rent in respect of any land or tenure which shall be proved not to have been included in the return lodged by him, or in respect of which no return shall have been lodged as aforesaid or valuation made by the Collector, as hereinafter provided, and from recovering rent for tenures subsequently created or in excess of the sum mentioned in such return without proof of the creation of such tenure or enhancement subsequent to such lodgment.

11. Whenever the revenue annually payable in respect of any estate, or the rent annually payable in respect of any tenure, does not exceed the sum of one hundred rupees, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure—(a) in any case determine the annual value of the land comprised therein to be, in a permanently-settled estate or tenure a sum not exceeding three times, and in a temporarily-settled estate or tenure a sum not exceeding twice the amount of the annual revenue or rent payable therefor; and (b) when the area of the said estate or tenure has been ascertained, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him shall seem fit.

12. When the area of any revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure, the gross rental of which does not exceed, or is not estimated by the Collector to exceed, the sum of one hundred rupees, has been ascertained, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him may seem fit.

13. When the land comprised in any estate or tenure has been valued by the Collector under the last preceding section, the annual value of any portion of such land which is comprised within a subordinate tenure shall be taken to be a sum equal to the rent thereof increased by half the same multiple or fraction of such rent as that by which the annual value of the whole of such land determined as aforesaid exceeds the revenue or rent payable for the same; or shall be at the same rate per acre as the whole of such land:

Provided that the holder of any such estate or tenure may, within one month from the posting of the valuation roll in respect thereof under section 23, and the holder of such subordinate tenure may within one month from the date of the first demand made on him for payment of road cess, lodge a return in the form in Schedule

(A) contained in regard to such estate or tenure or subordinate tenure, and thereupon the annual value of the land comprised therein shall be fixed at the amount entered in such return subject to the provisions of sections 17 and 20.

Or the Collector may, if he think fit, cause a notice to be served in respect of any such estate or tenure in the form contained in Schedule (A), and thereupon all the provisions of this part shall apply in the same way as they would have applied if the annual Government revenue or rent thereof had exceeded one hundred rupees.

14. Whenever any lands have been acquired under any rules issued by or under the authority of the Government for the sale, lease, grant, or clearance of waste lands, or are held directly from Government, and are used for the cultivation of tea, coffee, or cinchona, the Collector shall, in lieu of the notice to be served under section 9, but at the time, in the manner, and under the penalties therein prescribed, cause a notice to be served calling on the holder of such lands to lodge a return in the form in Schedule (B) hereto annexed, and containing the particulars in such form set forth; and the annual value of such lands shall be fixed at ten rupees in respect of every acre therein entered as cultivated.

15. Fines under clause 2, section 9, and all costs of recovery thereof, shall be recoverable as arrears of revenue and shall be deemed to be demands under Bengal Act VII of 1868.

Or the Collector may, if he see fit, after recording his opinion to that effect, cause a notice in form contained in Schedule (C) hereto annexed to be served for the estate or tenure in respect of which the fine has been imposed, and thereupon every payment of rent, save to the Collector or some person by him thereunto appointed, made after such service, until further order for the Collector, shall be null and void; and the Collector may recover by any process of law for the time being in force, by which he might recover rent due to the Government from an undertenant or ryot in an estate which is managed directly by the Collector, the rent then or thereafter to become due from any occupier or tenure-holder on the said estate or tenure until the amount of such fine or fines with all costs shall be satisfied, whereupon the said notice shall be ordered to be revoked; and the receipt of the Collector in respect of all sums so recovered shall be, to the extent of such sums, a valid discharge in respect of rent due by such occupier or tenure-holder.

16. The Collector may, after the expiration of two months from the service of any notice mentioned in sections 9, 13 or 14, ascertain and fix, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, the annual value of the lands mentioned in such notice of which no return required by such notice shall theretofore have been lodged; and all expenses incurred in making such valuation may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof in manner as is provided by section 15 for the recovery of fines.

17. Whenever the Collector may deem that any return required by sections 9, 13, or 14 of lands for which no rent is payable by cultivating ryots to the person making such return is untrue or incorrect, he may, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and in case the annual value of such lands so determined by him shall exceed by one-fifth the value stated in such return, the expense of such valuation shall be paid by the person by whom such return shall have been lodged, and may be recovered in manner as is provided by section 15 for the recovery of fines, and in all other cases shall be defrayed from the District Road Fund established under this Act.

If return of certain lands is untrue, Collector to make valuation.

18. The Collector may, whenever he may think fit, cause a notice in the form in Schedule (A) to be served on any person holding any lands or possessing any interest therein, although such person may have been mentioned in any return as a cultivating ryot; and thereupon such person shall be bound to make a return within one month from the service of such notice, in the form contained in Schedule (A) and the provisions contained in section 9 with regard to fines and extension of time for lodging a return shall be applicable to him.

Person returned as cultivating ryot may be served with notice.

19. If no return is made, the Collector may proceed to ascertain the annual value of the lands held by such person; and in case it appears that the annual value of the land is greater than the rent which he pays, the expense of such valuation shall be borne by such person, and may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof in manner as is provided by section 15 for recovery of fines, and in all other cases shall be defrayed from the said District Road Fund.

If no return made, Collector may ascertain annual value of lands.

20. If the Collector shall see ground for believing that any return made under this Act other than a return mentioned in section 17 is untrue and incorrect, he may prosecute the maker of such return under section 177 of the Indian Penal Code. And if the Magistrate convict the person so prosecuted under the said section, the Collector may proceed to make a valuation of the lands mentioned in such return by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient.

False returns.

21. For the purpose of making any valuation of lands directed by this part, the Collector shall exercise the powers vested in Collectors by section 19, clause 1, section 23, clause 1, and section 24, clause 1 of Regulation VII of 1822 of the Bengal Code, except so far as the said clauses authorize any inquiry into rights or interests attaching to such lands.

Power of Collector in making valuation.

22. The Collector shall cause to be prepared from the returns so furnished to him, and from the valuations made by him under this part, a valuation roll of each estate within his district, and of the tenures therein comprised, noting thereon the amount of revenue annually payable to Government on which the deduction specified in clause (1) of section 28 is to be calculated, and shall, on the application of any holder of an estate or tenure or cultivating ryot within his district, cause to be furnished to him a copy of so much of the said roll and of the returns as relate to the lands included within his estate or tenure or ryottee holding, on being paid for the same at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall from time to time determine.

23. On the completion of every roll prescribed under this part, the Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of the estate to which such roll refers, and an extract from such roll of the portion thereof relating to any tenure at the mâl cutcherry thereof: Provided that if no mâl cutcherry be found, some conspicuous places on the said estate and tenure shall be selected instead.

24. The procedure prescribed by the two last preceding sections shall be followed whenever a re-distribution of the valuation is made in consequence of a partition as contemplated in section 104.

Procedure to be followed when there is a partition.

25. Every person who shall deem himself to be aggrieved by any valuation to be made by any Collector under the provisions of section 17 may, within one month after the posting up of a copy of such roll as above mentioned, appeal to the Commissioner of the Division against such valuation, and the decision of such Commissioner shall be final and conclusive.

Appeals against valuation.

26. Every order for the levy of a fine or expenses passed by a Collector under this Act shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division within one month from the service of the first process for the levy of such fine or expenses. Pending such appeal, and until the order of the Commissioner which shall be final, all process for such levy shall be discontinued.

Orders for levy of fine appealable.

Assessment and payment.

27. From and after the commencement of this Act in any district, or part of a district, all lands in such district or part thereof shall be liable to the payment of a road cess and a public works cess at the following rates:—

in the case of road cess, at such rate per annum not exceeding one-half of an anna in the rupee of the annual value of such lands as the District Committee in manner hereinafter provided shall from year to year determine;

in the case of public works cess, at such rate per annum not exceeding one-half of an anna in the rupee of the annual value of such lands as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, from year to year determine.

28. (1)—Every holder of an estate shall yearly pay the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the lands comprised in such estate, at the rates at which the said cesses may be fixed respectively under this Act, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the revenue entered in the valuation roll of such estate as payable in respect thereof.

(2)—Every holder of a tenure shall yearly pay to the holder of the estate or tenure within which the land held by him is included, the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the land comprised in his tenure at the rates at which the said cesses may be fixed respectively under this Act, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the rent paid by him for such tenure.

(3)—Every cultivating ryot shall pay to the person to whom his rent is payable one-half of the said road cess and public works cess calculated upon the rent payable by him or upon the annual value, ascertained under the provisions of section 16, of the land held by him.

29. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in any district shall have been determined for any year by the District Committee and the Lieutenant-Governor respectively, the Collector shall cause to be served on the holder of every estate within the district a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess payable by such holder, and specifying the date from which such road cess and public works cess shall take effect: Provided that it shall not be necessary to serve such a notice when no change has been made in the valuation of the estate or in the rate of road cess or public works cess since the issue of the last notice under this section.

The said holder shall pay the amount of such cess to the said Collector, by equal instalments, on the several days fixed for the payment of the instalments of the Government revenue due in respect of his estate if revenue be payable thereon; and if no revenue be payable thereon, then upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor made under the provisions hereinafter contained.

30. If any instalment of such road cess or public works cess or part thereof payable to the Collector shall not be paid within seven days from the date on which the same becomes due, the amount due, with a penalty of not more than 25 per cent. in addition thereto, and all cost of recovering the same, shall be recoverable as an arrear of revenue due from the estate or tenure in respect of which it is owing, and for the recovery of such arrears the provisions of Act XI of 1859 and of any other Act for the time being in force for the sale of revenue-paying estates shall be applicable to revenue-free estates; or the Collector may, if he see fit, proceed to recover the amount due as in the second clause of section 15 provided.

In case the Collector shall see fit so to proceed, the claim for arrears of road cess and public works cess due from any estate or tenure for which a notice has been served shall have priority over any other demand or claim or lien subsisting thereupon.

31. The payment for road cess and public works cess by the holder of a tenure, or by a cultivating ryot, shall be made in the proportion of the instalments of rent payable in respect of such tenure or ryottee holding; and if there be no rent payable in respect thereof, then by two equal half-yearly instalments, upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor made under the provisions hereinafter contained.

32. Every holder of an estate or tenure to whom any sums may be payable under the provisions of this Act may recover the same in the same manner and under the same penalties as if the same were arrears of rent due to him in respect of the land in respect of which such sums may be payable. And any shareholder in an estate or tenure, who may have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as may be payable in respect of their shares as arrears of rent; or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

33. All lands held without payment of rent other than lands mentioned in section 14, and not being estates entered on the register of revenue-free tenures of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they may be included, and if they be not included within the local boundary of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal, appoint. And road cess and public works cess in respect of such lands shall be payable by the holder of the estate or tenure of which they are deemed to form a part, and shall be recoverable under the provisions of section 30 or section 32, as the case may be: Provided that if the cess for such lands is not paid to the holder of the estate or tenure by the due date, the holder of the estate or tenure shall be entitled to recover from the holder of such land an additional sum equal to double the amount of the cess with all costs of suit. Or such lands may, if the Collector shall see fit, be entered on a separate register to be kept for the purposes of this Act, as hereinafter provided, by the Collector, and thereupon road cess and public works cess shall be payable thereon and shall be recoverable in respect thereof as if the same were an estate.

34. The person to whom any sum shall, under the provisions of the last preceding section, have been directly paid by the holder of any tenure or tenures for which no rent is paid, may retain one-fourth thereof as and for his remuneration for costs and risk of collecting the same.

35. The separate register referred to in section 33 shall be called the register of claims to rent-free tenures, and it shall be lawful for the Collector of any district, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, to issue a proclamation which shall be published in the manner described in section 8.

cesses shall be payable, in the proportion in which such Collectors shall be severally entitled thereto.

60. In and for any district to which this Act shall have been extended, the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time appoint, or cause to be elected under such rules in regard to qualification, election, and discharge as may by him be prescribed for such period not exceeding two years as to him may seem fit, any number of the road-cess payers of such district, their managers or agents, to be members of a district committee for carrying out the purposes of the Act.

61. The Lieutenant-Governor may, from time to time, discharge any one or more of the members of the committee so appointed who shall desire to be discharged, or refuse or become incapable to act, or whom, for any cause which he may deem sufficient, he may think it expedient to remove.

62. In addition to the members appointed or elected as aforesaid, the Lieutenant-Governor shall have power to direct, by any writing signed by him, that all persons holding the offices in such writing specified shall be ex-officio members of the committee for any district in which they exercise the said offices, and in which this Act shall have come into force.

68. At least ten days' notice shall be given of every meeting. Every notice shall state the business to be transacted at the meeting proposed to be called; and no business other than that so stated shall be transacted at such meeting.

69. The quorum necessary for the transaction of business at a meeting shall be one-fourth of the total number of members forming the committee at the time of the meeting.

70. If at the time appointed for the meeting or such time not exceeding one hour thereafter, as the majority of the members present shall think fit, a quorum is not present, the meeting shall stand adjourned till some future day, to be appointed by the chairman or vice-chairman of the committee, and ten days' notice of such adjourned meeting shall be given. The members present at such adjourned meeting shall form a quorum, whatever their number may be.

71. All questions which may come before the committee at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes of the members present. Every member shall have one vote. In case of equality of votes, the president shall have a casting vote.

72. The minutes of the proceedings of every meeting shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose in the office of the committee, and any person resident in, or owning land in the district, may at all reasonable times inspect and examine such book without payment of any fee, and may obtain a certified copy of any extract therefrom on payment of such fees as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

73. All correspondence between the committee and the local Government shall pass through the Commissioner of the division, who in all things under this Act shall be subject to the control and supervision of the Lieutenant-Governor. The committee shall furnish him with any information he may call for connected with the duties imposed upon them by this Act.

Their Functions.

74. The first meeting of a district committee shall be convened by the chairman at such time as he shall think fit, and shall proceed to the election of a vice-chairman.

Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor shall have the power to veto the election of a vice-chairman, and that no such election shall take effect till it has received his approval.

75. The committee at a subsequent meeting, to be convened by the chairman at such time as he shall think fit, may appoint, on the nomination of the chairman, and may suspend or dismiss, as they may think fit, such officers, engineers, clerks, and servants as may seem to them to be necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act, and may pay to such officers, engineers, clerks, and servants such salaries, absentee allowances while on leave, gratuities, and pensions as they may from time to time determine:

Provided that the aggregate salaries and absentee allowances of such officers, engineers, clerks, and servants for any one year shall not, except with the sanction of the Commissioner of the division, exceed one-fourth of the entire income of the committee for the said year.

76. No member, officer, or servant of any committee shall be in any wise concerned or interested in any contract or work made with or executed for such committee; and if any such member, officer, or servant be so concerned or interested, he shall be incapable of afterwards continuing to be a member of such committee, or holding or continuing in any office or employment under such committee, and shall be liable on conviction thereof to a fine of five hundred rupees;

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any person by reason only of his being a shareholder in any company incorporated by Act of Parliament or by Royal Charter or otherwise, or registered under any Act for the registration of Joint-Stock Companies, passed by the Parliament of the United Kingdom, or by any Indian Legislature, which may enter into any contract with such committee, or execute any work for such committee, if such person shall, at or before the time of any such contract being made or tendered for, declare to such committee the extent of his interest in such company, and if an officer or servant of the committee obtain the sanction of such committee to his continuing to be an officer or servant.

77. The vice-chairman, within three months after his election, shall cause to be prepared a general statement of the roads, bridges, rivers, khals, and canals other than those on which tolls of any kind are collected the proceeds of which are not paid to the District Road Fund, and other than canals constructed for purposes of irrigation, to be brought within the operation of this Act within the three years then next ensuing, and the committee shall at some meeting to be held within one month after the submission of such statement, or at any adjourned meeting, take such statement into consideration, and may pass any statement relating thereto which they may think fit.

78. The committee shall thereupon forward the statement which shall be so passed to the Commissioner of the division.

79. The vice-chairman may in any subsequent year cause to be prepared a supplemental statement of the kind mentioned in section 77 and every such supplemental statement shall be subject to the provisions of the two last preceding sections with respect to the statement therein mentioned.

80. The Collector shall, at such date as the district committee shall fix, prepare and deliver to the district committee a statement showing under separate heads the estimated proceeds, for the cess year then next ensuing, of the several road cesses at the maximum rates hereinbefore provided, and also of any sum and of any sources of revenue for the said period which the Lieutenant-Governor shall have assigned to the said district.

81. The committee shall at some meeting to be held in such month as the Lieutenant-Governor shall determine, prepare an estimate of the income and expenditure of the committee for the cess year then next ensuing, together with specifications and estimates of the works to be performed during such year, such works being a portion of, or included in, the works mentioned in the statement for the time being in force.

In making such estimate the committee shall first determine the amount to be appropriated to office establishment and charges, next the amount to be appropriated to the repair of roads, bridges, rivers, khals and canals then existing, next the amount to be set aside as a reserve in case of accidents or emergencies, and afterwards the amount to be appropriated to the construction of new roads or canals; provided that no portion of the District Road Fund of any one district shall, save with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, be appropriated for the construction, repairs, maintenance or improvement of roads, bridges, rivers, khals, or canals within any other district.

82. Every such estimate shall be forwarded by the vice-chairman to the Commissioner, and the Commissioner may approve such estimate or may return such estimate for revision in such respects as he may point out, or may alter or vary the details or total amount thereby proposed to be expended: Provided the Commissioner shall not alter or vary any estimate which has been approved by not less than two-thirds of the members of the committee present at the meeting at which such estimate shall have been adopted.

83. The total amount in and by any estimate proposed to be expended in any one cess year shall not exceed the proceeds estimated to be at the disposal of the committee for that year of the several road cesses hereinbefore directed to be imposed within the district at the maximum rates at which they are respectively leviable, together with any sum, and the annual proceeds of any source of revenue which shall have been placed by the Lieutenant-Governor at the disposal of the committee, and the estimated unexpended balance of the District Road Fund of the previous year.

84. Whenever any estimate shall have been altered or revised by the Commissioner as hereinbefore is provided, the committee shall cause a supplemental estimate to be prepared, and in case the amount proposed to be expended shall have been increased by such alteration or revision, shall at a meeting provide for the expenditure of such increased sum, within the limits in the next preceding section specified, and in case such sum shall have been similarly diminished, shall therein determine the works proposed in the original estimate which are to be altered or abandoned.

85. When and so soon as the amount for any one cess year proposed to be extended shall have been determined as hereinbefore is provided, the committee shall at a meeting, after deducting therefrom the amount which may be placed at their disposal as aforesaid, together with the estimated proceeds of any sources of revenue assigned to them, determine the several rates of road cess under this Act required to produce the residue, and such rates shall be the rates at which the several road cesses shall be respectively leviable for the ensuing year.

86. So soon as the said rates shall have been determined as aforesaid, the committee shall inform the Collector thereof, and the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in his district declaring the same. Such proclamation shall be published in manner as in section 8 is directed. And the said rates shall be reported by every Collector to the Lieutenant-Governor, who shall forthwith cause the same to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Branch Committees.

87. In any district to which this Act shall have been extended, the Lieutenant-Governor shall, in addition to a district committee, form as many branch committees as he shall think fit for carrying out the purposes of this Act, and shall appoint a chairman and vice-chairman thereof respectively, and shall define the portion of such district within which any branch committee shall exercise the powers conferred and discharge the duties imposed upon them by this Act. The Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time appoint, or cause to be elected under such rules in regard to qualification, election and discharge, as may by him be prescribed, for such period not exceeding two years as to him may seem fit, to be members of a branch committee any number of the road-cess payers of the portion of the district for which such branch committee shall be formed.

The provisions in sections 61 to 63 (both inclusive) and 65 to 72 (both inclusive) respecting district committees shall apply, so far as the same are suitable, to such branch committees.

88. Every such branch committee shall be, except as hereinafter provided, subordinate to the district committee, and shall forward to the district committee such statements, suggestions, and estimates as it may think fit, and the district committee shall consider and have regard to such statements; suggestions, and estimates in framing the statements and estimates hereinbefore directed. And such branch committee may from time to time select any member thereof to be an additional member of the said district committee who shall thereupon, for the space of one year, become a member thereof.

89. The Lieutenant-Governor may in each year assign to any branch committee so much of the road fund levied for that year in the district for portion of which such branch committee is appointed as he may think fit, not exceeding the total estimated proceeds of all road cesses leviable within the said portion of the district; and further, to allot to the said branch committee so much of the income of the fund from other sources as he shall think fit.

90. In any case where the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may declare that a branch committee shall have the full powers of a district committee within the said portion of the district, the district committee shall cease to exercise powers under sections 75, 76, 77, 81 and 84, within such portion of the district: and such powers, together with the powers specified in sections 69 and 79, shall then vest in the branch committee; and in any case where the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may declare that a branch committee shall have the powers of a district committee for specified works or specified purposes only, the powers of the district committee in respect of such works and such purposes only shall cease within the said portion of the district; and such powers shall then vest in the branch committee.

91. Every branch committee so vested with powers as in the next preceding section provided, shall prepare an estimate in regard to their annual income and expenditure similar to that required by section 81 to be prepared by the district road committee.

92. The provisions of sections 82, 83, and 84 shall apply to such estimate: provided that the aggregate amount to be expended by the branch committee in any year shall not exceed the aggregate of the fund placed at their disposal for that year.

PART V.—DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

93. The District Road Fund under this Act shall consist of the amount produced by the several road cesses, and of all sums levied or recovered as fines or penalties or otherwise in respect of the said cesses under this Act, and of all sums assigned by the Government thereto, whether as a contribution from the proceeds of the public works cess towards the expenses of assessing and collecting such cess jointly with the road cess or otherwise.

94. The Lieutenant-Governor shall, on or before the date fixed as that from which the several road cesses under this Act shall take effect in any district, assign to the district committee appointed therein all such sums as may have been collected within the said district during the financial year then last completed, on account of any road cess payable otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, and such sums shall by the said committee be added to the District Road Fund.

95. The District Road Fund shall be lodged with the Collector, and the Collector shall keep a separate account thereof, and shall cause to be prepared an annual statement of such account, showing in detail therein all receipts and disbursements during the cess year. After the appointment of any branch committee in a district the Collector shall in like manner keep a separate account of the fund placed at its disposal.

96. All payments on account of the District Road Fund shall be made by the Collector out of the said fund upon cheques signed by the vice-chairman for sums under one hundred rupees, or by the chairman and vice-chairman for sums above that amount. When the vice-chairman is absent, or from any cause incapacitated to sign cheques, the chairman may sign cheques on behalf of the vice-chairman. The word "chairman" in this section includes any officer for the time being in charge, under a written order from the chairman, of his office.

97. The Collector shall forward to the vice-chairman of every committee in every month an account of his receipts and disbursements on account of the District Road Fund for the previous month.

98. Every committee shall keep regular and detailed accounts of the moneys received or applied by them under the provisions of this Act and of their application, and such accounts shall be, at all convenient seasons, open to the inspection of all members of the committee.

99. The vice-chairman of every committee shall, in every year, prepare a detailed account current of the receipts and expenditure of the District Road Fund during the previous cess year, and such account shall within one month of the submission thereof be examined by the said vice-chairman, together with three members of the committee appointed in its behalf by the committee. Such members shall have power to call for all vouchers and papers they may require, and may amend, correct, and pass the said account.

The account so passed shall be submitted to a meeting of the said committee to be convened to consider the same within one month from the receipt thereof.

100. Within one month after the account of the next preceding cess year shall have been examined as aforesaid, the committee shall submit to the Commissioner a copy of such account and a report of the work done and in progress in such year, and such account and report shall be published at the expense of the District Road Fund in the Calcutta Gazette, together with such remarks thereon as may have been received from the Commissioner.

101. The District Road Fund shall be applied—in paying the necessary expenses for carrying out the provisions of this Act including establishment and charges incurred by the Collector, and in the offices of the Commissioner, the Accountant-General, and the Board of Revenue; in the payment of the staff and establishment appointed under this part; in the construction, repair, improvement, and maintenance of roads, bridges, rivers, khals, and canals other than those on which tolls are collected, the proceeds of which are not paid to the District Road Fund, and other than canals constructed for purposes of irrigation.

PART VI.—APPLICATION OF PUBLIC WORKS CESS.

102. The proceeds of the public works cess shall be paid into the public treasury, and shall be applied, in the first instance, to the payment of such contributions to the District Road Fund as the Lieutenant-Governor may think proper in consideration of the said cess being assessed and collected jointly with the road cess by establishments paid from the Road Cess Fund, and, next, to the construction charges and maintenance of provincial public works in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Accounts of the moneys received and expended under the provisions of this Act in respect of the said cess shall be kept in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor may prescribe, and a statement showing the receipts, expenditure, and balance of the public works cess shall be published annually in the Calcutta Gazette.

PART VII.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

103. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue-paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859 or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876 for the payment of revenue, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of road cess and public works cess under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Act XI of 1859 and Bengal Act VII of 1876 in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of separate notices under this Act.

104. Every valuation under Part II shall remain in force for the term of five years from the date fixed as hereinbefore provided for the several cesses leviable in pursuance thereof to take effect and until a new valuation and assessment shall have been completed:

Provided that in case of partition under Regulation XIX of 1814 or in case of partition. Bengal Act VIII of 1876 of an estate after valuation, and before the expiration of the five years, the total valuation of the old estate shall be distributed proportionately under the order of the Collector over the newly-formed estates, whereupon the newly-formed estates shall, for the purposes of this Act, take the place of the old estate, the liability to pay road cess of each newly-formed estate being separate and distinct, and no liability being incurred by any one of the newly-formed estates on account of the default of another;

Provided also that if any arrear of road cess is due from the old estate when the order for partition is passed, all the newly-formed estates shall be jointly and severally liable for the same.

105. After the expiration of the said five years, or at any time within twelve months previous thereto, the Collector may cause a new valuation roll under Part II to be prepared for the district, or for any part thereof, or for particular estates only, to take effect from the commencement of any cess year commencing after the expiration of the said five years, and for that purpose may cause such proclamations and notices to be issued and served, and such returns to be made as are hereinbefore directed, and shall have such powers and authorities as are in the said Parts respectively conferred.

106. New valuations under Part III shall be made by the Collector every year, and the Collector may for that purpose cause such notices to be issued and served, and such returns to be made, and shall have such powers and authorities as are in the said Part mentioned and conferred:

Provided that whenever any return made under section 48 shall be accepted by the Collector for any year, the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of such property may, if he see fit, declare in writing at the time of such acceptance that the annual net profits set forth in such return shall, for the purposes of this Act, be the annual net profits for the five years then next ensuing.

And if the Collector shall agree to accept such declaration, no new valuation shall be made for such property until the said five years shall have expired or until a general re-valuation be made under the last preceding section.

107. Every return filed by or on behalf of any person in pursuance of the provisions of this Act shall be signed by him or his authorised agent and shall be admissible in evidence against him, but shall not be admissible in his favour.

108. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served may be served—

1.—By delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering the said notice to any agent authorized to appear generally for the person to whom such notice is directed; or

2.—By sending a registered letter containing such notice directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or to the place where he may be known to reside; or

3.—By posting a copy of the notice at the māl cutcherry of the estate or tenure; or if no such māl cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate or tenure to which such notice relates, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to the agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next after the preparation of such notice. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate or tenure, service of notice under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

109. The costs of service of all notices by this Act required to be served shall be defrayed from the District Road Fund, and it shall be lawful for the Board of Revenue to fix from time to time the amounts of costs which shall be levied under section 30 in respect of each process for recovery of arrears of the cesses; and such amount when levied shall be credited to the District Road Fund.

Lieutenant-Governor empowered to prescribe forms and rules.

110. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may from time to time make rules for the performance of the duties of the district and branch committees, and of all persons employed under this Act, and in regard to the appointment, election, qualification, and discharge of such persons;

prescribing forms for the notices, returns, valuation rolls, estimates, account books, reports, and statements required by this Act, and for which forms are not hereby given; for fixing the dates for payment of instalments under sections 29 and 31; and generally for purposes of this Act.

The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time alter, add to, or cancel any such rules.

Such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and shall thereupon have the force of law.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—STAMPS.

Calcutta, the 17th November 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1878-79.

READ also—

Government Resolution dated 21st October 1878, on the report for the year 1877-78.

THE Board's report on the administration of the Stamp Department does not cover precisely the same ground as the Department of Revenue which was made provincial in 1878. As in the case of the Stationery Department, the Superintendent distributes stamps to the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and Oude, the Punjab, Assam and British Burmah, and the Board refer to these transactions and analyse them in paragraphs 2, 3, and 4 of their report, while the two first statements which are appended also relate to the receipts from stamps in all the provinces and districts which receive their supplies from the Calcutta office. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor unnecessary and somewhat out of place to review the revenue receipts of other provinces, and in future the report of the Board may be limited to the transactions in stamps in the Lower Provinces only, other provinces being referred to, if at all, only for the purpose of comparison. With this view the following statement which is taken from Statement A annexed to the Board's report is of interest as exhibiting the relative progress of the stamp revenue for the last four years in the several provinces supplied from the Calcutta office :—

PROVINCES.	SALES IN				Increase or decrease in 1878-79 compared with 1877-78.

Moreover the report of the Stamp Department includes the sale of postage, service and telegraph stamps, the revenue derived from which is Imperial. These, however, are kept quite distinct in the figures furnished by the Board of Revenue and will be separately noticed in this Resolution.

2. The following statement shows the gross revenue in Bengal from the sale of the different denominations of stamps, the receipts from which are provincial, during each of the last six years :—

YEARS.	STAMPS SOLD UNDER THE GENERAL STAMP ACT.				Total.	Court fee stamps.	TOTAL RECEIPTS.
	Non-judicial stamp paper.	Special adhesive stamps.	One anna revenue, share, transfer, and foreign bill stamps.	Hundi and bill of exchange stamps.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	16,80,665	5,22,322	1,81,687	98,731	24,81,405	60,12,581	84,93,988
1874-75	16,98,808	5,58,256	1,91,761	97,914	25,41,239	62,44,787	87,86,026
1875-76	17,71,571	5,46,323	1,86,604	99,786	26,03,314	65,79,655	91,82,969
1876-77	17,63,946	5,46,324	2,00,989	88,378	25,39,636	68,52,168	93,91,804
1877-78	18,43,199	6,03,856	2,20,508	1,10,788	27,78,351	78,53,311	1,06,31,662
1878-79	19,89,374	5,47,114	2,07,934	1,03,375	28,47,797	77,52,775	1,06,00,572

It will be seen that there has been during the year a falling off under all the denominations of stamps, except impressed stamps. The increase under the latter description of stamps is Rs. 1,46,175, or 7·9 per cent, which more than covers the deficiency under all other denominations of non-judicial stamps.

3. On the other hand the revenue from judicial stamps, which since the passing of the Court Fees Act has been steadily increasing, has, during the year under review, fallen off by Rs. 1,00,536, or 1·2 per cent. This, however, is less than might have been expected. The receipts from Court Fee Stamps in 1877-78 were abnormally swollen by the operation of the Land Registration Act under which, as the Board report, 714,927 petitions were filed. Each of these was as a rule accompanied by a mokhtarnamah, and the value of each petition to the stamp revenue may thus be estimated at one rupee. This accounts for over seven lakhs of the increase of ten lakhs on the sale of Court Fee Stamps in 1877-78 as compared with 1876-77.

In the year under review only Rs. 57,845 such petitions were presented, and a falling off in the revenue of much more than one lac might have been anticipated. The License Tax Act partly conduced to this result. 260,200 petitions under this Act were presented on a one-anna stamp. The direct receipts on this account would only be Rs. 16,362, but no doubt in very many cases they were accompanied by a mokhtarnamah on a higher stamp.

4. The total amount realized during the year on account of the sale of all classes of stamps that contribute to the provincial revenue being Rs. 1,06,00,572, and the amount payable to the Government of India on account of stamps under the new financial arrangements being Rs. 1,01,25,000, the Board remark in paragraph 11 that stamps thus yielded a net profit of Rs. 4,75,572 to the provincial revenue. This, however, is incorrect and understates the profit. Under the budget head of stamps is included the revenue derived from the sale of papers, which during the year amounted to Rs. 1,64,880. This raises the total stamp revenue to Rs. 107,65,452, and the profit over and above the amount for which the Local Government is responsible to Rs. 6,40,452.

5. Again however, in reviewing this important branch of the revenue, as in reviewing the Excise, Sir Steuart Bayley has to remark on the inconvenience which arises from the Board omitting to compare their figures with those of the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General returns the total stamp receipts for the year under review as 107,84,690, or 19,238 in excess of the figures adopted by the Board of Revenue. It must be remembered that these, and not the Board's figures, are authoritative and give the real receipts as credited finally to the Local Government. If therefore the Board's figures are correct, all the greater is the reason for comparing the figures with those of the Accountant-General and proving their correctness. In future the Board should endeavour to make the figures which they review agree with those shewn by the Accountant-General.

6. Calcutta, as usual, stands foremost in the list as having contributed by far the largest share of the revenue. The following twelve districts show receipts exceeding three lakhs of rupees :—

DISTRICTS.	General stamps.	Court fee stamps.	Total.	Incidence of revenue per head of population.

In 1877-78 thirteen districts returned receipts exceeding three lakhs, namely all the districts above named, and Chittagong, which now shows a falling off by over Rs. 20,000. In the remaining districts the receipts were more than two lakhs in ten districts, more than one lakh in ten, and below one lakh in twelve. Singbhoom shows the worst results with an aggregate receipt of only Rs. 7,281.

7. The incidence of stamp revenue per head of population ranges from ·01 in Singbhoom to ·34 in Noakholly. In Calcutta, which is an exceptional district, the incidence is 4·10, and taking the population at 60 millions that for the whole province is ·17 per head. But the actual pressure on the lower classes is much lighter than these figures represent. The burden in a great measure falls on those who cannot afford it, as the high ad valorem court fees affect only those concerned with large estates, and the charges on ordinary business transactions fall on those who have extensive dealings. The new Stamp Act (I of 1879), which came into operation immediately at the close of the year under review, will, it is hoped, contribute to the expansion of the revenue from stamps, as it provides for a direct increase of duty on a number of instruments, imposes a new duty on the entry of names of advocates, vakeels, and attorneys on the rolls of the High Court, and contains more stringent provisions to enforce the observance of the law.

8. In paragraphs 15 to 65, the Board give an interesting analysis of the sales of the various descriptions of stamps, and the causes which led to fluctuations in the same.

Impressed Stamps.—As already noted in paragraph 2 above, the receipts under the head of impressed stamps during the year were 7·9 per cent in excess of the receipts of 1877-78. The increase was almost general, as it spread over forty districts, only four districts, viz. Darjeeling, Mymensingh, Calcutta, and Durbhunga, showing a decline. The principal decrease occurred in Darjeeling, 18·2 per cent. As regards Calcutta, there seems to be a discrepancy in the accounts furnished by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and the Superintendent of Stamps, the former showing an increase of 1·1 per cent, while the latter a decrease of 1·8 per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the explanation which the Board have called for on the subject. The causes of the fluctuations in the different districts have been variously explained by the several district officers, but the Board are of opinion that the increase in the revenue derived from this class of stamps is due to general causes. They add:—"The population and wealth of the country advance year by year, and, as education spreads, a preference is developed for written and legal contracts, rather than verbal agreements. We may expect to see these agencies continue to work in the future, as in the past, producing not a large, but a fairly certain, increase in this part of the revenue."

9. Special Adhesive Stamps are not sold to the public, but are affixed by the Collector of Stamp Revenue, Calcutta, to documents brought to him for the purpose of "denoting." The realizations from these stamps during the year show a great falling off, owing, it is believed, principally to the stagnation of trade which prevailed throughout the year.

10. Other Adhesive Stamps.—The most important of these stamps are the one anna revenue stamps used for receipts, &c. The gross collections under this head for the last four years are given below:—

1876-77	...	1,62,821		1878-79	...	1,76,068

Leaving out of comparison the collections of 1877-78, which were abnormal, the receipts of 1878-79 were satisfactory. There have been improved collections in twenty-four districts, and a decline in twenty. The decrease in Calcutta (4·7 per cent) is believed to be due chiefly to the depression of trade and stagnation of commerce during the year, and partly also to a large quantity of stamps brought to Calcutta for sale from Ajmere, where the rates of discount on sales of stamped papers are higher than in Calcutta. On this subject the Lieutenant-Governor is awaiting a report which has been called for from the Board of Revenue.

11. Share Transfer Stamps are used only in Calcutta in the transfer by endorsements of the shares of the Bank of Bengal and the Bonded Warehouse Association, and the receipts are consequently regulated by the number of such transactions. In 1878-79 the receipts amounted to Rs. 6,460 against Rs. 5,205 in the previous year. The receipts under this head would have been higher if it were not the fact that the stamp dues are largely evaded by the use of blank share transfer deeds. There is no remedy for this, as the Legislature, while recently revising the Stamp Act, declined to provide against such evasions.

12. Foreign Bill Stamps, i.e., adhesive stamps used for bills of exchange, cheques, and promissory notes, drawn or made out of British India, yield a revenue of Rs. 25,408 against Rs. 31,282 in 1877-78. This shows a falling off of 18·7 per cent, which the Board attribute to the importations from Ajmere, and to evasions of the law by native bankers, who cash bills of exchange without first affixing the proper stamp.

13. Hundi or Bills of Exchange Stamps.—The realizations under this head amounted to Rs. 1,03,375 against Rs. 1,10,788 in 1877-78, showing a falling off of Rs. 7,413, or 6·6 per cent. The decrease is ascribed to evasions of the law by the shroffs, to the stagnation of trade, and partly also to the sale of Ajmore stamps.

14. Court Fee Stamps.—The gross receipts amounted to Rs. 77,52,775 against Rs. 78,53,311 in 1877-78, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,00,536, or 1·2 per cent. There was an increase of revenue in eighteen districts, and a decrease in twenty-six. The decrease, as compared with the year 1877-78, is accounted for by the diminished operations under the Land Registration Act, which in many districts were almost closed. Compared, however, with the average of the four previous years, the income under this head shows a steady increase.

15. The sales of plain paper and the discount allowed on it during the last two years are shown below:—

	Sales.	Discount allowed.
	Rs.	Rs.
1877-78	1,52,931	8,695
1878-79	1,64,880	10,240

16. Turning now to the denominations of stamps the receipts from which are not provincial, it appears that the receipts from sales of postage, service, and telegraph stamps in Bengal and Assam, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and British Burmah during the past two years were as follow:—

YEARS.	Postage.	Service.	Telegraph.	Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1877-78	19,57,415 13 0	4,78,312 9 0	22,28,957 10 0	46,64,686 0 0
1878-79	21,90,710 1 0	4,01,687 5 6	21,08,391 11 0	47,00,699 1 6

In addition to the above, telegraph stamps of the value of Rs. 1,450 and Rs. 25,000 were supplied during the year by the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, to Bombay and Madras respectively to replenish the stocks in those Presidencies. The sales of Assam are included in the return of sales in Bengal, but the Board of Revenue have instructed the Superintendent of Stamps to show the sales in these two provinces separately in future.

17. It will be seen from the above table that the sales of postage stamps show an increase over the sales of 1877-78, while the sales in service and telegraph stamps show a decrease. The increase in the sale of postage stamps has been steady, and is attributed by the Board to the normal progress of the country in the distribution of wealth and the spread of education, as well as to the improvements effected by the Postal Department. The decline in the sale of service stamps was chiefly owing to the reduction in the official postage rates, the extended use of zemindari dâk lines, and the falling off in the operations under the Land Registration Act. The decrease in the sale of telegraph stamps was probably due to the dullness of grain traffic owing to the cessation of the Madras famine.

18. In the Financial Resolution No. 299, dated 30th April 1879, the Government of India directed that a statement should be appended to each annual report upon the stamp revenue, showing the receipts on account of general stamps separately from those of court-fee stamps, and exhibiting the net revenue from each class by apportioning the total charges between them in proportion to the amount of revenue realized from each, so far as such charges could not be definitely traced to one or the other head of stamps. In this resolution the Government of India passed no orders on the objection of the Board of Revenue, as to the apportionment of the salary of the Superintendent, who controls the issue of stationery as well as of stamps, while he, and the establishment under him, are employed in the supply of stamps of all kinds, Imperial as well as Provincial, to many other provinces besides Bengal. A similar objection was raised as regards certain small establishments employed at Dacca, Patna, Jessore, Calcutta, and the 24-Pergunnahs which sell postage and telegraph, as well as judicial and non-judicial stamps. Failing any orders on this point, the Board have charged the entire expenditure to Bengal, and divided it rateably between judicial and non-judicial stamps. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that this is the best and simplest solution of the difficulty, but it obviously increases the expenditure unduly. On this basis the Board append to the present report a statement in the new form of receipts and charges for the past five years, as shown below:—

YEARS.	GENERAL STAMPS.			COURT FEE STAMPS.
	Income.	Refunds and other expenditure.	Net revenue from general stamps.	Income.	Refunds and other expenditure.	Net revenue from court fee stamps.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1874-75	25,70,160	1,20,570	24,49,590	63,55,058	1,21,475	61,33,581
1875-76	25,42,960	1,42,823	24,00,137	66,67,167	1,38,422	65,28,745
1876-77	24,77,940	1,22,430	23,55,510	69,40,570	1,39,708	68,00,870
1877-78	24,36,688	1,27,863	23,08,825	78,27,702	1,60,990	76,66,772
1878-79	24,02,064	1,38,583	22,63,481	78,17,050	2,14,094	76,02,956

The above statement does not include recoveries of stamp fees in pauper suits and the charges incurred on that account, as such recoveries and charges are now adjusted under "Law and Justice." It does not also include the sale proceeds of plain paper used with court-fee labels. The heavier expenditure against non-judicial stamps is due to the refunds being proportionately larger, and to the rate of discount allowed to vendors being higher.

19. The following table shows the number of cases in which duty was realized by civil courts and by Collectors under sections 20 and 24 of Act XVIII of 1869 respectively, and the amount of duty recovered:—

YEARS.	NUMBER OF CASES IN WHICH DUTY WAS REALIZED BY		DUTY REALIZED BY
	Civil Courts under section 20.	Collectors under section 24.	Civil Courts.	Collectors
			Rs.	Rs.
1877-78	761	1,036	1,906	3,325
1878-79	748	1,228	665	3,202

The results of the year under review contrast rather unfavourably with those of the preceding year. The amount of duty realized shows a falling off especially in the civil courts.

20. The prosecutions for offences against the stamp law were generally successful as shown below:—

YEARS.	Number of cases instituted.	Number of persons tried.	Number convicted.	Number acquitted.	Fines realized.	Paid to informers.
					Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1878-79	185	358	309	49	4,229 1 0	NIL.

The increase is attributed to the more active enforcement of the provisions of the stamp law. In the districts noted in the margin, however, there were no criminal prosecutions, owing probably to lack of exertion on the part of the Collectors in this direction. The absence of any prosecutions in Calcutta is especially noteworthy. The Collectors of the above districts should be reminded of the responsibility attaching to them in this matter, and of the necessity of displaying more energy and ability in enforcing the provisions of the law, and the Lieutenant-Governor will rely generally on the Board to watch carefully the working of the new Act.

21. To afford greater convenience to the public, the Board have issued instructions to the Commissioners to increase the number of licensed vendors as much as possible. The salaried vend system in Calcutta has also been abolished, and, as an experimental measure, the right to sell stamps at the High Court and the Calcutta Collectorate was put to auction. The successful bidders have lately commenced work, and the Collector has been asked to watch carefully the trial of the new system. The result of the experiment will be awaited, as well as of the reference which the Board has made to the Commissioners on the subject of the introduction of the auction system in the interior of the country.

22. Since the close of the year some remarkable discoveries have been made both of forgeries of stamps of various denominations and also of the fraudulent re-use of court-fee stamps. As those cases have been separately disposed of, it is not necessary to do more than refer to them in the present orders. A proposal has been made to the Government of India to revert to the use of impressed stamps for all values exceeding eight annas.

23. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Board for their successful management of the Stamp Department, and the Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the commendation bestowed by the Board on Lord H. Ulick Browne, Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division,

Mr. F. B. Peacock, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, and Mr. F. H. Pellow, Commissioner of the Dacca Division, for their careful reports. The Lieutenant-Governor is also glad to find that the officers named in paragraph 97 of the report, and Mr. J. B. Roberts, Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, are favourably mentioned.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution, with a copy of the Board's report, be submitted for the information of the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, and that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. L. HARRISON,

ADMINISTRATION OF THE HOOGHLY BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

No. 838C.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the Public Works Department (Communications) under date the 15th November 1879.

READ—

Letter No. 1201, dated the 7th July 1879, from the Vice-Chairman to the Bridge Commissioners, forwarding a report of the Administration of the Hooghly Bridge for the year 1878-79, together with the report by the Auditors on the accounts of the bridge for the half-year ending the 31st March 1879, and a copy of the annual accounts as passed by the Auditors.

Read again—

Public Works Proceedings (A), Communications, for May 1879, Nos. 2-3, being the report of the Administration of the Hooghly Bridge for the year 1877-78, together with the resolution passed thereon.

Public Works Proceedings (A), Local Accounts, for May 1878, Nos. 1-4, being the budget estimates of income and expenditure of the Hooghly Bridge for the year 1878-79, together with the resolution passed thereon.

RESOLUTION.—The total receipts and expenditure on the Hooghly Bridge for the year 1878-79, including book adjustments for deposits, advances, and recoveries, transfers, &c., &c., amounted to—

					Rs.
Receipts	...	...	...	...	4,85,512
Expenditure	...	..	...	...	4,57,736

Omitting the book adjustments which are closing entries that are required merely for accounts purposes, the actual receipts and expenditure, as compared with the amounts estimated, were as follow :—

		Estimated.	Actuals.	More.	Less.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	...	4,00,672	3,69,936		30,736
Expenditure*	...	4,08,787	3,49,707		59,140

The falling off in receipts and saving in expenditure is, to some extent, apparent only; this is owing to the receipts from the steamer Howrah having been entered in the accounts after deducting the salaries paid to the Armenian Ghât establishment: whereas in the estimates the gross receipts were entered as receipts, and the cost of establishment as expenditure. This causes a reduction of about Rs. 15,000 from both sides of the account.

2. It will be seen from the figures below that a considerable reduction was expected this year in the receipts from railway traffic, but that the actual loss has been slightly larger than was anticipated. The receipts from local traffic have also been less than was estimated—

		1877-78.	1878-79.
		Actuals.	Estimated.	Actuals.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Railway traffic	...	3,24,307	2,40,000	2,32,490
Local traffic	...	1,17,819	1,17,804	1,12,404

* Including the usual provision for Sinking Fund and Reserve Fund.

The falling off in the receipts from railway traffic was due to the receipts of 1877-78 having been abnormally high, owing to the extraordinary traffic in grain caused by the Madras famine, and to the suspension of the terminal charge on coal. In the seven months of 1877-78, during which the terminal charge was levied, the receipts from that source amounted to Rs. 43,468; the loss owing to the reduction in grain traffic may therefore be taken at Rs. 48,349.

3. The total quantity of coal brought to Howrah by rail in 1878-79 was 1,07,30,758 maunds, the bridge toll on which would have amounted to Rs. 1,07,308; the actual amount received for coal crossing the bridge was Rs. 8,345: the amount surrendered by the suspension of the toll was therefore Rs. 98,963, or in round numbers about a lakh of rupees.

4. The decrease in local traffic appears to have been due to the laxness of the collecting establishment after it became known that the Commissioners had decided, with the permission of Government, to farm the tolls. The tolls were leased for one year, from the 1st March 1879, to Messrs. Stanley & Co. for a monthly rental of Rs. 9,187.

5. Rs. 15,000 of the saving in expenditure has been shown to be apparent only; of the balance, Rs. 31,230 represents the part of the sum provided for the purchase of a new ferry steamer which remained unutilized, and the rest is accounted for by numerous small savings on various estimates.

6. A memorial was received from the Municipal Commissioners of Howrah asking that the tolls levied on local traffic should be reduced by one-half, and especially remarking on the high toll charged on private carriages; but, after due enquiry, the Lieutenant-Governor decided that it was desirable to postpone the consideration of the question to the end of the official year 1879-80.

7. The new tug steamer ordered from England had not arrived at the close of the year as expected. The delay is stated to have been due to the severe winter and to the novel character of the vessel, which has been designed to act as a dredger as well as a tug steamer. A new ferry steamer, required to maintain the efficiency of the ferry service, was ordered towards the close of the year, and it was expected that she would be completed and ready to run by the end of the present year (1879-80).

8. It is reported that three large steamers collided with the bridge during the year. The Marine authorities held special enquiries in all three cases, and decided that two collisions were due to faults of the officers in charge, and that the third was accidental. The following number of inland vessels and boats also collided with the bridge and required the assistance of the bridge establishment to get clear:—

		In collision.	Sank.
Inland steamers	...	1	...
Do. flats	...	2	...
Country boats	...	188	22

In these collisions seven lives are reported to have been lost.

9. The wearing surface on the bow-girder bridges and on the inclines on the north half of the bridge were renewed during the year, and the necessary material was imported for renewing the wearing surface of the rest of the bridge. The bridge appears to have been maintained in good repair and in thorough working order during the year.

ORDERS.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Bridge Commissioners for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Supplement of the Calcutta Gazette for general information,

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1879-80.

No. 1060B., dated Fort William, the 15th October 1879.

From—P. NOLAN, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

HON'BLE C. T. BUCKLAND.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared in the quarter under report amounted to 21,24,562 maunds 22 seers and 7 chittacks, against 20,41,318 maunds 16 seers and 14 chittacks in the previous quarter, and 19,94,767 maunds 29 seers and 3 chittacks in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 56,37,039-14-4, against Rs. 54,22,595-4 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 57,68,344-7 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in the districts of Cuttack, Balasore, Pooree, and 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter from the stock of the different seasons' manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in Table I:—

the quarter under review and the corresponding quarters of the previous two years :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 12th November 1879.—The following rules for the lease of waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge districts having been approved by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, are published for general information :—

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR LEASE.

1. The “waste lands” to which these rules apply include all ungranted and unoccupied land at the disposal of Government in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge, which has not been declared reserved forest under the Forest Act VII of 1878.

2. In respect of the granting of leases for such lands the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall exercise all the powers of a Collector of Land Revenue under Act XXIII of 1863, provided that, before acting on an application for the lease of any land, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall refer the application to the Conservator of Forests and ascertain that there is no objection in his department to the application being granted. If the Commissioner is unable from any cause to accept the Conservator's objection, the matter shall be referred through the Board of Revenue for the decision of the Local Government.

3. The Government reserves to itself the right of withholding any land from being leased by special order made at any time before the lease is finally given by the Sundarban Commissioner; in such cases all expenses deposited by the applicant for demarcation, survey, and advertisement under the following rules shall be refunded to him, together with the reasonable expenses of clearing any lines and erecting any temporary boundaries which he may have incurred with the permission of the Sundarban Commissioner, as provided in Rule 10.

8(a). The Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the lands which may be leased together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary rights in the lands, and will only confer on the lessee an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

II.—APPLICATION AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

4. Applications for leases shall be written on paper bearing a court-fee stamp as required by law, and shall contain the following particulars :—

First.—The estimated area of the land applied for in standard beeghas of eighty cubits square, with its character and description.

Second.—The situation of the land accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Third.—A rough sketch map of the lands applied for.

A form of application marked A is annexed to these rules.

5. All applications shall be entered at once in a register, of which the form shall be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

5(a). In the portion of the Sundarbans which has been declared “Protected Forest” under the Forest Act, no blocks of waste land which are altogether surrounded by ungranted and unoccupied land shall be leased under these rules. No block shall be given on lease which is not adjacent to land which has already been granted for the purpose of cultivation. All applications which do not comply with this rule shall be rejected.

6. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than a single tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring-fence. If the land touches a navigable river, the river frontage must not exceed one half the depth of the lot; but for special reasons the Board of Revenue may relax this condition.

7. No greater area of land than 5,000 standard beeghas will be included in one lease except under special orders of Government, nor will a smaller area than 200 beeghas be leased unless the lot has distinct water boundaries on all sides. The sanction of the Board of Revenue shall be necessary to the lease of more than one lot to one applicant, or to the lease of a second lot to an applicant who already holds one. The Board may at its discretion allow such further leases to be given on being satisfied that the applicant is in a position to begin clearing and cultivating at once, and that he bond fide means to do so, provided that each application shall comprise no more than the prescribed maximum area.

8. On receipt of an application, the Sundarban Commissioner shall satisfy himself that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be leased. Should he find that the lands are not available for lease, or that for any reason they ought not to be leased, or that the application does not fulfil the requirements of the rules, he shall reject the application, or in the latter case, allow it to be amended. In no case shall any application be admitted without special sanction of the Board of Revenue for any land which any persons are found to be occupying or using.

9. When no objection is known to exist against the lease being made, the Sundarban Commissioner shall determine whether a survey of the lands is required, or whether the maps and records of previous surveys available in his office are sufficient for the ready identification and demarcation of the boundaries on the ground.

10. If no survey is required, and it is only necessary to demarcate the boundaries on the ground, the Sundarban Commissioner shall estimate the cost of such demarcation as well as the cost of clearing the lines and erecting temporary boundary marks, and shall call upon the applicant to deposit the same before a certain day, which shall be fixed with reference to the time at which the demarcation can conveniently be made. Provided, however, that it shall be optional with the said Commissioner to allow the applicant himself to clear the jungle and construct such temporary boundary marks as may be considered sufficient for the ready identification of the land, until the permanent marks prescribed by article XIII of the "Terms of lease" shall be erected. If the applicant is allowed to clear the jungle and erect temporary landmarks, he shall enter into an agreement to do so within such reasonable time as shall be fixed by the Sundarban Commissioner.

11. Should the Sundarban Commissioner decide that a survey of the land is necessary, he shall call upon the applicant to deposit, before a day fixed for that purpose, the cost of survey in addition to the cost of demarcation, &c., as provided in the preceding rule. The cost of survey shall be calculated at the rate of four annas an acre on the area estimated in the application, or at such higher rate as may for special reasons be fixed in any case. The sum payable for survey shall be adjusted at the rate fixed per acre according to the actual area which may be ascertained by survey, a further payment being made by the applicant, or a refund being made to him, as may be necessary for adjustment.

12. In addition to the cost of survey, demarcation, &c., the applicant shall be required to deposit a sum of Rs. 16 to cover the cost of issuing the notice prescribed by Rule 17.

13. Should the applicant fail to deposit any amount required by the foregoing rules before the date fixed for that purpose, or should he fail to clear the lines or to demarcate the boundaries by the date fixed under Rule 10, the application shall be struck off the file; an application so struck off may be re-admitted, but in that case the application shall be considered to have been made on the date of the application for such re-admission, and not on the date of the original application.

14. After the deposit of fees, if for any reason the application should be struck off, or the survey abandoned, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund of the sum deposited, except when lands are withheld from lease under Rule 3. Refund may, however, be made at the discretion of the Sundarban Commissioner of any balance remaining in deposit after meeting all expenses incurred on the objects for which the deposit was made.

15. Surveys shall ordinarily be made by Government surveyors; if made by other agency temporarily employed for the purpose, they shall be tested by Government officers.

16. Surveys need not be more minute or detailed than is necessary to ensure approximate ascertainment of area, but the boundaries must be very accurately and clearly defined.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF LEASE.

17. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Sundarban Commissioner is satisfied that it may be leased, he shall issue a notice in the form B annexed to these rules, announcing that an application has been made, and calling upon all persons who may have objections to make to appear before a date to be specified, which date shall not be less than three months from the date of the notice as provided in section I, Act XXIII of 1863.

18. The notice shall be published at the office of the Sundarban Commissioner, the office of the Board of Revenue, the office of the Collector of the District, at the Court of the District Judge, at the Sub-divisional Office, at the Moonsif's Court, and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy shall also be published in the Government Gazettes in English and in Bengali.

19. In framing the notice the Sundarban Commissioner must be careful to state, as precisely as possible, all rights which will be reserved, such as waterways and the strips of land along the banks of rivers and nullahs for towing-paths (vide article XI of the annexed terms of lease), which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use.

20. If, after the issue of the notice and before the lease has been sold, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Sundarban Commissioner must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

21. If the Sundarban Commissioner shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he shall stay his proceedings for selling the lease as directed by section IV, Act XXIII of 1863, and make a special report to the Board of Revenue.

22. If the objection be such as can be got over by an arrangement made without proceeding to formal trial under section VI of the Act, the Sundarban Commissioner may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, order the arrangement to be made, and in such case, or in case the claim or objection is eventually withdrawn or pronounced invalid, the Sundarban Commissioner may proceed, on the date specified in the notice, to sell the lease of the land.

IV.—SALE IN CASE OF MORE THAN ONE APPLICATION.

22(a). If there is but one applicant for the lease of the land, it shall be sold to him at the upset price of one rupee an acre.

23. Should there be more than one application for the lease of the same lands before the survey or demarcation fees have been deposited, and should the second application comprise the whole of the lands contained in the first, the Sundarban Commissioner shall put the lease up to auction on the day named in the notice, and shall sell it to the highest bidder; but no person shall be allowed to bid who has not made such application; and no bid shall be accepted which is not bond fide on behalf of such person. If the second application comprise a portion only of the land contained in the first, it shall be rejected.

24. The lease, whether sold to the only applicant or by auction, shall be sold subject to the conditions contained in the terms of lease annexed to these rules and to those contained in the notice issued in form R.

25. The purchaser of the lease shall be required to pay down at once a sum of 500 rupees, or the full amount bid for the lease, if such amount be less than 500 rupees. In default of immediate payment the lease may be put up to resale at once, or may be reserved for future sale.

26. The purchaser shall be required to pay in the balance of the purchase money, if any, together with all fees for demarcation, survey, and advertisement which may be demanded by the Sundarban Commissioner, within one month of the day of sale. If he fail to do so, the sale shall be cancelled by authority of the Sundarban Commissioner, and the amount deposited under rules 11 and 12 shall be forfeited, and the land shall be available for lease to any other applicant.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS.

27. After the conditions of this sale are fulfilled, the Sundarban Commissioner shall grant a lease of the lands in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue. He shall forward the lease for registration in the office of the Board, and will also cause it and its counterpart to be duly registered by the Registrar of Assurances.

28. All leases of waste lands shall be recorded in a register to be kept in such form as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

29. The Board of Revenue shall as soon as possible after the publication of these rules—

I.—Prescribe forms of the register of applications as required by Rule 5, and for the register of leases as required by Rule 28.

II.—Issue a schedule specifying the rates of assessments subject to which the different lots of land available for lease in the Sundarbans shall be leased, as provided in article II of the terms of lease.

III.—Prescribe forms for leases.

30. The Board may issue any further subsidiary instructions for giving effect to these rules.

31. As the present policy of Government is not to allow the redemption of assessments on the land except in the case of very minute estates, no future application for the redemption of the assessments payable on account of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans, either under the rules of 1853 or under any other rules, will be entertained.

TERMS OF LEASE.

I.—One-fourth on the entire area leased shall be for ever exempted from assessment as an estimated allowance for unassessable area, such as that occupied by water-courses, creeks, tanks, roads, the space required for the construction of the lessee's embankments, dams, tow-paths, &c., and for irreclaimable waste land.

II.—The remaining three-fourths of the area leased shall be held free of assessment for ten years, and shall be subject thereafter to such assessment within the limits given below as may have been fixed and notified by the Board of Revenue for the land in question:—

Table of rates of assessment.

TRACT.	PER BENGHA OF 80 CUBITS SQUARE.
	From 11th to 15th year.	From 16th to 20th year.	From 21st to 40th year.
24-Pergunnah, west of the Kalindi river	1 to 2 as.	2 to 4 as.	4 to 8 as.
24-Pergunnah, east of the Kalindi river, and Jessore	6 pie to 1 an.	1 to 2 as.	2 to 4 as.
Backergunge	2 to 4 as.	3 to 6 as.	6 to 12 as.

III.—One-eighth of the entire area leased, as recorded in the lease, shall be cleared and shall be in a state fit for cultivation at the end of the fifth year, reckoning from the date from which the free term of the lease commenced. At any time after the expiration of the said year, the Sundarban Commissioner or any person authorized by him may enter upon the land and cause it to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether this condition has been fulfilled.

IV.—On failure to comply with the above clearing condition the lessee shall forfeit all rights in the land under his existing lease, and the Government shall have the right of immediate re-entry. Provided that, if the lessee shall give up the said lease to the Sundarban Commissioner within one month of the date on which notice of such forfeiture shall be given to him, and shall demand a fresh lease, such fresh lease shall be given to him on the following conditions, namely, that the lessee shall forfeit all claim to continued possession of the land free of assessment, and shall at once pay the assessment at the lowest rate fixed in the original lease, and shall continue to pay it at such rate for the remaining free term of the lease, and shall also pay the assessment at a rate 20 per centum higher than that which was fixed in the original lease for each period up to the termination of the settlement.

V.—In the event of the lessee failing to demand such lease, and to execute the corresponding agreement, the entire area comprised in the lease shall be resumed by the Government, which shall enter into possession at once, and the lessee shall forfeit all right and interest in the lands, both those which may still be uncleared and those which may have been cleared and brought into cultivation.

VI.—The amount of assessment due on the land shall be paid according to the fixed instalments to the Collector of the district.

VII.—All arrears of assessment due on the land shall be recoverable as arrears of revenue due on temporarily-settled estates according to any law for the time being in force.

VIII.—After the expiration of 40 years, reckoning from the date of the original lease, the lot shall be open to resettlement for a period of 30 years on such terms as the Government shall think fit, provided that the assessment shall not be fixed higher than the rate which would be paid by cultivating ryots in the neighbourhood for land growing the ordinary crops of the country, less 30 per centum to be allowed to the lessee to cover the risks and cost of collection, and to represent his profits. The above assessment shall be calculated on the area of the entire area leased, less the one-fourth which is exempted from assessment under article I of these rules.

VIII(a).—The land shall be subject to any cesses—such as the District Road cess, the Public Works cess, or any other—in addition to the assessment to be paid, but the liability of the land to these cesses shall be left to the discretion of the local Government after the first period of the 40 years settlement has expired.

IX.—The land shall from time to time be subject to resurvey and re-assessment in accordance with the preceding rule after the expiration of 30 years from any resettlement.

X.—The land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularized in the notice of sale of lease in form B annexed to the rules.

XI.—The right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a tow-path not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

XI(a).—No charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But, for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied under the rules for the Sundarban protected forests, dated the 22nd April 1879, at any of the revenue stations mentioned in those rules, viz.—

For every maund of Sundri timber—one anna.
For every maund of any other kind—one-fourth of an anna.

XII.—In the event of any boundary dispute arising between the lessee of any lot and the lessee of any adjoining lot already leased under these rules, or which may subsequently be leased, the lessees shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Commissioner in the Sundarbans. The decision of the Sundarban Commissioner shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board shall be final and binding on the lessees. No lessee under these rules shall have any claim against the Government for compensation or damages in respect of land having been included in his lease which has already been included in some previous lease; but the lessee shall be entitled to proportionate reduction of the assessment in respect of any land covered by his lease which may subsequently be discovered not to have been available for lease.

XIII.—On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the lessee shall, except where the boundary runs along a river or well-defined nullah or water-course, within three months, erect masonry pillars or platforms or such other landmarks as may be required, to the satisfaction of the Sundarban Commissioner, at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large earthen mounds at every angle and at intervals of a hundred yards of the boundary line between such masonry pillars or platforms.

XIV.—If the lessee neglect to demarcate the lands as prescribed in the preceding rule, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall have the right of entry on the lands, and shall erect the landmarks hereinbefore described; and all costs incurred in that behalf, whether the actual costs of the landmarks, or the expenses incurred for clearing any jungle, or for supervision, or travelling expenses; and all charges whatsoever shall be recovered from the lessee by the law in force for the time being for the recovery of Government demands or the recovery of arrears of assessment on the land, as shall be decided upon by the Commissioner of the Sundarbans.

XV.—If any land leased under these rules should hereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, whether cultivated or uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on exempting the lessee from payment of the assessment on the area required, and in the case of cultivated land by further payment of the reasonable cost of bringing the land under cultivation, and on payment of reasonable compensation for the value of any building, &c., which may stand on the lands.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general Terms annexed to the rules for the sale of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge, dated _____

RULES FOR CULTIVATION LEASES OF PLOTS OF WASTE LAND NOT EXCEEDING 200 BEEGHAS IN EXTENT IN THE SUNDERBUNS OF THE 24-PERGUNNAHS, JESSORE, AND BACKERGUNGE.

(In continuation of "The Rules for the Lease of Waste Lands," issued on the same date.)

In the rules for the lease of waste lands in the Sunderbuns of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore and Backergunge, issued this day, provision is made for leases of blocks of land not being more than 5,000 beeghas or less than 200 beeghas in area. It is further desired to give every facility to small settlers who may wish to take up and bring under cultivation plots of land of less than 200 beeghas in area, holding the same directly as tenants of the Government. With this object the following rules are laid down:—

1. Cultivators who desire to bring plots of land into cultivation, and to hold the same directly from the Government, will be allowed to do so in the following lots:—

24-Pergunnahs.—Those parts of the "protected forest" area in which no embankments or other expensive works are required, provided that no lease will be given here without the consent of the Conservator of Forests.

Backergunge.—Dhulloora Burgona, Karaibaria, part of Kalamagra, Chota Nishanberia Aboogunj, Meethagunj.

2. Applications for this purpose should be presented to the Sunderbuns Commissioner and should specify—

- (5) its present condition;
- (6) that it is at present unoccupied;
- (7) whether it is known ever to have been occupied, and if so, by whom and when, and why it was abandoned.

3. On receipt of such an application, the Sunderbuns Commissioner shall, if he sees no objection, give to the applicant an authority to take possession by an amalnamah in the annexed form A, guaranteeing a formal lease to the applicant if he shall bring the land under cultivation within two years.

3(a). No charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But for wood and timber exported for sale a duty shall be levied, under the rules for the Sunderbun protected forests dated the 22nd April 1879, at any of the revenue stations mentioned in those rules, viz. for every maund of sundri timber, 1 anna; for every maund of any other kind, $\frac{1}{2}$ of an anna.

4. If the land, or any part of it, shall have been brought under cultivation within the term specified, the applicant shall be entitled to a lease of the land so brought under cultivation for 30 years. The conditions of the lease will be—

- that the land shall be held free of assessment for two years from the date of the lease;
- that from the beginning of the third year to the end of the thirtieth year the lessee shall pay such assessments for each period of years as are specified in the lease, which shall be fixed on the cultivated area with reference to the rates ordinarily paid for similar lands in the neighbourhood to grantees and other landholders by their ryots;
- that, if available, an area of unreclaimed land equal to the cultivated area shall be included in the lease and reserved for cultivation by him;
- that in addition to the said unreclaimed land the lessee shall be at liberty to bring under cultivation any quantity of land adjoining his holding which he may find bond fide unoccupied;
- that the lessee's holding shall be liable to measurement at the expiration of the fifth year from the date of lease, and again from time to time at the expiration of not less than five years from the date of the previous measurement; and that on each occasion all land found to be in his possession under cultivation in excess of the area originally assessed under the lease shall be assessed, but at no higher rates than were imposed on the land originally assessed under the lease ;

 that at the end of the thirtieth year, and so at the end of every period of thirty years, the lessee shall be entitled to a fresh lease for a further period of thirty years ; the rates of assessment being similarly fixed on all lands which may then be found to be in his possession under cultivation, at such rates as are paid in the neighbourhood for similar lands by the ryots of grantees and landholders ;
 that the tenure shall be heritable and transferable, provided that notice of every transfer shall be given to the Sunderbuns Commissioner within one month of its occurrence :
 Provided, however, that no holding shall be divided without the permission of the Sunderbuns Commissioner.

5. The Board of Revenue shall, as soon as possible after these rules are issued, prescribe forms in which registers of amalnamahs and of leases granted under these rules shall be kept, and also a form of the lease to be granted under Rule 4.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th November 1879.—The following revised rules for the regulation of the departmental examinations of junior members of the Covenanted Civil Service, the Subordinate Executive Service, the Non-Regulation Commission, Police, &c., having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, and approved by the Government of India, are hereby published for general information :

1. All Assistant Magistrates, Assistant Commissioners, Deputy Magistrates and Collectors, Assistant Superintendents of Police, and others (to whom these rules may be applicable) who may have been more than six months on duty, shall, and those who have been less than six months on duty may, at their option be subjected to half-yearly departmental examinations, and shall be required to pass according to the standard, or the standards, of examination which may be applicable to them respectively in each subject according to the rules hereinafter set forth.

2. To direct and control these half-yearly departmental examinations, there shall be a Central Examination Committee appointed by Government. It shall consist of a President and of as many members (of whom one shall be Secretary) as the Government may think proper to appoint from time to time.

3. The examinations may be held, in the Regulation Provinces, at any station which is the head-quarters of a Divisional Commissioner, or where there is a District Judge; and for the Non-Regulation Provinces at the following stations, and at any other stations where the Commissioner may, in communication with the Central Examination Committee, think it necessary to hold Committees for examination :—

For Chota Nagpore, at Ranchee.

For Cooch Behar, at Darjeeling or Julpigoree.

For the Sonthal Pergunahs, at Bhagulpore.

For the Chittagong Hill Tracts, at Chittagong.

4. Each Divisional Commissioner shall notify, at least one month before the date of examination, at what stations in his division examinations are to be held, and shall report the names of intending examinees, specifying at which centre of examination each is to attend. If a Divisional Commissioner has only a very few examinees, and if the means of locomotion are easy, he will probably have only one or two centres of examination in his division.

5. The Central Examination Committee may, on sufficient cause being shown, permit the appearance of an officer for examination at a station other than that at which, under ordinary circumstances, he would be required to present himself.

6. At the several stations at which examinations are to be held Local Committees shall be formed, who shall conduct the examinations under the instructions of the Central Committee.

7. The Local Committee at each station, which is the head-quarters of a Commissioner, shall consist of the Commissioner, the Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), and a native civil officer to be selected by the Commissioner. In the absence of the Commissioner or Collector, the Judge (or Judicial Commissioner) shall take his place on the Committee. At the other stations the Committee shall consist of the Judge, the Collector, and a native officer to be selected by the Judge. At the stations in the Non-Regulation Provinces which are not the head-quarters of the Commissioner, and at which there is no Judicial Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner shall form a Committee, with one or two other officers to be selected by him.

8. The Government will, in communication with the Central Committee, fix the days for the half-yearly examination, which shall be the same for every district. The first half-yearly examination will usually be held in the month of April, May, or June, and the second in the month of October, November, or December.

9. It shall be the duty of the Central Committee to prepare, previous to each examination, sets of questions to be put to the examinees, to forward a sufficient number of copies of each of such sets to the President of each Local Committee in a sealed packet, to determine the order in which the examination in each paper and subject shall be held, and to arrange all other details for the conduct of the examinations. The Central Committee from time to time shall lay down such rules as may appear to them best for the guidance of the Local Committees, in order to ensure a fair and uniform method of ascertaining the proficiency of the examinee in each subject.

10. The Local Committee shall not open the sealed packet of papers until the time of examination; they shall superintend the written examinations of the examinees only so far as may be necessary to ensure the conduct of them with proper strictness; they shall not examine the written answers, but shall forward them to the Central Committee with a report, which shall be furnished by the District Officer and Commissioner under whom the examinee has been employed, respecting his official character, qualifications, and the work done by him during the preceding six months, as well as a statement specifying the marks which they assign to candidates for conversational proficiency in the vernacular, in which branch their decision shall be final.

11. The Central Committee, after perusing the reports and the examination papers, shall report to Government the names of such officers as in their opinion have passed, noticing specially, in the order of their merit, those who may have passed with distinction. They shall also report the names of those officers who have succeeded in some of the subjects only, as well as of those who have failed altogether.

12. There shall be two standards of examination in Law and Languages: the Lower and the Higher Standards. With the exception specified below, officers are required to pass in Law and in the language of the district by both the Higher and the Lower Standards, and in a second language by the Higher Standard only.

13. In Appendix IV will be found the rules prescribing the tests in the vernacular which European officers of the several departments are required to satisfy.

For native officers, when required to pass in any vernacular, the same rules and tests shall apply as in the case of European officers. But if the officer does not know English, he will translate into his own vernacular, and not into English, and it will be unnecessary for him to transliterate the paper set for that purpose.

14. The only language in which officers generally shall be required to pass by the Lower Standard shall be the vernacular of the district in which they may be serving, and the principal object of the examination shall be to test the proficiency for practical purposes of the examinee in such language.

15. The object of the Lower Standard of examination in Law shall be to test the examinee's practical acquaintance with the Criminal Codes, and his general knowledge of certain of the more important local laws, regulations, and rules. One paper shall be prepared specially for this examination, which shall be confined to the Criminal Codes, and for which the use of the Codes, but no manuals, guides, or books with indexes, shall be allowed. The questions must not be such as can be answered by copying a passage from a book; they must be such as shall thoroughly test the capacity of the examinees to understand the bearing of facts, and to ascertain the law and apply it. Another paper shall be prepared, consisting of questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules enumerated in Appendix I. These must be answered without the aid of books. This paper is designed equally for the candidates for examination by the Lower and Higher Standards, but the number of pass marks shall be less in the case of examinees by the Lower than in that of those by the Higher Standard of examination.

16. In the examination by the Higher Standard, it is necessary for the examinee to pass under the rules referred to above in two vernacular languages, ordinarily Bengali and Urdu. The questions of law and practice will be selected from the whole field of the duties of a Magistrate and Collector. All examinees will be required to pass in two papers. The nature of the one, in answering the questions in which the use of books will not be allowed, has already been explained in paragraph 15. The other paper, for which the use of books will be allowed, will contain questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules set forth in Appendix II. The examinees may have all the Acts, Regulations, and Circulars, but no Manuals, Guides or Indexes. The questions should be confined as much as possible to cases commonly arising in the ordinary routine of the office of a Magistrate and Collector, or of a District Superintendent of Police. Certain facts of probable occurrence in real practice should be stated, and the examinee required to find and apply the law applicable to the facts.

17. A Covenanted Civil Servant must pass the examination in local laws, regulations, and rules, and in both languages, by the Higher Standard. He will be required to pass by the Lower Standard in one subject only, and that the vernacular of the district in which he is serving.

18. Officers who, after passing in the higher grade the preliminary examination for admission into the Subordinate Executive Service held in 1873 or subsequently, have received appointments in that service, will be subject to no further examination except the Higher Standard departmental examination, and the opium laws examination for those candidates who are appointed to the Opium Department without having taken the opium papers. Candidates who passed at the Subordinate Executive Service examination which was held in 1872 are exempted from examination by the Lower Standard in the vernacular only. They will be required to pass in Law by that standard.

19. Where a candidate, other than a Covenanted Civilian allowed by Government for any special reason to present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in Law or Languages before passing the Lower, fails to pass the Higher Standard in either subject, the Central Examination Committee shall have full authority to decide whether he has done sufficiently well to pass by the Lower Standard.

20. An officer who succeeds in passing by either standard, (a) in Law or (b) in either of the Languages, shall not again be required to present himself for examination by the same standard in the subject in which he was successful, but only in those in which he failed.

21. The marks to be assigned to each branch of the Law examination, the proportion required for passing by the different standards, and the time allowed for each paper, are set forth in Appendix III. The same information as regards the examination in Languages will be found in Appendix IV. Uniformity must be rigidly enforced in the time allowed for each subject, whether in Law or Language.

22. A civil officer who has passed according to the Lower Standard of examination, and who has exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months, shall usually be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, described in sections 20—24 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872), provided he is certified by the Commissioner to be fully competent to exercise them. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners will also then be vested with the powers of a Deputy Collector.

23. An officer, however, who shall have passed by the Lower Standard in the Criminal Codes and in the language of his district, may be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class on the Commissioner's recommendation to that effect, provided he has had not less than six months' experience in his magisterial duties.

24. An officer who has passed according to the Higher Standard shall be eligible to be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, but not until he shall have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for at least six months.

25. An officer who has passed in Law and in the language of his district according to the Higher Standard may also be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, subject to the condition of his having exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for six months; but he shall not be entitled to any promotion or increase of pay until he has passed fully by the Second Standard. He shall exercise the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class so long only as he is employed in a district where the language in which he has passed is the vernacular.

26. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners on first appointment draw only Rs. 400 a month. On passing the Lower Standard of examination, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, they shall be allowed an increase of Rs. 50 a month, provided they have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months at least; and on passing fully the Higher Standard, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, they will receive a second increase of Rs. 50, provided they have also exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for not less than six months.

27. Officers attending these examinations will be allowed travelling allowance subject to the rules laid down by the Government of India in the Financial Department, in Notification No. 4425 of the 12th December 1872.

28. No application from any junior officer, liable to examination, for privilege leave or leave on private affairs, will be entertained if the following half-yearly examination falls due before the expiry of the leave applied for, unless the application specifies that the applicant will attend the examination.

29. If such leave is applied for, and the application from such an officer is submitted to Government, it should be stated that he is liable to pass an examination, and that the next examination will be held within the period of the leave applied for. This will enable the Lieutenant-Governor to decide whether, for the reasons stated, the leave should be granted; and if so, on what conditions.

30. It is the duty of district officers to look to the practical training of the young officers placed under them from their first entering into official life till they acquire a practical experience of their work and qualify themselves for the exercise of higher powers by passing the prescribed examinations. District officers are expected to take active interest in the well-being of the young men placed under them, by exercising due supervision over their studies, by holding periodical examinations to test their qualifications and official knowledge, and by any other means which may seem to them to be expedient for the purpose.

SPECIAL RULES.

1. For Police Officers the papers set in Law for both the Lower and the Higher Standards shall be prepared separately from those for other officers. For the Lower Standard questions shall be set in the Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act V of 1861, the Village Chowkidari Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, Act I (B.C.) of 1871, and the D and N Circular Orders of the Police Department. The use of books will be allowed in answering these questions. For the Higher Standard the questions will be taken from the same Acts and from all the Circulars of the Police Department, from the Excise, Salt and Opium Laws, from Act V (B.C.) of 1876 (so far as it relates to Police), and from the Evidence Act I of 1872. In this examination the use of books will not be allowed.

2. Police Officers transferred to the Executive Service, or who desire such transfer, will be required to satisfy the same tests as those prescribed above for officers of the Subordinate Executive Service, subject to the exception noted below.

3. When such an officer has already passed by either standard in a language, the pass will be accepted as sufficient to that degree.

4. Any officer so transferred, who has passed in Law by the Lower Standard (as hitherto required for the Police), will be required to pass for the Lower Standard in the general papers of local laws, &c. He will be exempted from examination in the Criminal Codes prescribed for the Lower Standard if he so desire; but if he elects to pass, such pass will be taken into account in his favour.

5. Such officers who have passed by the Higher Police Standard in Law will still be required to pass in both law papers prescribed in paragraph 16 above, the term "law" including Revenue and General law.

6. Officers of the Opium Department will be examined, after admission to the department, in the subjects mentioned in Government orders No. 1157G of 28th October 1872.

They do not affect the rules for the encouragement of the study of the languages of frontier tribes, a copy of which is given in Appendix V.

2. Three grades of examination are recognized :—

(I)—The Higher Standard of examination for civil officers, held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee.

(II)—The Higher Standard of examination prescribed for military officers by G. G. O. No. 734, dated 9th September 1864, and G. G. O. No. 294, dated 24th March 1866; and the Lower Standard of examination for civil officers held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee.

(III)—The Lower Standard of examination prescribed for military officers in Hindustani by the G. G. O. above quoted.

3. Officers of the Public Works, Education, Survey, and Forest Departments are examined under special rules. In their case either of the standards specified in grade II will be accepted as sufficient, should they exceptionally have to be examined along with the officers attached to the general administration.

4. The officers named in the margin are required to pass the examination specified in grade I above in the vernacular of the district in which they may be serving. Assistants in the Opium Department, who have not passed the Native Civil Service Examination in Hindustani, are required to pass in that language only by the Lower Standard of departmental examination specified in grade II above.

Officers required to pass in one language only.

1. Deputy Magistrates and Collectors.

2. Salaried Sub-Registrars.

3. Canal Superintendents.

5 Deputy Collectors who, under this rule, have passed in one language only will not be eligible for transfer to, or promotion in, another province, unless they pass also in the language which is there the vernacular.

6. Medical officers in civil employ, whether covenanted or uncovenanted, will be required to pass in the language of the district by one or other of the standards specified in grade II. Army medical officers, who have passed the Military Lower Standard of examination specified in grade III in Hindustani, will not be subject to further examination in that language.

7. Medical officers in civil employ, who have passed in one language under the above rules, if posted to a district where another language is the vernacular, will be required also to pass in it, but only by a conversational test designed to prove their ability to converse with the people and be understood by them.

Officers required to pass in two languages.

- 1 Covenanted Civilians
- 2 Assistant Commissioners
- 3 Assistant Superintendents of Police.

8. The officers named in the margin are required to pass by the standard specified in grade I above in two languages, which may be Bengali and Hindustani, or Oorya and Hindustani.

9. Military officers who have passed in Hindustani by the Military Higher Standard of examination specified in grade II are not liable to further examination in that language.

Exemption in the case of military officers.

10. Officers generally are required, in the first instance, to pass in the language of the district in which they are serving by the Lower Standard specified in grade II above, before attempting a second language, in which passing by the Higher Standard only will be required. Covenanted civilians are, however, allowed to pass by either standard, and in either language in any order.

Order in which the languages must be taken up

11. Uncovenanted officers who have passed in any vernacular at the Native Civil Service Examination are not required to pass in it again by the Lower Standard of departmental examinations, but may go up for the Higher Standard in cases where they become liable to this examination.

Officers exempt from the Lower Standard of examination

12. An officer liable to pass in two languages, when he has passed in the language of the district by the Lower Standard as required in Rule 10 above, may present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in that language, and in the second language, which will be Hindustani in the case of those who first qualify in Bengali or Oorya, and in the case of those who first pass in Hindustani, Bengali or, if they be posted in Orissa, Oorya.

13. Covenanted civilians who, on the 4th May 1874, were of less than 12 years' standing, and have passed in Hindustani and Bengali, will, on transfer to Orissa, as a condition of promotion to the substantive grade of Magistrate, be required to pass in Oorya as a third language. Similarly, those who have passed in Hindustani and Oorya only will, on transfer to Bengal, be required to pass in Bengali as a third language. On passing in a third language under this rule, covenanted civilians become entitled to a reward of Rs. 500.

Cases in which a third language is compulsory.

14. Police officers and uncovenanted Deputy Collectors are not required to pass in a third language under the preceding rule; but if they elect to do so, they will be eligible for a reward of Rs 180.

Cases in which a third language is optional

15. The examination specified in grade I above, and the Lower Standard of examination specified in grade II above, will be held under the rules for the conduct of the departmental examination of civil officers, and under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee in Calcutta.

16. The Military Higher and Lower Standards of examination specified in grades II and III above will be conducted in the case of military officers by the Board of Examiners in Calcutta under the rules applicable to these examinations generally. In the case of uncovenanted medical officers, and optionally in the case of covenanted medical officers, these examinations will be held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee, and along with the departmental examinations.

The following are the tests prescribed for the several grades of examination:—

Grade I.—The Higher Standard of Departmental Examination.

Two documents of the more difficult description of office papers selected and lithographed by the Central Examination Committee shall be transliterated into the Roman character.

The examinee shall be tested in conversation with several natives in such a manner as to satisfy the local Committee of his power of making himself understood by them, and of explaining himself with clearness and sufficient propriety in the vernacular in an argument or topic of some difficulty, such as may occur in official business.

The maximum and the pass marks assigned to each branch of the examination, and the time allowed for the papers, are subjoined:—

Grade II (a).—The Lower Standard of Departmental Examination.

For this examination the tests shall be the same as the above, but the papers shall be less difficult. The proportion of marks to be obtained in order to pass, and the time allowed for the papers, shall be the same as for the Higher Standard above described.

Grade II (b).—The Military Higher Standard of Examination.

The Military Higher Standard examination is intended to ascertain the ability of candidates—1st, to read and construe passages in books of ordinary difficulty in Urdu and Hindi; 2nd, to make accurate and idiomatic written translations from English and Hindustani in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; 3rd, to read and translate petitions, native letters, &c., in Urdu and Hindi; 4th, to converse with educated or uneducated natives of India in Hindustani.

The following are the tests prescribed:—

(1) The Bāgh-o-Bahār.

(2) Selections from the prose of the Prém Sāgar.

Second.—Translating accurately, and with correctness of idiom and grammar, not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into language similar to that of the Bāgh-o-Bahār, and an equal amount into language similar to that of the Prém Sāgar. The translation must be reduced to writing, in the former case in the Persian character; in the latter in the Deva Nagri character.

Third.—Reading fairly, and translating readily and correctly, Hindustani manuscripts written in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil or military authorities, from letters passing between natives of India in the ordinary course of business, or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters as practically employed in the presidency or province in which the examination is held.

Fourth.—Conversing in Hindustani with the examiners or with natives of India with fluency, and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar, and idiom, as to be at once intelligible.

In other languages the tests imposed are similar, but the books are different. Those used are—

In Bengali	{ (1) Nobonari.
	{ (2) Rajdūt.
In Oorya	{ (1) Hitopadisa.
	{ (2) Batris Singhasun.

Grade III (a).—Military Lower Standard of Examination.

At this examination shall be tested the ability of candidates to read and translate passages from easy Hindustani books written in the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; and to speak on, and interpret, common or professional subjects in Hindustani so as to understand, and to be understood by, any ordinary uneducated native of India.

They are required, first, to read fairly, and construe with accuracy, not less than half an octavo page of the undermentioned works :—

- (1) "Hindustani selections * " in the Persian character.
- (2) "Hindustani selections * " in the Deva Nagri character.

Second, to converse in Hindustani with the examiners, or with natives of India, on subjects likely to occur in the performance of regimental or professional duty, in the transactions of ordinary business, or in the course of every-day life.

"If this test be applied through the medium of a native of India, he should speak the plain Hindustani of the presidency or province in which the examination is held, free from peculiarities of idiom and dialect, and not a patois, and though, as regards the performance of professional duties, it must to a certain extent be technical in its nature; if, in other respects, the candidate prove his ability to comprehend readily all that is said to him, and to make himself fairly intelligible, more should not be required."

The colloquial examination of each candidate will be carefully recorded in writing by the Committee of Examiners, and a copy of this record will be forwarded with the Committee's report to the Adjutant-General of the Army. It is in this portion of the examination that discretion and judgment on the part of the examiners is most required; and in conducting it, Committees should strictly follow the instruction laid down in the extract from the orders of the 9th September 1864 above quoted. Questions intended simply to puzzle a candidate should be particularly avoided. The questions need not exceed 15, but should not be less than 10 in number.

5. These rules will not affect those prescribing the rewards to which Junior Civilians who succeed in passing High Proficiency and Honors examinations in certain specified languages will be entitled.

APPENDIX VI.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

No. 3101, the 5th October 1864.

THE Governor-General in Council having had under consideration the rules for the examination of military officers seeking admission to the Staff Corps in the Civil and Political Departments, which were published in the notification of Government, No. 242, dated 25th May last, has determined, subject to the sanction of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, on the substitution of the following rules:—

In continuation of the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps, notified by the Military Department in G. O. No. 531 of 1864, dated the 27th June, the following rules relating to the future employment of military officers in the Civil and Political Departments of the Government are published for general information:—

I.—A candidate for appointment to the Civil or Political Department, with the view of qualifying for the Staff Corps, must furnish the certificates mentioned in paragraph 5 of G. O. No. 531, of which the forms were given in Appendix A of the same general order, and are now re-published at the end of the present notification.

II.—He must have been previously attached, for a period of not less than one year, to a native regiment;* but such period may form part of the three years' duty with a regiment required by the general regulations for admission to the Staff Corps. He will be required to produce a certificate from his superior officer, testifying to his efficiency and good conduct, and especially to his conciliatory demeanour towards the native soldiery and other people of the country with whom he has been brought in contact.

III.—The period of one year,—reckoned, as explained in the following rule, from the date of the first half-yearly examination held subsequent to appointment,—is fixed as the limit within which an officer, admitted on probation to employment in the Civil or Political Department, will be required to qualify himself to undergo the examinations hereinafter mentioned, in passing which he will have a claim to have his services retained; and he will then, under the orders of the Military Department, be appointed to the Staff Corps.

IV.—Examinations will be held half-yearly in October and April of each year. A candidate may appear at the first examination held after the expiry of the first six months of his probation, and if he fail to pass, must again appear at the next examination six months later. A candidate failing to pass at the first examination, held after the expiration of his year of probation, will be removed from employment in the Civil or Political Department, and consequently will not be appointed to the Staff Corps.

* Any officer who has been employed for a year in one of the departments named on the margin will be exempted from the condition prescribed by Rule II of one year's service with a native regiment: provided, however, that he shall produce, from the officer under whom he may have served in any such department, a certificate (to be countersigned by the head of the department) to the same effect as that required from a superior officer in case of service with a native regiment.

Survey.	Commissariat.
Public Works.
Police.

V.—Subject to such general directions as shall from time to time be given by the Government of India, the examinations will be conducted by a Committee acting under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, or Chief Commissioner, or Political Agent or Resident, as the case may be.

VI.—The examination will embrace, in the case of officers employed in general civil duties, the subjects of Indian History, Political Economy, and Jurisprudence. The works on the two last-named subjects in which candidates will be examined are Mills' Political Economy, Austin's Principles of Jurisprudence, Volume I, and Maine's Ancient Law. Notice of any change in the books for examination will be given at least one year before it takes effect.

VII.—Every officer in civil employment will, in addition to the above examination, and notwithstanding his appointment to the Staff Corps, be required to undergo the local and departmental examinations prescribed for Covenanted Civil Servants in the province in which he is serving.

VIII.—The examination in the case of officers employed in the Political Department will embrace the subjects above-mentioned, and the candidate will in addition be examined in Wheaton's Work on the Principles of International Law. He will also be examined in the collection of Indian Treaties and Engagements, now being published under the direction of the Foreign Office.

IX.—No officer will be admitted on probation to civil or political employment who has not passed the examination in Hindustani required by the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps.

X.—Cantonment Magistrates will be classed with officers in civil employment. Separate rules will be promulgated hereafter as regards Police Officers; but Police Officers, if transferred to civil employment, will be required to pass the examination prescribed for officers in civil employment.

XI.—As a general rule, military officers will be appointed to the Political Department from among those who are already in civil employment; and every officer so transferred will be required to pass, within one year from the date of his transfer, the additional examination in International Law and Indian Treaties proscribed for the Political Department, failing which he will forfeit his appointment.

XII.—These rules are intended to be prospective in their effect. They will not apply to any officers now holding permanent appointments in civil or political employment. Such officers will be entitled to join the Staff Corps in virtue of their appointments. Officers, however, who do not hold permanent appointments will be subject to these rules. But the case of any officer who has been formerly in civil or political employment, and who, having quitted such employment, may hereafter be re-appointed to it, will be specially dealt with as the circumstances of the case may require.

NOTICE.

The Half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund will be held at the Town Hall on Saturday, 31st January next, at 4 P.M.

IN accordance with the provisions of Article XVII of the Rules, the Managers give notice that they will propose the following additions to, and alterations in, the Rules:—

- (1.) Article IV.—Omit the words “the subscriptions of annuitants or retired subscribers shall be regulated in the manner provided in Article VIII.”
- (2.) Article VII.—Omit the whole.
- (3.) Article VIII, Clause 1.—Substitute—

“First.—Subscribers who may hereafter retire from the service on annuities wishing to secure to their widows and children the full benefits of the fund must, on retirement, make up the amount of their subscriptions with interest to Rs. 25,000.

“Second.—Subscribers hereafter so retiring from the service may at their option, by making up the amount of their subscriptions with interest either to Rs. 18,750, or to Rs. 12,500, or to Rs. 6,250, secure to their families in the first case three-quarters, and in the second one-half, and in the third one-quarter, of the amount of pensions and other allowances granted to the family of a subscriber dying in the service or of an annuitant who has made up, on retirement, the full amount of Rs. 25,000:

“Provided that in the case of a subscriber compelled to retire on an invalid allowance no payment shall be required to secure half benefits to a wife or children existing at the time of retirement and to children born of such wife after retirement.

“Third.—In the case of a subscriber marrying after retirement, he shall contribute for his wife and for his children, the issue of such marriage, at the rates levied from subscribers in the service on their allowances; an option being allowed to each subscriber of paying up once for all, either at the time of his marriage, or at any subsequent period, the value of his contributions according to tables of mortality which, upon the advice of an actuary, may be adopted by the Managers. This commutation will be calculated at 5 per cent. in the following manner:—Additional subscriptions on the joint lives of husband and wife and extra contribution for children on the joint lives of father and child. Every retired subscriber so commuting will also be liable to pay or commute for each child afterwards born, and, in case of subsequent marriage, for the wife so married.”

- (4.) Article XXV.—For the words “Articles VII and VIII” substitute “Article VIII.”
- (5.) Article XXIX.—After the words “or £100 a year in England” add “and these allowances shall be increased by one-half if, or after, the wife or widow of such member shall have died.”
- (6.) Article XXX.—For the word “twenty-first” substitute “sixteenth.” After the words “£100 a year in England” add—

“And these allowances shall be increased by one-half if, or after, the wife or widow of such member shall have died.”

“From the commencement of the 17th to the end of the 21st year, the allowance shall be Rs. 90 a month in India or £150 a year in England, and this allowance shall be increased by Rs. 30 a month in India, or £50 a year in England if, or after, the wife or widow of such member shall have died.”

- (7.) After Article XXX insert a new Article in the following terms:—

“On the death of a subscriber a donation shall be paid to his widow, or, if there be no widow, to his surviving child or children who by his death become entitled to receive allowances from the Fund according to the following scale:—

- (1.)—If the subscriber dies before retirement, £300 sterling or the equivalent thereof at the rate of exchange of the day.
- (2.)—If the subscriber dies after retirement, £200 sterling or the equivalent thereof at the rate of exchange of the day.

It shall be in the discretion of the Managers to pay this donation in anticipation of the receipt of the formal evidence required for the admission of the family to the benefits of the Fund.”

- (8.) Article XLI.—Omit the words “by which the tables of one-third minimum value shall also be determined.”

The Managers will also propose that such of the above additions and amendments as may be adopted shall have retrospective effect from 1st April 1878.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LICENSE TAX IN BENGAL DURING 1878-79.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—LICENSE TAX.

Darjeeling, the 11th November 1879.

READ—

Report of Board of Revenue on the Administration of the License Tax for the year 1878-79.

Read also—

The Rules sanctioned by Government, under section 39 of the Act for the year 1878-79, for districts other than Calcutta.

Read also—

The Rules similarly sanctioned for the Town of Calcutta.

The year under report, strictly speaking, terminated on the 31st March 1879; but in order to show the full operation of the law, the Board have carried on their report to the Period from which report extends.

30th June, on which date all collections on account of the year 1878-79 terminated, except where warrants had been already issued.

2. The total demand of the tax under all classes is shown as Rs. 47,34,937.

Results of the tax. This, however, as well as the total number of the assesses and the aggregate amount of remissions, is fallacious, as it was found necessary, for convenience of account, when an assessee was reduced on objection from one class to another, to show him first as assessed under the higher class, then to show the whole of that amount as remitted, and a fresh assessment as made in a lower class. This necessarily leads to the same assessee being shown twice over, and to gross instead of net remissions being exhibited. The actual collections up to 31st March appear to be Rs. 20,85,156; remissions up to 31st March, Rs. 14,39,635; refunds, Rs. 25,397. The refunds, however, though separately shown in statement VII, are evidently included in the remissions, as the balance outstanding on the 31st March 1879 was Rs. 12,10,146, an amount which is arrived at by omitting columns 31 to 39, which include the refunds. Even thus, however, it is to be feared that the figures are not accurate. They have not been compared with those of the Accountant-General, and his returns show the total collections of the year as only Rs. 20,19,027. Moreover, in the next statement (VIII), the same outstanding demand is shown as Rs. 12,98,060, differing by Rs. 87,914 from the figures as shown in statement VII. Out of this demand a further sum of Rs. 5,87,176 was remitted, and Rs. 5,80,597 were realized, while Rs. 1,30,287, Rs. 76,283 of which belonged to Calcutta, lapsed.

3. Thus, if the figures given are correct, the total demand must be raised to Rs. 48,22,851, of which Rs. 26,65,753 were collected, Rs. 20,26,811 remitted, and Rs. 1,30,287 were eventually irrecoverable by lapse. A further sum of Rs. 86,716 was realized from fines, raising the total receipts under the Act to Rs. 27,52,469. As the Accountant-General does not show the realizations for each year separately, these figures cannot be tested with his accounts; but up to the 31st March he only shows the receipts from all sources, fines, of course, included, as Rs. 20,19,027, as already stated.

4. The License Tax Act, I (B.C.) of 1878, provides a separate procedure Act different for Calcutta and the rest of Bengal, for the collection of the tax in Calcutta and in the rest of the provinces under the Lieutenant-Governor, and the classification even is different below the first three classes. In the rest of Bengal the fee for class IV is Rs. 20; for class V, Rs. 5; and for class VI, Rs. 2 and Re. 1. In Calcutta the fee for class IV is Rs. 25; for class V, Rs. 12; and for class VI, Rs. 5, Rs. 2, or Re. 1. It is necessary therefore to follow the Board's report in separately reviewing the measures taken to assess and collect the tax for other districts and for Calcutta.

5. Taking first the administration of the Act in other districts, the Board Administration of the Act in the interior. point out that, while the law charges the District Collectors with the duty of assessment, no subordinate agency was in existence which could be utilized for the purpose of making the necessary local enquiries and preparing the lists. It was necessary to create such an agency, and also to organize it, at a cost which would not absorb any undue proportion of the collections. This was an obvious difficulty, especially in the first year of the tax; and while some cases have no doubt been brought to light in which the circle officers, as the newly-created assessors were called, have abused their powers, and others in which they have displayed great want of judgment, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that, as a body, considering the onerous nature of the work entrusted to them, its novelty, and the unpopularity necessarily inherent in their office, they have discharged their difficult duty with success and credit.

6. The number of circle officers appointed in Bengal was 264; and they Work of circle officers. had to select the assesses from among a total population of 60,415,224, inhabiting 177,045 villages. On an average, therefore, each circle officer had a population of about 230,000 persons, living in about 680 villages, as the ground-work of his enquiry. The number of villages visited by these officers is shown as 154,634, which gives an average of about 590 a head; and the average number of assessments made, including double assessments, was 3,170. These figures are sufficient to show that the circle officers had no light task; and if, in many cases, their assessments had to be largely revised on objection, it would not be fair hastily to conclude that their work was under the circumstances badly done.

Allowing for the very disagreeable nature of the duties which they had to discharge, the wonder is, not that so many complaints against them were made, as that, relatively, the complaints were so few. The Board bring out very clearly the reasons of the excessive number of objections which were inherent in the nature of the tax the first year. The tax was to be essentially non-inquisitorial, i.e., the circle officers were to make a hypothetical assessment, and persons complaining were to prove the grounds of their complaint. Since enquiry was not to be made before assessing, and in no other way could either speed be secured or inquisition avoided, it was a foregone certainty that objections must be numerous, and many of them justifiable; in other words, the assessments were essentially tentative, to be corrected by objections. These conditions must be remembered as accounting for much of the dissatisfaction and the large number of remissions; but they are mainly restricted to the first year's working of it, and may be expected to greatly diminish, if not to disappear, in the following years.

7. The figures in the foregoing paragraph, which are taken from the Board's report, do not allow for the assistance derived from municipal agency under section 27 of the Act. The earliest intention seems to have been to appoint enumerators under the circle officers for the purpose of preparing the first lists of persons chargeable. The village punchayets under Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 were to be regarded as equivalent to enumerators (rule 21), and their returns were to be made to the circle officers. Eventually few, if any, enumerators were appointed, as it was thought dangerous to entrust them with so much power; and the Board report (paragraph 6) that, where the chowkidari punchayets were employed to assess villages, the work was so badly performed that it had to be done over again. As far, therefore, as the enumerators and the village punchayets are concerned, the circle officers received little or no help; but the assessments made by the municipal committees and union punchayets under Act V (B.C.) of 1876 were returned direct to the Collectors (rule 20); and apparently in these, the largest and most important places liable to taxation outside Calcutta, the circle officers had little, if anything, to do. It is a defect in the forms and statistics prescribed by the Board that they furnish no information regarding the extent and quality of the work done by municipal committees and union and village punchayets. It is not possible, therefore, to estimate the assistance received from them by the circle officers. The Board confine their report on this subject to certain statistics of eight municipalities given in paragraph 38; and also to remarking that "in the 24-Pergunnahs, where there are 20 municipalities, the Collector found that the assessments in the small municipalities were correctly made through this agency; but the result was not so in the larger municipalities in the 24-Pergunnahs, and in other districts" (paragraph 6).

8. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that this, the first attempt to employ municipal agency in assessing Imperial or Provincial taxation, has not been very successful; and though unquestionably such agency has at its disposal more perfect means of information than any available to the ordinary circle officers, yet, when the municipality derives no benefit from the tax, and when the sympathies of the assessors are entirely on the side of the assessee, it is to be feared that the knowledge is not used in the interest of the general tax-payer, so much as for the benefit of clamouring fellow townsmen; but, as the matter is one of much importance, it is to be hoped that the Board will be in a position to report fully on the subject next year.

9. The circle officers' original assessments were not, as has been said, intended to be inquisitorial. They were to estimate on general information, and any assessee who was aggrieved was to be allowed to lodge an objection on an anna stamp. These objections might, under section 32 of the law, be made over to any Assistant or Deputy Collector, or such other officer as the local Government might from time to time appoint. As a fact, the Board report that the rule was for the circle officer himself to hear all objections under classes V and VI, while those in higher classes were heard by the Collector or his deputies. When an objection was heard by any officer subordinate to the Collector, an appeal lay to the Collector. The total number of objections preferred was 277,681, or 33 per cent. on the aggregate of assesseees, 840,507. As these figures include double assessments, the true percentage would be somewhat higher.

10. Of these 277,681 objections, 141,613 were disallowed, 131,089 wholly or partly allowed, and 4,979 were pending at the close of the year. The frequency of these objections has already been explained; but, as the Board remark, the number of objections wholly or partly allowed shows that the circle officers were not unwilling to modify their original assessments; no figures, however, are given in the report, or in the statements in the appendix, showing the number of objections under each class; and therefore the readiness of the circle officers to revise their own assessments cannot be contrasted with that of other officers to do it for them.

11. The number of appeals to Collectors was only 4,473 out of the 277,681 objections out of which an appeal might arise. There could be no appeal, however, when a Collector heard an objection himself; and it is evident from paragraph 21 of the Board's report that some Collectors heard objections themselves; and also, as no figures are given showing how many of the 131,089 objections were wholly and how many partially allowed, it is impossible to make out any precise percentage of appeals on objections liable to appeal as in the case of objections compared with assessments; but, on the whole, the number of appeals was comparatively small; and indicates that, as a rule, the orders passed on objections gave satisfaction.

12. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that, where the Act has worked badly in any district of Bengal, it has been greatly due to the want of adequate primary supervision by the Collector of the district. When a number of officers are deputed to carry out a new and difficult duty, such as the assessment of traders under the License Tax Act, it may safely be anticipated that the action of each can be improved and strengthened by a comparison with the work of others, and that it will be a great assistance to each assessor to know how others are working. For this assistance the assessors were evidently in the main dependent on the Collectors. Each Collector had under him on an average six circle officers; and it was important that he should, at an early stage in the proceedings, contrast their work, and check those who were comparatively over-assessing, while correcting the undue leniency of others. Some Collectors appear to have discharged this duty with much care and with the best results; and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the Board consider that the Collectors generally gave much of their time and attention to the revision of the assessment of the tax; but in some districts the circle officers were left too much to their own resources; and, on the whole, it is certain that, whether from pressure of other business or from trusting to the possibility of correcting errors at a future stage of proceedings, many Collectors failed to give sufficient time and attention to the guidance of circle officers in the first instance, and thus led to much unnecessary trouble at a subsequent stage of the work. The law, as already remarked, allowed the Collector to make over his duties to his subordinates; but the rule (No. 13) and the Board's orders (paragraph 5 of report) required the Collectors and subordinate officers to do the work of supervision, and even of checking the assessment lists, as far as possible, personally. That they could not satisfactorily perform this duty themselves in all districts may be accepted; but where their duties were too onerous to permit this, it would perhaps have been better had an experienced Deputy Collector been told off to supervise the work of the circle officers, as in the case of the road cess valuations, and the Collectors' duties been thereby lightened.

13. The total number of persons assessed, including double assessments, was 840,507, and the total estimated population, 60,415,224. This represents an average of one assessee to every 71 persons. The proportion in different districts is, however, very different, and indicates great diversity of assessment. Thus, in Manbhoon only 1 in 239 was assessed; but in the adjacent and poorer district of Singbhoon, 1 in 22; in Sarun, 1 in 171; in Maldah, 1 in 31; in the Patna Division, as a whole, 1 in 112; in the Bhagulpore Division, 1 in 67; in Bogra, 1 in 169; in Rungpore, 1 in 58. Similar inequality is manifest in dealing with the objections that were preferred and the amounts eventually collected. In Beerbhoon the assessments were about the average, and the percentage of objections small—

Incidence of the Act in different districts.

18·6 per cent. But of those 1,442 were altogether disallowed, and only 315 partially or wholly successful. In Midnapore, on the contrary, where the Board consider that the Act was very well supervised, the objections were 22·3 per cent., and 6,023 were successful, against 3,761 unsuccessful. In Hooghly the objections were very numerous—38·3 per cent.; and yet 11,288 were allowed, against only 3,648 rejected. In Patna, as remarked below, the results were still more unequal, while in Singbhoon, again, where the assesses were so numerous, only 14·6 per cent. objected, and 1,368 were unsuccessful, against 740 successful.

14. The License Tax Act of 1867, with a minimum of Rs. 200, produced Rs. 15,45,541, or less than five-ninths of the present Act. Under that Act income derived from land was exempted, but official incomes were taxed. In the district of Mozufferpore, however, the present Act produced nearly seven times as much as that of 1867; in Furreedpore, six times as much; in Bhagulpore, five times as much; and in Maldah and Balasore, nearly four times as much. In Bogra, on the contrary, it produced only in the ratio of 2 to 3; in Chittagong, 10 to 19; and in Patna, 7 to 9; while in Manbhoon and Noakholly it was nearly the same. All these five districts the Board consider to have been under-assessed.

15. The explanation from Bogra is that the tax on trade operations originating in Bogra was in many instances payable elsewhere. This explanation the Board consider unsatisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs. It can hardly be doubted that Bogra was under-assessed.

16. As regards Chittagong, Mr. Cotton contends that, while the people as a whole are well off, the wealth is very much distributed, and the average comfort which is enjoyed is mainly derived from agriculture. It is undoubtedly true that the cultivation is much sub-divided in Chittagong; still, even judging by the productiveness of the Act of 1867, the collections were very small, as they also were, though in a somewhat less degree, in Noakholly.

17. The final outturn of the tax, as regards Patna, fully merits the censure passed upon it by the Board. In the first instance, only 1 in 101 of the population was assessed; but of these 89·7 per cent. objected. With such an enormous proportion of objections, a large proportion of rejections might have been anticipated; but, on the contrary, only 1,618 objections were rejected, against 12,186 wholly or partially allowed. Mr. Toynbee, the Officiating Collector, evidently considers that the assessments were very badly made, and that it was owing to the thorough and searching inquiry made by him in hearing objections that such wholesale remissions had to be given. The Board remark that, in that case, Mr. Toynbee ought to have found out the mistakes that were being made at an earlier period, and that, in either case, he is responsible for the bad results. It appears that Mr. Toynbee took great pains to do justice to objectors, hearing a very large number of objections himself, and evidently allowing much weight to pleas for exemption. Still Sir Stuart Bayley cannot but consider the ultimate result as eminently unsatisfactory. The trade of the City of Patna is far larger than that of Serajunge or of any other city or mart in Bengal, except Calcutta. Every test that bears on the question, the registered railway and river traffic, and the information collected for the purpose of compiling the Trade Report of 1876-77, combine to show that, as regards trading wealth, it stands high among the Bengal districts. It yields far more excise revenue than any district in Bengal, the town of Calcutta of course being excepted, and, as the Board point out, it was fourth in the yield in license tax in 1867. Moreover, it stands fourth in the order of districts in the revenue derived from non-judicial stamps, which is perhaps the best index of all to trading wealth, while it only stands nineteenth in the amount of population as ascertained at the census of 1871. It cannot therefore be supposed that Patna has been adequately assessed, when the total yield under the present tax has been only Rs. 35,741, and it stands twenty-eighth in the order of productiveness of the Lower Bengal districts. The Collectors are entrusted with the supervision of the Act, as they are the officers most qualified by position and experience to reconcile the somewhat conflicting interests of the revenue, i.e., the tax-paying community in the bulk, with those of the individual tax-payers; and it is their duty no less to protect the former against a leniency which is unjust to the general tax-payer, than to guard against undue severity of assessment on the individual. Mr. Toynbee appears to have lost sight of the one obligation in his anxiety to carry out the other, and his remark that assesses are entitled to the benefit of a doubt as much as criminals, shows a fundamental misconception of the spirit in which an Act like the License Tax, which it was desirable to make as little inquisitorial as possible, should be worked. If the onus of removing all doubt as to the taxable income of an assessee is to be thrown on the assessor, as it is on a public prosecutor of proving the guilt of the accused, an amount of inquisition and of compulsory production of testimony would be necessary, which would be a far heavier penalty on tax-payers than any honest and rational over-estimate of their income.

18. The Board and the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore agree in considering that Manbhoom also was under-assessed, and the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs. Judging from the average assessment of each assessee, it does not appear that those who were assessed were much under-assessed, but rather that the number of assessees was very much below the probable number in the district.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the Commissioner of Bhagulpore and the Board are also of opinion that the work was very badly done in Bhagulpore and Monghyr. In Bhagulpore two circle officers out of six are reported to have misconducted themselves, one having been degraded, and the other prosecuted. In Monghyr the total result, judged by figures, is not abnormal. Monghyr is a great trading district, and an original assessment of Rs. 1,68,403 is not, at a glance, disproportionate. Out of this amount, 56·1 per cent. was collected, which, again, is only a little below the average of the whole province; but the Collector appears to have erred precisely in the opposite way to the Collector of Patna. As the latter would give the benefit of any doubt in favour of the assessee, so the former directed his assessors to give any doubt against the assessee, leaving him to object. The Board remark that the conduct of the Monghyr Collector is still under consideration.

20. The total cost of collection up to the 30th June is shown by the Board as Rs. 3,34,069, or 12·1 per cent. on the total income. There are no means of checking this by the Accountant-General's figures; but, up to the 31st March, that officer shows the total cost under the Act as Rs. 2,79,340. In Noakholly the percentage of cost on collections was 40·1; in Chittagong, 38·2; and in the Southal Pergunnahs, 34·2. Columns 5, 7, and 9, in statement X, giving the details of the cost of establishment, are evidently imperfectly filled up; and column 10, which professes to be the total of these columns, is much in excess of them. Taking this column, however, as correct, as it appears to be, the expenditure was thus made up—

	Rs.
Salaries of circle officers and their subordinates, including peons	2,68,753
Travelling allowances	57,270
Postage	1,931
Stationery	506
Contingencies	5,609
Total	3,34,069

21. Turning now to the town of Calcutta, which, as above remarked, was assessed under separate rules and with some difference of classes, it appears that the results were almost as unsatisfactory as at Patna. The License Tax Act of 1867, with a minimum of Rs. 200, brought in a revenue of Rs. 4,66,286, and the assessments under the present Act originally stood at Rs. 12,19,357, including double assessments. The number of assessments made was 32,833, and the number of objections only

5,789, or about 19 per cent. But it appears from paragraph 17 of the report of the Chairman that 6,600 assessments had also to be cancelled as irrecoverable for reasons other than limitation. These reasons were that the assesseees were dead or had left the place, or were undiscoverable; and, in the absence of further explanation, this circumstance, in a city where house rate and license tax are collected for municipal purposes, involves a far severer condemnation of the negligent manner in which the assessments were originally made, than any official censure could convey. Eventually, therefore, Rs. 8,07,744 were remitted, or two-thirds of the entire demand; and the collections were only Rs. 3,35,331, leaving uncollected Rs. 76,283, which lapsed on the 30th June.

22. The report is submitted by the Chairman, who ascribes the wholesale remissions to the following causes:—(a) Tea companies and other companies paying road cess were declared exempt by Government. Nearly all these

Causes of over-assessments and large remissions. exemptions were in the highest classes. (b) The bad state of trade. Many large houses and traders, who would as a rule pay in the highest class, were working during the year at a loss or at a nominal profit, and whenever they cared to claim exemption, they were in a position to substantiate their claim. (c) The law required certain classes of occupations to be assessed, in the first instance, in the first, second, or third class, and hence the assessors were compelled to place them higher than their income justified. (d) The assessments, making every allowance for the above causes, were badly made.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor would make a liberal allowance for causes (a) and (b). The income from Calcutta is derived to a great extent from European companies, firms, houses, and traders; and the stagnant state of trade must have considerably diminished the legitimate productiveness of the Act. The third cause (c), as the Board point out, is not entitled to much weight, as the assessments in class I may be in the first or second grade, and the largest remissions were in class I, grade 1. They also add that the Chairman had power under section 12 to classify assesseees according to estimated income in the first instance, and prior to objection. This seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be open to question. His Honor does not think section 12 necessarily implies that the consideration of income should be imported into a classification so far as trades are definitely specified in schedule A or B, until expressly urged in objection under section 18.

24. Be this as it may, however, it is admitted that the assessments were also carelessly done; but, before finding fault with the late Chairman on this account, it must be remembered that he was left alone to bear the burden of supervision by himself. The Commissioners, whose aid was invited by him, rendered very valuable and praiseworthy assistance in hearing appeals; but they declined to assist the Chairman in revising the assessments, on account of the invidious character of the duties, and because the position of both assessors and judges in appeal would be anomalous. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Board in the opinion that this decision is to be regretted, and that the local knowledge, which the law expressly intended to be available in making assessments in municipalities, was thereby lost. The result was that the entire work of supervision was thrown upon the Chairman, who, being at the same time Commissioner of Police, had clearly no leisure to discharge the duty satisfactorily.

25. Mr. Souttar seems to be of opinion that, all things considered, the orders passed on objections were right and proper, and not unduly lenient; and in any case the Municipal Commissioners, who gave their time gratuitously to the tedious and thankless task of hearing appeals, are deserving of the best thanks of Government. Whether undue leniency was displayed or not, it is difficult for Government to judge. The outturn of the tax in Calcutta was undoubtedly very disappointing; but it is not easy to determine how far the exemptions and the depressed state of trade, which would evidently act upon Calcutta profits more than upon that of traders in the interior, justified the result.

26. The Board conclude their very interesting report with the remarks Unpopularity of the License Tax Act. of the Commissioners on the unpopularity of the Act. The opinion is universal that the license tax was very unpopular because it was a direct tax, and all direct taxes must be unpopular; but that it would have been less so had its incidence on all classes been more equal, and had the assessments been more carefully made. On the other hand, the Commissioners of Patna, Dacca, and Chittagong, while admitting the unpopularity of the tax, seem to think that it did not give rise to so many complaints as might have been expected. The Board point out that the recent orders exempting all persons with incomes of less than Rs. 250 per annum will remove much of the disgust with which the Act was received, and also express an opinion that, "as a rule, the tax was imposed generally with sufficient leniency and consideration to prevent any real ground for complaint of gross unfairness or oppression."

27. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that, under the circumstances, the Board and the other executive officers of Government who were charged with the disagreeable task of carrying out the provisions of this Act, in addition to their ordinary duties, deserve the acknowledgments of Government for the cheerful readiness with which they have accomplished the work. Sir Stuart Bayley observes that three of the Commissioners, Mr. Mangles, Mr. Peacock, and Lord Ulick Browne, are specially commended by the Board for the interest which they took in the supervision of license tax work, and the names of the six Collectors, who are also commended, will be noted as usual in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

D. B. HORN,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway during the month of October 1879.

GENERAL REMARKS.

This month's working again shows results that can only be looked upon as most satisfactory and promising. It will be seen that there is a very large increase in all staples of traffic (except tea) as compared with the corresponding month last year. In October 1878 the total traffic lifted stood at 87,747 maunds, whereas for this month under review we have carried 2,65,982 maunds or more than three times the weight.

Increases.

Als Mds. 665
An increase under this head may now be looked for as (the cold weather) the season for sending forward stocks for the use of the troops at Darjeeling advances.

Food-grain Mds. 29,425
A total weight of 43,175 maunds was hauled under this head during the month, against 13,750 maunds in October 1878. The shipment of large quantities of the lower descriptions of rice to the Mauritius and West Indies is the main cause of the increase in despatches from this district.

Ginger Mds. 1,367
The traffic carried under this head has for some months past been trifling, but the reduced rate introduced on 20th October 1879 has induced holders of stocks to send the stuff forward.

Gunny-bags Mds. 1,854
An advance of about Re. 1 per hundred in mill-made bags has had the effect of again bringing hand-made gunnies into use for local purposes.

Jute Mds. 91,459
A large traffic has been done in this staple during the month. The favorable rates ruling in the Calcutta market, and the desire on the part of holders to take advantage of them, gave such a sudden impetus to despatches that all the rolling-stock of the line, both covered and open, had to be pressed into service. Last month we carried 49,896 maunds, which was the largest weight we had carried in any one month, but during the month under review we have lifted a gross weight of 1,01,511 maunds, or more than double the hitherto greatest weight.

Piece-goods Mds. 9,893
This, although a large and in every way a satisfactory increase over the despatches under the same head during the corresponding month last year, is a considerable falling off from the results shown last month. September's traffic, however, as explained in the traffic report for that month, was exceptional.

Railway material Mds. 1,765
The trainway is the cause of the despatches keeping up under this head.

Salt Mds. 11,534
A revival of the traffic in this staple may be confidently looked for, as water communication with our stations becomes, with the cessation of the rains, less easy and more costly.

Sugar Mds. 2,449
A total weight of 2,614 maunds was lifted under this head during the month. Out of this 10 maunds only were carried downwards. It is therefore evident that the cane-growing districts are not producing sufficient for local consumption.

Tobacco Mds. 8,700
This increase is scarcely so satisfactory as might have been expected under the present favorable rates. Last month we carried 22,880 maunds, whereas this month a total of 17,355 maunds only have been lifted.

All other goods Mds. 20,796
During October 1878 we lifted 5,378 maunds only under this head, whereas for the period under review 26,174 maunds have been carried, or nearly five times the weight.

Decrease.

Tea Mds. 1,672
The season's manufacture is now coming to a close, and a decrease in this staple must be looked forward to.

NOTIFICATION.

The 12th November 1879.—The following rules for the lease of waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge districts having been approved by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, are published for general information :—

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR LEASE.

1. The “waste lands” to which these rules apply include all ungranted and unoccupied land at the disposal of Government in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge, which has not been declared reserved forest under the Forest Act VII of 1878.

2. In respect of the granting of leases for such lands the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall exercise all the powers of a Collector of Land Revenue under Act XXIII of 1863, provided that, before acting on an application for the lease of any land, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall refer the application to the Conservator of Forests and ascertain that there is no objection in his department to the application being granted. If the Commissioner is unable from any cause to accept the Conservator's objection, the matter shall be referred through the Board of Revenue for the decision of the Local Government.

3. The Government reserves to itself the right of withholding any land from being leased by special order made at any time before the lease is finally given by the Sundarban Commissioner; in such cases all expenses deposited by the applicant for demarcation, survey, and advertisement under the following rules shall be refunded to him, together with the reasonable expenses of clearing any lines and erecting any temporary boundaries which he may have incurred with the permission of the Sundarban Commissioner, as provided in Rule 10.

3(a). The Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the lands which may be leased together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary rights in the lands, and will only confer on the lessee an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

II.—APPLICATION AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

4. Applications for leases shall be written on paper bearing a court-fee stamp as required by law, and shall contain the following particulars :—

ing particulars :—

First.—The estimated area of the land applied for in standard beeghas of eighty cubits square, with its character and description.

Second.—The situation of the land accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Third.—A rough sketch map of the lands applied for.

A form of application marked A is annexed to these rules.

5. All applications shall be entered at once in a register, of which the form shall be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

5(a). In the portion of the Sundarbans which has been declared “Protected Forest” under the Forest Act, no blocks of waste land which are altogether surrounded by ungranted and unoccupied land shall be leased under these rules. No block shall be given on lease which is not adjacent to land which has already been granted for the purpose of cultivation. All applications which do not comply with this rule shall be rejected.

6. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than a single tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring-fence. If the land touches a navigable river, the river frontage must not exceed one half the depth of the lot; but for special reasons the Board of Revenue may relax this condition.

7. No greater area of land than 5,000 standard beeghas will be included in one lease except under special orders of Government, nor will a smaller area than 200 beeghas be leased unless the lot has distinct water boundaries on all sides. The sanction of the Board of Revenue shall be necessary to the lease of more than one lot to one applicant, or to the lease of a second lot to an applicant who already holds one. The Board may at its discretion allow such further leases to be given on being satisfied that the applicant is in a position to begin clearing and cultivating at once, and that he bond fide means to do so, provided that each application shall comprise no more than the prescribed maximum area.

8. On receipt of an application, the Sundarban Commissioner shall satisfy himself that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be leased. Should he find that the lands are not available for lease, or that for any reason they ought not to be leased, or that the application does not fulfil the requirements of the rules, he shall reject the application, or in the latter case, allow it to be amended. In no case shall any application be admitted without special sanction of the Board of Revenue for any land which any persons are found to be occupying or using.

9. When no objection is known to exist against the lease being made, the Sundarban Commissioner shall determine whether a survey of the lands is required, or whether the maps and records of previous surveys available in his office are sufficient for the ready identification and demarcation of the boundaries on the ground.

10. If no survey is required, and it is only necessary to demarcate the boundaries on the ground, the Sundarban Commissioner shall estimate the cost of such demarcation as well as the cost of clearing the lines and erecting temporary boundary marks, and shall call upon the applicant to deposit the same before a certain day, which shall be fixed with reference to the time at which the demarcation can conveniently be made. Provided, however, that it shall be optional with the said Commissioner to allow the applicant himself to clear the jungle and construct such temporary boundary marks as may be considered sufficient for the ready identification of the land, until the permanent marks prescribed by article XIII of the "Terms of lease" shall be erected. If the applicant is allowed to clear the jungle and erect temporary landmarks, he shall enter into an agreement to do so within such reasonable time as shall be fixed by the Sundarban Commissioner.

11. Should the Sundarban Commissioner decide that a survey of the land is necessary, he shall call upon the applicant to deposit, before a day fixed for that purpose, the cost of survey in addition to the cost of demarcation, &c., as provided in the preceding rule. The cost of survey shall be calculated at the rate of four annas an acre on the area estimated in the application, or at such higher rate as may for special reasons be fixed in any case. The sum payable for survey shall be adjusted at the rate fixed per acre according to the actual area which may be ascertained by survey, a further payment being made by the applicant, or a refund being made to him, as may be necessary for adjustment.

12. In addition to the cost of survey, demarcation, &c., the applicant shall be required to deposit a sum of Rs. 16 to cover the cost of issuing the notice prescribed by Rule 17.

13. Should the applicant fail to deposit any amount required by the foregoing rules before the date fixed for that purpose, or should he fail to clear the lines or to demarcate the boundaries by the date fixed under Rule 10, the application shall be struck off the file; an application so struck off may be re-admitted, but in that case the application shall be considered to have been made on the date of the application for such re-admission, and not on the date of the original application.

14. After the deposit of fees, if for any reason the application should be struck off, or the survey abandoned, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund of the sum deposited, except when lands are withheld from lease under Rule 3. Refund may, however, be made at the discretion of the Sundarban Commissioner of any balance remaining in deposit after meeting all expenses incurred on the objects for which the deposit was made.

15. Surveys shall ordinarily be made by Government surveyors; if made by other agency temporarily employed for the purpose, they shall be tested by Government officers.

16. Surveys need not be more minute or detailed than is necessary to ensure approximate ascertainment of area, but the boundaries must be very accurately and clearly defined.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF LEASE.

17. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Sundarban Commissioner is satisfied that it may be leased, he shall issue a notice in the form B annexed to these rules, announcing that an application has been made, and calling upon all persons who may have objections to make to appear before a date to be specified, which date shall not be less than three months from the date of the notice as provided in section I, Act XXIII of 1863.

18. The notice shall be published at the office of the Sundarban Commissioner, the office of the Board of Revenue, the office of the Collector of the District, at the Court of the District Judge, at the Sub-divisional Office, at the Moonsif's Court, and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy shall also be published in the Government Gazettes in English and in Bengali.

19. In framing the notice the Sundarban Commissioner must be careful to state, as precisely as possible, all rights which will be reserved, such as waterways and the strips of land along the banks of rivers and nullahs for towing-paths (vide article XI of the annexed terms of lease), which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use.

20. If, after the issue of the notice and before the lease has been sold, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Sundarban Commissioner must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

21. If the Sundarban Commissioner shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he shall stay his proceedings for selling the lease as directed by section IV, Act XXIII of 1863, and make a special report to the Board of Revenue.

22. If the objection be such as can be got over by an arrangement without proceeding to formal trial under section VI of the Act, the Sundarban Commissioner may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, order the arrangement to be made, and in such case, or in case the claim or objection is eventually withdrawn or pronounced invalid, the Sundarban Commissioner may proceed, on the date specified in the notice, to sell the lease of the land.

IV.—SALE IN CASE OF MORE THAN ONE APPLICATION.

22(a). If there is but one applicant for the lease of the land, it shall be sold to him at the upset price of one rupee an acre.

23. Should there be more than one application for the lease of the same lands before the survey or demarcation fees have been deposited, and should the second application comprise the whole of the lands contained in the first, the Sundarban Commissioner shall put the lease up to auction on the day named in the notice, and shall sell it to the highest bidder; but no person shall be allowed to bid who has not made such application; and no bid shall be accepted which is not bond fide on behalf of such person. If the second application comprise a portion only of the land contained in the first, it shall be rejected.

24. The lease, whether sold to the only applicant or by auction, shall be sold subject to the conditions contained in the terms of lease annexed to these rules and to those contained in the notice issued in form B.

25. The purchaser of the lease shall be required to pay down at once a sum of 500 rupees, or the full amount bid for the lease, if such amount be less than 500 rupees. In default of immediate payment the lease may be put up to resale at once, or may be reserved for future sale.

26. The purchaser shall be required to pay in the balance of the purchase money, if any, together with all fees for demarcation, survey, and advertisement which may be demanded by the Sundarban Commissioner, within one month of the day of sale. If he fail to do so, the sale shall be cancelled by authority of the Sundarban Commissioner, and the amount deposited under rules 11 and 12 shall be forfeited, and the land shall be available for lease to any other applicant.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS.

27. After the conditions of this sale are fulfilled, the Sundarban Commissioner shall grant a lease of the lands in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue. He shall forward the lease for registration in the office of the Board, and will also cause it and its counterpart to be duly registered by the Registrar of Assurances.

28. All leases of waste lands shall be recorded in a register to be kept in such form as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

29. The Board of Revenue shall as soon as possible after the publication of these rules—

I.—Prescribe forms of the register of applications as required by Rule 5, and for the register of leases as required by Rule 28.

II.—Issue a schedule specifying the rates of assessments subject to which the different lots of land available for lease in the Sundarbans shall be leased, as provided in article II of the terms of lease.

III.—Prescribe forms for leases.

30. The Board may issue any further subsidiary instructions for giving effect to these rules.

31. As the present policy of Government is not to allow the redemption of assessments on the land except in the case of very minute estates, no future application for the redemption of the assessments payable on account of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans, either under the rules of 1853 or under any other rules, will be entertained.

TERMS OF LEASE.

I.—One-fourth on the entire area leased shall be for ever exempted from assessment as an estimated allowance for unassessable area, such as that occupied by water-courses, creeks, tanks, roads, the space required for the construction of the

lessee's embankments, dams, tow-paths, &c., and for irreclaimable waste land.

II.—The remaining three-fourths of the area leased shall be held free of assessment for ten years, and shall be subject thereafter to such assessment within the limits given below as may have been fixed and notified by the Board of Revenue for the land in question:—

Table of rates of assessment.

TRACT.	PER BERSHA OF 80 CUBITS SQUARE.
	From 11th to 15th year.	From 16th to 20th year.	From 21st to 40th year.
21.—Porunnaha, west of the Kalindi river	1 to 2 as.	2 to 4 as.	4 to 8 as.
22.—Porunnaha, east of the Kalindi river, and Jessore	6 pie to 1 an.	1 to 2 as.	2 to 4 as.
Backergunge	2 to 4 as.	3 to 6 as.	6 to 12 as.

III.—One-eighth of the entire area leased, as recorded in the lease, shall be cleared and shall be in a state fit for cultivation at the end of the fifth year, reckoning from the date from which the free term of the lease commenced. At any time after the expiration of the said year, the Sundarban Commissioner or any person authorized by him may enter upon the land and cause it to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether this condition has been fulfilled.

IV.—On failure to comply with the above clearing condition the lessee shall forfeit all rights in the land under his existing lease, and the Government shall have the right of immediate re-entry. Provided that, if the lessee shall give up the said lease to the Sundarban Commissioner within one month of the date on which notice of such forfeiture shall be given to him, and shall demand a fresh lease, such fresh lease shall be given to him on the following conditions, namely, that the lessee shall forfeit all claim to continued possession of the land free of assessment, and shall at once pay the assessment at the lowest rate fixed in the original lease, and shall continue to pay it at such rate for the remaining free term of the lease, and shall also pay the assessment at a rate 20 per centum higher than that which was fixed in the original lease for each period up to the termination of the settlement.

V.—In the event of the lessee failing to demand such lease, and to execute the corresponding agreement, the entire area comprised in the lease shall be resumed by the Government, which shall enter into possession at once, and the lessee shall forfeit all right and interest in the lands, both those which may still be uncleared and those which may have been cleared and brought into cultivation.

VI.—The amount of assessment due on the land shall be paid according to the fixed instalments to the Collector of the district.

VII.—All arrears of assessment due on the land shall be recoverable as arrears of revenue due on temporarily-settled estates according to any law for the time being in force.

VIII.—After the expiration of 40 years, reckoning from the date of the original lease, the lot shall be open to resettlement for a period of 30 years on such terms as the Government shall think fit, provided that the assessment shall not be fixed higher than the rate which would be paid by cultivating ryots in the neighbourhood for land growing the ordinary crops of the country, less 30 per centum to be allowed to the lessee to cover the risks and cost of collection, and to represent his profits. The above assessment shall be calculated on the area of the entire area leased, less the one-fourth which is exempted from assessment under article 1 of these rules.

VIII(a).—The land shall be subject to any cesses—such as the District Road cess, the Public Works cess, or any other—in addition to the assessment to be paid, but the liability of the land to these cesses shall be left to the discretion of the local Government after the first period of the 40 years settlement has expired.

IX.—The land shall from time to time be subject to resurvey and re-assessment in accordance with the preceding rule after the expiration of 30 years from any resettlement.

X.—The land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularized in the notice of sale of lease in form B annexed to the rules.

XI.—The right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a tow-path not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

XI(a).—No charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But, for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied under the rules for the Sundarban protected forests, dated the 22nd April 1879, at any of the revenue stations mentioned in those rules, viz.—

For every maund of Sundri timber—one anna.
For every maund of any other kind—one-fourth of an anna.

XII.—In the event of any boundary dispute arising between the lessee of any lot and the lessee of any adjoining lot already leased under these rules, or which may subsequently be leased, the lessees shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Commissioner in the Sundarbans. The decision of the Sundarban Commissioner shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board shall be final and binding on the lessees. No lessee under these rules shall have any claim against the Government for compensation or damages in respect of land having been included in his lease which has already been included in some previous lease; but the lessee shall be entitled to proportionate reduction of the assessment in respect of any land covered by his lease which may subsequently be discovered not to have been available for lease.

XIII.—On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the lessee shall, except where the boundary runs along a river or well-defined nullah or water-course, within three months, erect masonry pillars or platforms or such other landmarks as may be required, to the satisfaction of the Sundarban Commissioner, at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large earthen mounds at every angle and at intervals of a hundred yards of the boundary line between such masonry pillars or platforms.

XIV.—If the lessee neglect to demarcate the lands as prescribed in the preceding rule, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall have the right of entry on the lands, and shall erect the landmarks hereinbefore described; and all costs incurred in that behalf, whether the actual costs of the landmarks, or the expenses incurred for clearing any jungle, or for supervision, or travelling expenses; and all charges whatsoever shall be recovered from the lessee by the law in force for the time being for the recovery of Government demands or the recovery of arrears of assessment on the land, as shall be decided upon by the Commissioner of the Sundarbans.

XV.—If any land leased under these rules should hereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, whether cultivated or uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on exempting the lessee from payment of the assessment on the area required, and in the case of cultivated land by further payment of the reasonable cost of bringing the land under cultivation, and on payment of reasonable compensation for the value of any building, &c., which may stand on the lands.

3(a). No charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. - that the land shall be held free of assessment for two years from the date of the lease;
- that from the beginning of the third year to the end of the thirtieth year the lessee shall pay such assessments for each period of years as are specified in the lease, which shall be fixed on the cultivated area with reference to the rates ordinarily paid for similar lands in the neighbourhood to grantees and other landholders by their ryots;
- that, if available, an area of unreclaimed land equal to the cultivated area shall be included in the lease and reserved for cultivation by him;

 that at the end of the thirtieth year, and so at the end of every period of thirty years, the lessee shall be entitled to a fresh lease for a further period of thirty years ; the rates of assessment being similarly fixed on all lands which may then be found to be in his possession under cultivation, at such rates as are paid in the neighbourhood for similar lands by the ryots of grantees and landholders ;
 that the tenure shall be heritable and transferable, provided that notice of every transfer shall be given to the Sunderbuns Commissioner within one month of its occurrence :
 Provided, however, that no holding shall be divided without the permission of the Sunderbuns Commissioner.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th November 1879.—The following revised rules for the regulation of the departmental examinations of junior members of the Covenanted Civil Service, the Subordinate Executive Service, the Non-Regulation Commission, Police, &c., having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, and approved by the Government of India, are hereby published for general information :

1. All Assistant Magistrates, Assistant Commissioners, Deputy Magistrates and Collectors, Assistant Superintendents of Police, and others (to whom these rules may be applicable) who may have been more than six months on duty, shall, and those who have been less than six months on duty may, at their option be subjected to half-yearly departmental examinations, and shall be required to pass according to the standard, or the standards, of examination which may be applicable to them respectively in each subject according to the rules hereinafter set forth.

2. To direct and control these half-yearly departmental examinations, there shall be a Central Examination Committee appointed by Government. It shall consist of a President and of as many members (of whom one shall be Secretary) as the Government may think proper to appoint from time to time.

3. The examinations may be held, in the Regulation Provinces, at any station which is the head-quarters of a Divisional Commissioner, or where there is a District Judge; and for the Non-Regulation Provinces at the following stations, and at any other stations where the Commissioner may, in communication with the Central Examination Committee, think it necessary to hold Committees for examination :—

For Chota Nagpore, at Ranchee.

For Cooch Behar, at Darjeeling or Julpigoree.

For the Sonthal Pergunnahs, at Bhagulpore.

For the Chittagong Hill Tracts, at Chittagong.

4. Each Divisional Commissioner shall notify, at least one month before the date of examination, at what stations in his division examinations are to be held, and shall report the names of intending examinees, specifying at which centre of examination each is to attend. If a Divisional Commissioner has only a very few examinees, and if the means of locomotion are easy, he will probably have only one or two centres of examination in his division.

5. The Central Examination Committee may, on sufficient cause being shown, permit the appearance of an officer for examination at a station other than that at which, under ordinary circumstances, he would be required to present himself.

6. At the several stations at which examinations are to be held Local Committees shall be formed, who shall conduct the examinations under the instructions of the Central Committee.

7. The Local Committee at each station, which is the head-quarters of a Commissioner, shall consist of the Commissioner, the Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), and a native civil officer to be selected by the Commissioner. In the absence of the Commissioner or Collector, the Judge (or Judicial Commissioner) shall take his place on the Committee. At the other stations the Committee shall consist of the Judge, the Collector, and a native officer to be selected by the Judge. At the stations in the Non-Regulation Provinces which are not the head-quarters of the Commissioner, and at which there is no Judicial Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner shall form a Committee, with one or two other officers to be selected by him.

8. The Government will, in communication with the Central Committee, fix the days for the half-yearly examination, which shall be the same for every district. The first half-yearly examination will usually be held in the month of April, May, or June, and the second in the month of October, November, or December.

9. It shall be the duty of the Central Committee to prepare, previous to each examination, sets of questions to be put to the examinees, to forward a sufficient number of copies of each of such sets to the President of each Local Committee in a sealed packet, to determine the order in which the examination in each paper and subject shall be held, and to arrange all other details for the conduct of the examinations. The Central Committee from time to time shall lay down such rules as may appear to them best for the guidance of the Local Committees, in order to ensure a fair and uniform method of ascertaining the proficiency of the examinee in each subject.

10. The Local Committee shall not open the sealed packet of papers until the time of examination; they shall superintend the written examinations of the examinees only so far as may be necessary to ensure the conduct of them with proper strictness; they shall not examine the written answers, but shall forward them to the Central Committee with a report, which shall be furnished by the District Officer and Commissioner under whom the examinee has been employed, respecting his official character, qualifications, and the work done by him during the preceding six months, as well as a statement specifying the marks which they assign to candidates for conversational proficiency in the vernacular, in which branch their decision shall be final.

11. The Central Committee, after perusing the reports and the examination papers, shall report to Government the names of such officers as in their opinion have passed, noticing specially, in the order of their merit, those who may have passed with distinction. They shall also report the names of those officers who have succeeded in some of the subjects only, as well as of those who have failed altogether.

12. There shall be two standards of examination in Law and Languages: the Lower and the Higher Standards. With the exception specified below, officers are required to pass in Law and in the language of the district by both the Higher and the Lower Standards, and in a second language by the Higher Standard only.

13. In Appendix IV will be found the rules prescribing the tests in the vernacular which European officers of the several departments are required to satisfy.

For native officers, when required to pass in any vernacular, the same rules and tests shall apply as in the case of European officers. But if the officer does not know English, he will translate into his own vernacular, and not into English, and it will be unnecessary for him to transliterate the paper set for that purpose.

14. The only language in which officers generally shall be required to pass by the Lower Standard shall be the vernacular of the district in which they may be serving, and the principal object of the examination shall be to test the proficiency for practical purposes of the examinee in such language.

15. The object of the Lower Standard of examination in Law shall be to test the examinee's practical acquaintance with the Criminal Codes, and his general knowledge of certain of the more important local laws, regulations, and rules. One paper shall be prepared specially for this examination, which shall be confined to the Criminal Codes, and for which the use of the Codes, but no manuals, guides, or books with indexes, shall be allowed. The questions must not be such as can be answered by copying a passage from a book; they must be such as shall thoroughly test the capacity of the examinees to understand the bearing of facts, and to ascertain the law and apply it. Another paper shall be prepared, consisting of questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules enumerated in Appendix I. These must be answered without the aid of books. This paper is designed equally for the candidates for examination by the Lower and Higher Standards, but the number of pass marks shall be less in the case of examinees by the Lower than in that of those by the Higher Standard of examination.

16. In the examination by the Higher Standard, it is necessary for the examinee to pass under the rules referred to above in two vernacular languages, ordinarily Bengali and Urdu. The questions of law and practice will be selected from the whole field of the duties of a Magistrate and Collector. All examinees will be required to pass in two papers. The nature of the one, in answering the questions in which the use of books will not be allowed, has already been explained in paragraph 15. The other paper, for which the use of books will be allowed, will contain questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules set forth in Appendix II. The examinees may have all the Acts, Regulations, and Circulars, but no Manuals, Guides or Indexes. The questions should be confined as much as possible to cases commonly arising in the ordinary routine of the office of a Magistrate and Collector, or of a District Superintendent of Police. Certain facts of probable occurrence in real practice should be stated, and the examinee required to find and apply the law applicable to the facts.

17. A Covenanted Civil Servant must pass the examination in local laws, regulations, and rules, and in both languages, by the Higher Standard. He will be required to pass by the Lower Standard in one subject only, and that the vernacular of the district in which he is serving.

18. Officers who, after passing in the higher grade the preliminary examination for admission into the Subordinate Executive Service held in 1873 or subsequently, have received appointments in that service, will be subject to no further examination except the Higher Standard departmental examination, and the opium laws examination for those candidates who are appointed to the Opium Department without having taken the opium papers. Candidates who passed at the Subordinate Executive Service examination which was held in 1872 are exempted from examination by the Lower Standard in the vernacular only. They will be required to pass in Law by that standard.

19. Where a candidate, other than a Covenanted Civilian allowed by Government for any special reason to present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in Law or Languages before passing the Lower, fails to pass the Higher Standard in either subject, the Central Examination Committee shall have full authority to decide whether he has done sufficiently well to pass by the Lower Standard.

20. An officer who succeeds in passing by either standard, (a) in Law or (b) in either of the Languages, shall not again be required to present himself for examination by the same standard in the subject in which he was successful, but only in those in which he failed.

21. The marks to be assigned to each branch of the Law examination, the proportion required for passing by the different standards, and the time allowed for each paper, are set forth in Appendix III. The same information as regards the examination in Languages will be found in Appendix IV. Uniformity must be rigidly enforced in the time allowed for each subject, whether in Law or Language.

22. A civil officer who has passed according to the Lower Standard of examination, and who has exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months, shall usually be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, described in sections 20—24 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872), provided he is certified by the Commissioner to be fully competent to exercise them. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners will also then be vested with the powers of a Deputy Collector.

23. An officer, however, who shall have passed by the Lower Standard in the Criminal Codes and in the language of his district, may be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class on the Commissioner's recommendation to that effect, provided he has had not less than six months' experience in his magisterial duties.

24. An officer who has passed according to the Higher Standard shall be eligible to be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, but not until he shall have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for at least six months.

25. An officer who has passed in Law and in the language of his district according to the Higher Standard may also be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, subject to the condition of his having exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for six months; but he shall not be entitled to any promotion or increase of pay until he has passed fully by the Second Standard. He shall exercise the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class so long only as he is employed in a district where the language in which he has passed is the vernacular.

26. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners on first appointment draw only Rs. 400 a month. On passing the Lower Standard of examination, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, they shall be allowed an increase of Rs. 50 a month, provided they have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months at least; and on passing fully the Higher Standard, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, they will receive a second increase of Rs. 50, provided they have also exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for not less than six months.

27. Officers attending these examinations will be allowed travelling allowance subject to the rules laid down by the Government of India in the Financial Department, in Notification No. 4425 of the 12th December 1872.

28. No application from any junior officer, liable to examination, for privilege leave or leave on private affairs, will be entertained if the following half-yearly examination falls due before the expiry of the leave applied for, unless the application specifies that the applicant will attend the examination.

29. If such leave is applied for, and the application from such an officer is submitted to Government, it should be stated that he is liable to pass an examination, and that the next examination will be held within the period of the leave applied for. This will enable the Lieutenant-Governor to decide whether, for the reasons stated, the leave should be granted; and if so, on what conditions.

30. It is the duty of district officers to look to the practical training of the young officers placed under them from their first entering into official life till they acquire a practical experience of their work and qualify themselves for the exercise of higher powers by passing the prescribed examinations. District officers are expected to take active interest in the well-being of the young men placed under them, by exercising due supervision over their studies, by holding periodical examinations to test their qualifications and official knowledge, and by any other means which may seem to them to be expedient for the purpose.

SPECIAL RULES.

1. For Police Officers the papers set in Law for both the Lower and the Higher Standards shall be prepared separately from those for other officers. For the Lower Standard questions shall be set in the Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act V of 1861, the Village Chowkidari Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, Act I (B.C.) of 1871, and the D and N Circular Orders of the Police Department. The use of books will be allowed in answering these questions. For the Higher Standard the questions will be taken from the same Acts and from all the Circulars of the Police Department, from the Excise, Salt and Opium Laws, from Act V (B.C.) of 1876 (so far as it relates to Police), and from the Evidence Act I of 1872. In this examination the use of books will not be allowed.

2. Police Officers transferred to the Executive Service, or who desire such transfer, will be required to satisfy the same tests as those prescribed above for officers of the Subordinate Executive Service, subject to the exception noted below.

3. When such an officer has already passed by either standard in a language, the pass will be accepted as sufficient to that degree.

4. Any officer so transferred, who has passed in Law by the Lower Standard (as hitherto required for the Police), will be required to pass for the Lower Standard in the general papers of local laws, &c. He will be exempted from examination in the Criminal Codes prescribed for the Lower Standard if he so desire; but if he elects to pass, such pass will be taken into account in his favour.

5. Such officers who have passed by the Higher Police Standard in Law will still be required to pass in both law papers prescribed in paragraph 16 above, the term "law" including Revenue and General law.

6. Officers of the Opium Department will be examined, after admission to the department, in the subjects mentioned in Government orders No. 1157G of 28th October 1872.

1. Covenanted Civilians.
2. Assistant Commissioners.
3. Assistant Superintendents of Police.

8. The officers named in the margin are required to pass by the standard specified in grade I above in two languages, which may be Bengali and Hindustani, or Oorya and Hindustani.

9. Military officers who have passed in Hindustani by the Military Higher Standard of examination specified in grade II are not liable to further examination in that language.

10. Officers generally are required, in the first instance, to pass in the language of the district in which they are serving by the Lower Standard specified in grade II above, before attempting a second language, in which passing by the Higher Standard only will be required. Covenanted civilians are, however, allowed to pass by either standard, and in either language in any order.

11. Uncovenanted officers who have passed in any vernacular at the Native Civil Service Examination are not required to pass in it again by the Lower Standard of departmental examinations, but may go up for the Higher Standard in cases where they become liable to this examination.

12. An officer liable to pass in two languages, when he has passed in the language of the district by the Lower Standard as required in Rule 10 above, may present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in that language, and in the second language, which will be Hindustani in the case of those who first qualify in Bengali or Oorya, and in the case of those who first pass in Hindustani, Bengali or, if they be posted in Orissa, Oorya.

13. Covenanted civilians who, on the 4th May 1874, were of less than 12 years' standing, and have passed in Hindustani and Bengali, will, on transfer to Orissa, as a condition of promotion to the substantive grade of Magistrate, be required to pass in Oorya as a third language. Similarly, those who have passed in Hindustani and Oorya only will, on transfer to Bengal, be required to pass in Bengali as a third language. On passing in a third language under this rule, covenanted civilians become entitled to a reward of Rs. 500.

14. Police officers and uncovenanted Deputy Collectors are not required to pass in a third language under the preceding rule; but if they elect to do so, they will be eligible for a reward of Rs. 180.

15. The examination specified in grade I above, and the Lower Standard of examination specified in grade II above, will be held under the rules for the conduct of the departmental examination of civil officers, and under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee in Calcutta.

16. The Military Higher and Lower Standards of examination specified in grades II and III above will be conducted in the case of military officers by the Board of Examiners in Calcutta under the rules applicable to these examinations generally. In the case of uncovenanted medical officers, and optionally in the case of covenanted medical officers, those examinations will be held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee, and along with the departmental examinations.

The following are the tests prescribed for the several grades of examination :—

Grade I.—The Higher Standard of Departmental Examination.

A.—Reading current handwriting in the vernacular.

Two documents of the more difficult description of office papers selected and lithographed by the Central Examination Committee shall be transliterated into the Roman character.

B.—A written translation from the vernacular into English.

The same documents shall also be translated into English correctly.

C.—A written translation from English into the vernacular.

An English judgment or other official document of a somewhat difficult nature, selected by the Central Examination Committee, shall be translated into the vernacular without assistance, and in a generally correct manner.

D.—Dictation from English into the vernacular.

An English report or other official paper of some difficulty shall be translated into the vernacular and dictated off-hand fluently and intelligibly, and the translation written down by a clerk exactly as dictated.

E.—Conversation in the vernacular.

The examinee shall be tested in conversation with several natives in such a manner as to satisfy the local Committee of his power of making himself understood by them, and of explaining himself with clearness and sufficient propriety in the vernacular in an argument or topic of some difficulty, such as may occur in official business.

The maximum and the pass marks assigned to each branch of the examination, and the time allowed for the papers, are subjoined :—

Subjects of Examination.			Maximum marks.	Passing marks.	Time.
Transliteration	...	...	20	10	{ One-and-a-half hours.
Translation from vernacular	One paper	...	20	10
Translation from English	...	...	20	10	Two hours.
Dictation from English	...	...	20	10	Half an hour.
Conversation	...	...	20	10	Ten minutes.

Grade II (a).—The Lower Standard of Departmental Examination.

For this examination the tests shall be the same as the above, but the papers shall be less difficult. The proportion of marks to be obtained in order to pass, and the time allowed for the papers, shall be the same as for the Higher Standard above described.

Grade II (b).—The Military Higher Standard of Examination.

The Military Higher Standard examination is intended to ascertain the ability of candidates—1st, to read and construe passages in books of ordinary difficulty in Urdu and Hindi; 2nd, to make accurate and idiomatic written translations from English and Hindustani in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; 3rd, to read and translate petitions, native letters, &c., in Urdu and Hindi; 4th, to converse with educated or uneducated natives of India in Hindustani.

(1) The Bāgh-o-Bahār.

(2) Selections from the prose of the Prém Sāgar.

Second.—Translating accurately, and with correctness of idiom and grammar, not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into language similar to that of the Bāgh-o-Bahār, and an equal amount into language similar to that of the Prém Sāgar. The translation must be reduced to writing, in the former case in the Persian character; in the latter in the Deva Nagri character.

Third.—Reading fairly, and translating readily and correctly, Hindustani manuscripts written in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil or military authorities, from letters passing between natives of India in the ordinary course of business, or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters as practically employed in the presidency or province in which the examination is held.

Fourth—Conversing in Hindustani with the examiners or with natives of India with fluency, and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar, and idiom, as to be at once intelligible.

In other languages the tests imposed are similar, but the books are different. Those used are—

In Bengali	{ (1) Nobonari.
	{ (2) Rajdut.
In Oorya	{ (1) Hitopadisa.
	{ (2) Batris Singhasun.

Grade III (a).—Military Lower Standard of Examination.

At this examination shall be tested the ability of candidates to read and translate passages from easy Hindustani books written in the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; and to speak on, and interpret, common or professional subjects in Hindustani so as to understand, and to be understood by, any ordinary uneducated native of India.

They are required, first, to read fairly, and construe with accuracy, not less than half an octavo page of the undermentioned works:—

- (1) "Hindustani selections*" in the Persian character.
- (2) "Hindustani selections*" in the Deva Nagri character.

Second, to converse in Hindustani with the examiners, or with natives of India, on subjects likely to occur in the performance of regimental or professional duty, in the transactions of ordinary business, or in the course of every-day life.

"If this test be applied through the medium of a native of India, he should speak the plain Hindustani of the presidency or province in which the examination is held, free from peculiarities of idiom and dialect, and not a patois, and though, as regards the performance of professional duties, it must to a certain extent be technical in its nature; if, in other respects, the candidate prove his ability to comprehend readily all that is said to him, and to make himself fairly intelligible, more should not be required."

The colloquial examination of each candidate will be carefully recorded in writing by the Committee of Examiners, and a copy of this record will be forwarded with the Committee's report to the Adjutant-General of the Army. It is in this portion of the examination that discretion and judgment on the part of the examiners is most required; and in conducting it, Committees should strictly follow the instruction laid down in the extract from the orders of the 9th September 1864 above quoted. Questions intended simply to puzzle a candidate should be particularly avoided. The questions need not exceed 15, but should not be less than 10 in number.

APPENDIX V.

Rules for the encouragement of the study of the languages of Frontier Tribes mentioned in paragraph 1 of Appendix IV.

THE following are the rules sanctioned for granting rewards to civil officers in Bengal for proficiency in the languages of frontier tribes.

2. A reward of Rs. 1,000 (one thousand) will be granted to any Covenanted Civilian, Deputy or Assistant Commissioner, Deputy Collector, or District or Assistant Superintendent of Police, who shall pass by the prescribed standard an examination in any one language in any of the groups of languages noted in the margin, provided that the language is spoken within the district where the officer is at the time employed, or by tribes conterminous to it with whom he has official relations. A second reward will in no case be given to an officer for proficiency in a second language of the same group.

3. The examination shall be conducted by a local Committee to be specially appointed by Government on each occasion.

* Until these selections have been prepared, candidates will be examined in the first-half of the Bagh-o-Bahar and the first-half of the Diyal Pachotee.

4. The tests which a candidate for the above reward must undergo are as follow:—

- (a.) He must be able to converse freely with the people of the tribe in whose vernacular he may wish to qualify, to understand, and to make himself understood by them.
- (b.) He must write down in the English, or the Bengali, or Hindi character, sentences spoken in the tribal language by one of the tribe, or a conversation held between two of them, and must explain it correctly in English.
- (c.) He must without assistance translate from English or his mother-tongue into the tribal language (writing it in either the English, or Bengali, or Hindi character) sentences not of a more difficult nature than those described in clause (b). The translation must be substantially correct and intelligible when read to a native in whose language it might be written.

5. These rules will not affect those prescribing the rewards to which Junior Civilians who succeed in passing High Proficiency and Honors examinations in certain specified languages will be entitled.

APPENDIX VI.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

No. 3101, the 5th October 1864.

THE Governor-General in Council having had under consideration the rules for the examination of military officers seeking admission to the Staff Corps in the Civil and Political Departments, which were published in the notification of Government, No. 242, dated 25th May last, has determined, subject to the sanction of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, on the substitution of the following rules:—

In continuation of the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps, notified by the Military Department in G. O. No. 531 of 1864, dated the 27th June, the following rules relating to the future employment of military officers in the Civil and Political Departments of the Government are published for general information:—

I.—A candidate for appointment to the Civil or Political Department, with the view of qualifying for the Staff Corps, must furnish the certificates mentioned in paragraph 5 of G. O. No. 531, of which the forms were given in Appendix A of the same general order, and are now re-published at the end of the present notification.

II.—He must have been previously attached, for a period of not less than one year, to a native regiment;* but such period may form part of the three years' duty with a regiment required by the general regulations for admission to the Staff Corps. He will be required to produce a certificate from his superior officer, testifying to his efficiency and good conduct, and especially to his conciliatory demeanour towards the native soldiery and other people of the country with whom he has been brought in contact.

III.—The period of one year,—reckoned, as explained in the following rule, from the date of the first half-yearly examination held subsequent to appointment,—is fixed as the limit within which an officer, admitted on probation to employment in the Civil or Political Department, will be required to qualify himself to undergo the examinations hereinafter mentioned, in passing which he will have a claim to have his services retained; and he will then, under the orders of the Military Department, be appointed to the Staff Corps.

IV.—Examinations will be held half-yearly in October and April of each year. A candidate may appear at the first examination held after the expiry of the first six months of his probation, and if he fail to pass, must again appear at the next examination six months later. A candidate failing to pass at the first examination, held after the expiration of his year of probation, will be removed from employment in the Civil or Political Department, and consequently will not be appointed to the Staff Corps.

* Any officer who has been employed for a year in one of the departments named on the margin will be exempted from the condition prescribed by Rule II of one year's service with a native regiment: provided, however, that he shall produce, from the officer under whom he may have served in any such department, a certificate (to be countersigned by the head of the department) to the same effect as that required from a superior officer in case of service with a native regiment.

Survey. Public Works. Police.	Commissariat. Stud.

V.—Subject to such general directions as shall from time to time be given by the Government of India, the examinations will be conducted by a Committee acting under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, or Chief Commissioner, or Political Agent or Resident, as the case may be.

VI.—The examination will embrace, in the case of officers employed in general civil duties, the subjects of Indian History, Political Economy, and Jurisprudence. The works on the two last-named subjects in which candidates will be examined are Mills' Political Economy, Austin's Principles of Jurisprudence, Volume I, and Maine's Ancient Law. Notice of any change in the books for examination will be given at least one year before it takes effect.

VII.—Every officer in civil employment will, in addition to the above examination, and notwithstanding his appointment to the Staff Corps, be required to undergo the local and departmental examinations prescribed for Covenanted Civil Servants in the province in which he is serving.

VIII.—The examination in the case of officers employed in the Political Department will embrace the subjects above-mentioned, and the candidate will in addition be examined in Wheaton's Work on the Principles of International Law. He will also be examined in the collection of Indian Treaties and Engagements, now being published under the direction of the Foreign Office.

IX.—No officer will be admitted on probation to civil or political employment who has not passed the examination in Hindustani required by the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps.

X.—Cantonment Magistrates will be classed with officers in civil employment. Separate rules will be promulgated hereafter as regards Police Officers; but Police Officers, if transferred to civil employment, will be required to pass the examination prescribed for officers in civil employment.

XI.—As a general rule, military officers will be appointed to the Political Department from among those who are already in civil employment; and every officer so transferred will be required to pass, within one year from the date of his transfer, the additional examination in International Law and Indian Treaties prescribed for the Political Department, failing which he will forfeit his appointment.

XII.—These rules are intended to be prospective in their effect. They will not apply to any officers now holding permanent appointments in civil or political employment. Such officers will be entitled to join the Staff Corps in virtue of their appointments. Officers, however, who do not hold permanent appointments will be subject to these rules. But the case of any officer who has been formerly in civil or political employment, and who, having quitted such employment, may hereafter be re-appointed to it, will be specially dealt with as the circumstances of the case may require.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 p.m. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 p.m. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 p.m. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 p.m. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such resale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 p.m. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 p.m.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares opium for the year 1878-79, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 4,971 chests of Benares opium of the season 1878-79, 3,000 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary Benares opium of the season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 3,000 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1880, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of

Behar	...	...	28,200
Benares	...	...	28,200
Total	...	...	56,400

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

POSTAL NOTICES.

TO obviate inconvenience at present felt by people wishing to register letters for the Assam, Darjeeling, and Northern Bengal Mail (which closes at the General Post Office at 12 noon), a change will be made in the hours of registration at the Calcutta Post Office.

No letters will in future be received for insurance or registration between 7 and 8 A.M., as this time is not found suitable to the public; but registration and insurance will commence at 11 A.M., instead of at noon, and continue till the present hour of 5 P.M.

This change will have effect from 1st December 1879.

T. W. GRIBBLE, Postmaster-General, Bengal.
Darjeeling, the 19th October 1879.

From—A. M. MONTEATH, Esq., Director-General of the Post Office of India, To—All Postal Circles.

I HAVE just received from the British Post Office a Time-table for 1880 of the Contract Mail Services of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and I annex an abstract of the portion relating to the Indian line.

2. I have telegraphed to the British Post Office to the effect that the Saturday departure from Bombay should be at 2-30 P.M. (as previously indicated by this Office), and not at 7 P.M. as provided in the table. This change will probably cause an alteration of 4½ hours in the times of arrival of the homeward steamers at Aden and Suez.

3. As regards the despatch of Mails from India, the change consists in the adoption of Saturday as a fixed day of departure from Bombay throughout the year, instead of Monday in the fair season, and Friday in the monsoon.

4. The last Mail despatched under the old arrangement will be that carried by the steamer which leaves Bombay on Monday, the 29th December 1879; and the first Mail despatched under the new arrangement will be that carried by the steamer which leaves Bombay on Saturday, the 3rd January 1880; so that the Overland Mail date will be everywhere advanced by two days.

5. The Southampton route has not been included in the new table; but the vessels thereof will continue to run and to carry mails till the commencement of the new contract in February.

6. Subsequent instructions will be given respecting the arrangements to be introduced consequent upon the abolition in February of the Southampton route.

Abstract Time-table of the Mail Service between India and the United Kingdom.

* N. B.—I have telegraphed to the London Post Office stating that the hour of departure from Bombay should be 2-30 P.M., not 7 P.M.; consequently the hours here quoted are subject to alteration.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON EMIGRATION TO THE COLONIES FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

Calcutta, the 25th November 1879.

READ—

The report of the Protector of Emigrants for the year 1878-79.

It is satisfactory to observe that the marked increase in colonial emigration which occurred in 1877-78 was in great measure maintained in the past year. The number of emigrants despatched to the colonies fell off, but the decrease may be attributed rather to the fact that the demand of the colonies was not so large as in the previous year, than to any difficulty experienced in securing emigrants in the recruiting districts. In both years the operations of recruiters were facilitated by the prevalence of high prices in the districts in which they were employed, and the number of emigrants who actually left Calcutta for the colonies was in excess of that for which requisitions were received by the Emigration Agents. The demand of the colonies and the number of emigrants despatched during the last three years stand thus:—

1878-79	...	...	13,095	14,224	15,865

Emigration to Fiji was permitted for the first time last year, and 498 emigrants were sent to that colony during the season. Continued attention was given by the Protector to the removal of abuses and the introduction of measures calculated to prevent their recurrence, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that his efforts have effected some improvement in the working of the department.

2. Dr. Richards, Embarkation Agent at Goalundo, officiated as Protector of Emigrants throughout the year. Dr. Grant has since resumed charge of the appointment, and the report is submitted by him.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor's views in connection with the amendment of the Colonial Emigration Act VII of 1871, which is at present under consideration, were communicated to the Government of India during the year. An improvement of the existing law is in many respects needed, and it is hoped that the necessary changes will be introduced under the new Act. Amendments of the rules for carrying out the provisions of the law have been approved by the Government of India, but their introduction will now be postponed in view of the proposed change in the law itself. The rules proscribing the shipment of not more than 25 women to every 100 men, during the months of August, September, and October, and of a larger proportion in succeeding months to make up the full complement of 40 women to every 100 men required for the whole season, which were introduced experimentally in 1877-78, were enforced during the past season on all vessels, save those proceeding to the French colonies, in whose favour a special relaxation had been granted. Compliance with these rules has, however, been found a matter of extreme difficulty and inconvenience, and it would appear, from a special report lately received from the Protector, that the object aimed at by the experiment, namely, the reduction of infant mortality on board emigrant ships by restricting to a low proportion the number of women shipped during the monsoon or bad weather months, was not attained during the season. The Government of India has accordingly sanctioned the withdrawal of the rules from the commencement of next season.

4. There were nine agencies in operation during the year, the number being the same as in the previous year. No recruiting for Grenada was carried on, but the place of that agency was filled up by the new agency opened for Fiji. With the exception of the Mauritius depôt, which is at Bhowanipore, the depôts are all situated at Garden Reach, and three of them are on the river-side. Their sites are well chosen, and they are said to afford ample accommodation for large bouies of coolies, and facilities for embarkation. The management of the depôts generally during the year was satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor cordially acknowledges the assistance given by the Emigration Agents to the Protector, in the discharge of his duties.

5. The total number of emigrants admitted into depôt was 18,485 against 22,544 in 1877-78, showing a decrease of 4,059. Admissions fell off from 3,044 to 1,316 in the Mauritius depôt, from 9,668 to 7,263 in the Demerara depôt, from 1,156 to 232 in the Jamaica depôt, from 724 to 263 in the St. Lucia depôt, and from 2,733 to 2,515 in the Guadeloupe depôt. The depôts in which admissions increased were those for Trinidad (from 2,821 to 3,093), Natal (from 1,315 to 2,161), and Surinam (from 504 to 1,045). The number admitted into the Fiji depôt was 597.

6. The mortality in depôt was less than that which occurred in 1877-78, the number of deaths in all the depôts together being 97, and the general death-rate .52 per cent., as compared with 168 deaths and a death-rate of .74 per cent. in 1877-78. The Natal depôt, with a percentage of .97 against .15 in the previous year, shows the highest death-rate. It is explained that this serious increase was caused by an outbreak of cholera, which was, however, promptly checked. The lowest death-rate is returned against the depôts for Trinidad, Jamaica, and St. Lucia. The Trinidad depôt, which shows a mortality of only 11 out of 3,093 admissions, or .35 per cent., was particularly healthy. A very satisfactory improvement is observed in the rate of mortality among children and infants in all the depôts. The percentage of deaths, calculated on the total strength of each group admitted into depôt in the past two years, has been—

Ditto women	...	...	...	0.48	0.33
Ditto children	...	...	...	1.68	0.20
Ditto infants	...	...	...	3.77	0.31

Cholera, dysentery, and chest-affoction carried off the largest number of persons last year, and an outbreak of measles caused 13 deaths in the Demerara depôt. Only one case of small-pox was reported against 18 in 1877-78.

7. Except in the Jamaica, Natal, and Guadeloupe depôts, the average detention in depôt shows a reduction. In the Jamaica depôt the average detention rose from 37 to 62 days, owing, it is stated, to delay in the arrival of the return ship which had been chartered for the double voyage, and difficulty in procuring ballast cargo. The number of emigrants detained was fortunately small, and no fatal outbreak of sickness occurred during their detention, as only one death is returned for the whole season. There were, as usual, some cases of prolonged detention in most of the depôts on account of ill-health or other unavoidable causes.

8. The number of licenses granted during the year was 286 against 375 in 1877-78 and 306 in 1876-77, while the percentage of cancellations was 14.68 against 4.26 in 1877-78 and 3.92 in 1876-77. The large increase of cancellations in the past year was the result of vigorous efforts made by Dr. Richards to check the irregularities of recruiters. Among other irregularities brought to light, it was found that the employment of unlicensed assistants was freely resorted to by licensed recruiters, and that some sub-agents and recruiters habitually removed intending emigrants from their own to other districts for the purpose of registration, with the object, it would seem, of placing them quickly beyond the influence of their relatives and friends, who might object to their emigrating. These practices are distinctly contrary to the law, and all the men found guilty of them were deprived of their licenses. At the instance of this Government, instructions were also issued by the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh to its district officers, to supervise carefully the proceedings of recruiters, so as to check completely the employment of unlicensed recruiters, and to make registration possible only in the districts in which the emigrants are recruited. As a further means of controlling the operations of the agencies, revised forms of the register of emigrants to be kept at each depôt, of the report of arrivals and of the return of casualties, were prepared during the year, and have since been introduced.

9. No change has been made in the terms offered to emigrants by the several colonies. The colony of Fiji, which, as already remarked, started operations for the first time last year, offers wages at the rate of one shilling a day to adult males, and nine pence a day to adult females, above the age of 15 years. Children will receive remuneration according to the amount of work done by them. In all other respects the terms of engagement are identical with those for Trinidad. It was stated in the Resolution on the last report that a representation had been made to the Government of India in regard to a provision of the law of the French colonies, under which the Indian immigrant, though entitled to a return passage under the Convention entered into between the French and British Governments in 1861, might be deprived of his right to such passage in case of criminal or corrective condemnation in the local courts. An assurance has since been given by the French Government that the colonial law will in no case be enforced in contravention of the terms of the Convention, and the Lieutenant-Governor considers this a satisfactory settlement of the question.

10. The total number of statute adults indented for by the colonies, and the number actually despatched during the year, has been stated. The number shipped was larger than the demand in every case, except Natal, to which only 955 men were sent against a demand of 1,000. Return emigrants who re-emigrated were 472 in number, the majority going to Demerara and Trinidad. Demerara took 255, of whom 191 had previously been in the colony, and 91, including 66 old emigrants of the colony, went to Trinidad. Mauritius would seem to stand next in popularity with this class of emigrants, 48 out of 120 of its old emigrants who re-emigrated having gone back to the island.

11. Great discrepancies are again observed between the number of emigrants registered in the recruiting districts, as shown in the returns of the registering officers, and the number admitted into depôt, as reported by the Agents. From the registering officers' returns it appears that 20,117 persons were registered during the year, while the Agents' returns account for only 18,485 persons. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that of the remaining

1,632 persons, not a few were turned adrift by the recruiter, after registration, without adequate provision for their return to their homes. One such case, in which 287 people were thus rejected, was actually brought to the notice of Government during the year. Instructions were issued to all registering officers, in October 1878, to forward to the Protector a copy of every registration under official endorsement, and to furnish him as soon as possible after the close of each month, with a list of all registrations effected during the month. The Government of the North-Western Provinces were requested simultaneously to issue similar instructions to its officers. The Protector's suggestion that that Government should now be addressed to this effect has therefore been anticipated. It is probable that these instructions reached the registering officers too late to produce any material effect on the returns for the past year; but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that they have since been carefully complied with, and that their good results will be apparent hereafter.

12. Inclusive of 193 remaining from the previous year, the number of emigrants in depôt during the past year was 18,678. Of these, 15,848* were despatched to the colonies, leaving a balance of 2,829, which is accounted for thus—rejected as unfit to labour, 1,168; dependents of those so rejected, 448; unwilling to emigrate, 96; claimed by relatives, 10; desertions, 549; deaths, 97; transferred to other agencies, 165; and remaining in depôt at the close of the year, 296. The percentage of emigrants rejected on the ground of unfitness continues large, and was especially high last year in the agencies for Natal, Surinam, Guadeloupe, and Fiji. The recruits of the Natal agency were, it appears, all examined and passed by the Civil Surgeons of the recruiting districts during the year, and the Surinam and Guadeloupe agencies have also since made arrangements for a similar examination of their recruits. The large number of rejections which the agents are nevertheless compelled to make in Calcutta indicates, however, that the medical examination in the recruiting districts is frequently carried out in the most inefficient manner. The Protector advocates, as an effective means of reducing the chances of rejection in Calcutta, the introduction of a provision in the law rendering medical examination prior to registration compulsory. This question has already been before the Government, and it is now again under discussion.

13. The percentage of recruits who finally declined to emigrate, and of those who were claimed by their relatives, was smaller than in the previous year. Desertions also show a satisfactory falling off, the percentage on the total number of emigrants in depôt being only 2·93, as compared with 4·59 in 1877-78. There was a marked change for the better in the Mauritius agency, and some improvement also took place in the Surinam agency, although the percentage in the latter is still very high. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that a certain number of desertions, due to causes over which the agencies can exercise no control, are likely to occur every season; but the majority of the desertions of each season are always traceable to malpractices or injudicious selection on the part of recruiters, and it is to the reduction of such cases that the Protector and the Agents should continue to direct their attention. Of the 296 emigrants remaining in depôt at the close of the year, 134 were waiting for a vessel to convey them to Mauritius, seven were orphans maintained by the Natal Government, and the remainder have since been released from their engagements and sent back to their homes.

14. More than the prescribed minimum proportion of 40 women to every 100 men despatched during the season was secured for every colony, and all deficiencies of the previous season were also made up. Altogether 4,202 women and 9,213 men embarked during the year, and the proportion of women to every 100 men was thus 45·60.

15. Of the emigrants of the year, 8,603 were recruited from the North-Western Provinces, 4,266 from Oudh, 2,524 from Behar, 203 from Bengal, 120 from Central India, 58 from Madras and Bombay, 40 from the Punjab, 38 from Native States, and 13 from Orissa. Oudh contributed 100 more than in the previous year, while the number received from Madras and Bombay fell off very largely, apparently on account of the termination of the famine in those provinces. As regards the remaining provinces, allowance being made for the reduced demand of the colonies, the proportion of the emigrants of the season contributed by each may be considered to have been the same as in 1877-78. It will be observed that more than one-half of the emigrants came from the North-Western Provinces, more than one-fourth from Oudh, and nearly one-sixth from Behar, and that only 472 emigrants altogether were recruited elsewhere. The recruits from Bengal were, as usual, few in number. Of the total number of emigrants, 2,179 were Mussulmans and 13,686 Hindoos, and, of the latter, 1,450 were returned as Brahmins, 5,296 as agriculturists, 595 as artizans, and 6,345 as belonging to low castes.

16. One steamer and 32 sailing vessels were engaged in the conveyance of emigrants during the year, against one steamer and 37 sailing vessels in 1877-78, and the average number of emigrants carried by each vessel was 444 against 486 in 1877-78. With one exception, complete information has been received in regard to all the voyages. The death-rate was, on the whole, less than in the previous season. The highest percentage (4.46), which occurred on board the Plassey, is ascribed to an outbreak of measles. Cholera made its appearance on three vessels, causing 15 deaths in all. The disease was most fatal on the Leonidas, on which nine deaths occurred among 18 emigrants attacked. The voyages appear to have been made in good time, except in the cases of the Jorwar (111 days to Guadeloupe) and the Lightning and the Sylhet (111 days and 108 days respectively to Demerara). In all other cases the voyage to Guadeloupe and Demerara occupied less than 100 days. The steamer employed during the year was despatched with 709 emigrants to Surinam, and accomplished the voyage in 66 days.

17. The number of emigrants who returned from the colonies during the year, the amount of their acknowledged savings, and the mortality during the voyage, are shown in the following statement—

COLONIES.	Number of ships.	Number of souls.	MORTALITY.		SAVINGS.
			Deaths.	Per cent.	Aggregate amount.	Average amount.
					Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Mauritius	4	1,402	13	0.93	2,37,567 0 0	162 5 0

Total ...	9	3,264	66	2.03	6,51,857 1 10	199 11 4

In 1877-78 the number of return emigrants was 2,544, the aggregate savings amounted to Rs. 4,72,927, and the average savings to Rs. 185-14-4. The very high percentage of mortality shown against the vessel which brought back the Natal emigrants last year is accounted for by the small number of passengers on board, the number of deaths having been four only. Looking, however, to the very sickly condition of the emigrants, as separately reported, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it a matter for regret that no medical officer was provided for the vessel.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 800 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such resale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares opium for the year 1878-79, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 4,971 chests of Benares opium of the season 1878-79, 3,000 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary Benares opium of the season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 3,000 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1880, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

			Chests.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY FOR THE YEAR 1878

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL

Calcutta, the 5th December 1879

READ—

The report of the Calcutta Municipality for the year 1878

Read also—

The Resolution on the report for the year 1877.

THE report for 1877 was dated the 27th September and received by Government on the 29th October. The Lieutenant-Governor in reviewing that report commented on the great delay in its submission—ten months after the termination of the year which it embraced. The report for 1878 is dated the 11th October, but was received by Government on the 18th October, only eleven days earlier than the report for the preceding year. It is much to be regretted that the Corporation cannot prepare their report with greater punctuality.

2. During the year the office of Chairman of the Corporation was held by Mr. C. T. Metcalfe from 1st January to 15th November, and by the present Chairman, Mr. W. M. Souttar, from that date to the close of the year.

Officers of the Corporation.

Baboo Sreenath Ghose was Vice-Chairman and Mr. R. Turnbull Secretary, Dr. Payne Health Officer, and Mr. J. Kimber Engineer, throughout the year. The conduct of the Collector, Baboo Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, was considered by the Sub-Committee, who enquired into the working of the department, to have been "unsatisfactory, suspicious, and culpably negligent, and that of his brother-in-law, Judoo Nath Chuckerbutty, fraudulent and dishonest." He was accordingly replaced on the 6th September by Baboo Chunder Seekur Bose. Mr. Pedler was gas and water analyst. Four elections for filling up vacancies in the representation of Wards Nos. 13, 15, 16, and 17 were held during the year, and seven Commissioners were appointed by Government to replace an equal number of vacancies among Government nominees.

3. The Commissioners held four quarterly meetings and two adjourned quarterly meetings; six special and thirteen special general meetings, besides 132 Committee meetings. Meetings of the Commissioners. The total number of meetings therefore held during the year was 157. The attendance of the elected Commissioners at these meetings appear to have been fair; four Commissioners attended over 100 meetings, seven between 50 and 100 meetings, seven between 30 and 50, thirteen between 10 and 29; fifteen attended less than ten meetings, and two attended none. Of the nominated Commissioners, one attended 52 meetings, one 38, one 37, one 22, and the rest between one and thirteen meetings. Considering that most of the Commissioners are men of business, the attendance of many of them, especially of the elected Commissioners, is creditable. At the same time two of the Commissioners wholly neglected their duties, whilst fifteen performed them in a very insufficient manner.

4. The Standing Committees, by the aid of which the work of administration was previously carried on, were combined during the year in a single Committee called the Municipal organization. Town Council. It resulted from this that almost the whole of the Commissioners were members of the Town Council, and the advantage to be derived from a Sub-Committee delegated to dispose of the less important business and prepare questions for the general meetings was in a great measure lost owing to the size of the Council. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the newly-elected Commissioners have taken steps to remedy this defect and to reduce the Town Council to a more workable size; but at the same time His Honor sees no reason to change the opinion he expressed in the resolution on the report for 1877, that the burden of managing the municipality is unequally distributed by confiding all such work to a single Committee charged with the superintendence of all branches of administration.

5. The Commissioners have effected reforms in some of the more important departments of the Municipality. The system of collecting the rates and taxes by a paid collector, which was introduced by the Justices in 1876, was found, by a Special Committee appointed during the year under review, to be fraught with gross defects and abuses in its working. It was accordingly abandoned, and the former plan of entrusting the collection of the dues to an agency paid by commission was reverted to; it is reported that it is working satisfactorily. The Night-soil Department was also revised and a new scale of fees was adopted, in order to meet the deficit which the working of the department under the old scale entailed. The scale is described as tentative, and any surplus it may yield is to be applied to lowering the rates upon the poorer classes.

6. The subject of the management of the municipal markets also engaged much of the attention of the Commissioners, and a Special Committee was appointed to enquire into their working. The Committee met several times and examined a large number of witnesses who brought to light gross abuses. It is to be regretted that the report of the Committee, which was appointed in 1877, was not ready for submission by the close of 1878. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the results of the labours of the Committee will be made public before long. He is, however, glad to learn that several changes have in the meantime been made with the object of ameliorating the management of the markets, and that a Visiting Committee has been appointed to inspect them and to suggest improvements.

7. As the huts in the town had never been properly numbered, assessed, and registered, their assessment was undertaken and completed during the year after six months' arduous labour. Retrenchments in establishment were made to the extent of Rs. 89,100 per annum, and a carefully framed code of bye-laws was passed with the sanction of Government.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find from the present report that the finances of the Municipality continued during the year under report to show very unsatisfactory results. In the Resolution on the report for 1877, the attention of the Commissioners was pointedly drawn to the necessity of improving the state of the municipal finances, and of introducing the reforms which were so urgently needed in every branch of the Municipality. This Resolution bears date the 2nd December 1878, when the operations of the year were drawing to a close. The Commissioners now explain that "the debt and deficit of the preceding year,—the retarded collections owing to an unfortunate change in the form of rate bills, which threw back the writing of the bills for several months,—the enquiry into the abuses of the Collectorate coming in the middle of the year, and necessarily affecting the collections,—the excess expenditure over budget grants, partly incurred by the Chairman without authority, and partly sanctioned by the Commissioners in consequence of pressing but unforeseen demands,—all these circumstances tended to disturb seriously the equilibrium between income and expenditure, which the Commissioners have endeavoured to restore in 1879 by having recourse on the one hand to retrenchment and economy, and on the other to the full measure of the house-rate sanctioned by the law." The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that the Commissioners have thus fully recognized the absolute necessity of restoring the condition of the finances, and placing them upon a sound basis. The high prices, which the municipal loans command in the money market, indicate clearly that the public has confidence in the future of the City of Calcutta and in its ability to discharge all its pecuniary obligations, and the Corporation owe it to themselves, to their creditors, and to the Government, to administer their finances in such a manner as to do nothing to shake this confidence.

9. The following statement shows the actual revenue of the Municipality for the year 1878, as compared with that of the previous year :—

10. This statement differs from that in paragraph 15 of the report, as it includes the Police-rate which produced Rs. 2,40,296; the Government contribution to the Police, Rs. 94,388, and miscellaneous police receipts aggregating Rs. 59,252. These, added to the total shown by the report, Rs. 25,86,629, amount to the figures given above, Rs. 29,80,665. Adding to this the opening balance, viz. Rs. 2,61,743 cash, in the hands of the Commissioner of Police Rs. 18,458, stores in stock valued at Rs. 4,34,587, and advances recoverable less deposits due Rs. 56,415, the sum of Rs. 6,50,000 raised by loans, and the miscellaneous receipts under capital account Rs. 5,405, the total amount at the disposal of the Commissioners during the year is raised to Rs. 44,07,273.

11. The receipts fell short of the budget estimate by nearly 2½ lakhs, a result which was mainly due to the failure of the collecting department. It is remarked that the enquiry into the working of the Collector's office in the middle of the year materially contributed to this. Comparing the outstanding balances at the beginning of the year with those at its close, the figures are—

		31st December 1877.	31st December 1878.	Increase in balance.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
House-rate	...	22,615	1,88,585	1,65,970

Night-soil fees	...	37,580	1,32,239	94,659
Total		1,05,357	5,18,539	4,13,182

12. It must be borne in mind that these are the arrears after deducting not merely the remissions made during the year, but also all amounts transferred to the Warrant Department, or in other words, all demands the collection of which involves any delay or difficulty. The Collector's department is only responsible for what may be considered the routine work of collection, and the above figures show that the delay in carrying out this work reduced the balance of the Corporation at the end of the year by about four lakhs of rupees. If the increase in the outstanding balance be added to the actual collections, and the total thus obtained compared with the budget estimates, the former generally exceed the forecast made at the beginning of the year, and the deficit of income as compared with the budget is not therefore due to sanguine estimates, but to defective management and control of the collections.

13. The Warrant Department, on the contrary, so far as the figures show, had its work well in hand in all branches except the collection of night-soil fees, as the following figures show :—

		on 31st December 1877.	on 31st December 1878.	Increase.	Decrease.

Add expenditure on account of police ...	4,33,982		4,16,858
Total	27,13,945		33,47,070

It will thus be seen that the actual expenditure exceeded the income by Rs. 3,66,405. Had the collections been properly made and not allowed to fall into arrears, there would have been a small surplus.

15. The excess of actual expenditure was met by spending within the year Rs. 2,30,000 less under the capital account, than the sum borrowed and received as capital receipts from miscellaneous sources ; by reducing the advances outstanding from Rs. 64,352 to Rs. 28,950 ; by increasing the debt and deposit account from Rs. 7,936 to Rs. 83,416, and by a slight reduction of the cash balance.

16. The financial results of the year cannot, however, be correctly determined without taking into consideration the very heavy outstandings which were left unpaid at the close of the year. The General Fund completed the year with actual liabilities of no less than Rs. 5,71,355 which had to be paid during the year 1879 : of this amount Rs. 1,81,206 were due on account of interest on debentures, Rs. 1,15,666 as contribution to the Debenture Loan Sinking Fund ; Rs. 4,707 were due as interest on Government loans, and Rs. 8,810 as contribution to the Sinking Funds of those loans ; Rs. 80,000 were due as the contribution to the Pauper Hospital, and Rs. 54,373 to the Bank of Bengal. On the other hand, during the year this fund discharged on account of 1877—

	Rs.
Interest and Sinking Fund	2,63,218
Other charges	54,410
Debts and deposits repaid	1,59,639
Total	4,77,267

The cash balance at the close of the year shewed an improvement of Rs. 13,211 ; adding this to the liabilities of 1877 paid in 1878, and deducting the total from the liabilities of 1878 left to be liquidated in 1879, it appears that the General Fund finished the year some Rs. 80,000 poorer than it was at the commencement. Had the collections, however, been kept up to the mark, i.e. had there been no increase in the uncollected balance of the house-rate and of night-soil fees, the outstanding debts would have been considerably reduced, though not entirely liquidated.

17. It appears from paragraph 32 of the remarks of the Vice-Chairman on the Auditors' report that, out of the balance of Rs. 3,20,824 due on these two accounts, Rs. 2,64,873 had been adjusted up to the date (not stated) of his remarks; and as the house-rate has been raised to the maximum in 1879, and considerable economies have been effected in establishment, there ought to be a very large revenue under the head of General Fund during the current year. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the outstanding liabilities will have been all cleared off, and that the fund will also close the year without any outstanding debts of the character specially enumerated in the preceding paragraph.

18. The Water-rate Fund, in spite of the reduction from $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., was in a more satisfactory financial position. Although the uncollected balance increased by Rs. 66,484, it was able to pay off Rs. 1,74,070, interest and sinking fund contributions on account of the year 1877, and Rs. 3,45,661 out of Rs. 3,83,140 due on the same account for the current year. There was a considerable saving in expenditure during the year, and this fund is in a solvent condition.

19. The Lighting-rate Fund discharged all its liabilities, which are only on account of current expenditure, no loans being chargeable to this fund. The balance in hand was reduced from Rs. 63,052 to Rs. 28,066, but, on the other hand, the outstanding balance increased from Rs. 10,399 to Rs. 50,186.

20. The expenditure under capital account was as follows:—

	Rs.
Construction of drainage	3,17,584
Ditto of latrines	47,000
Repair of roads excavated for drainage works	50,000
Construction of additional filters at Pultah	3,100
Preliminary charges for the doubling of the water-supply	7,515
Converting a latrine into a water-closet at the New Market	303

21. The Municipality raised the following loans during the year 1878:—

	Rs.
Loan raised on debentures bearing interest at 5 per cent. for the extension of drainage	6,00,000
Loan for preliminary expenses for the doubling of water-supply	50,000
Total	6,50,000*

Adding to this, the amount of the loans existing at the close of 1877, viz. Rs. 1,50,55,934-14-2, the total loan liabilities of the Municipality rose to Rs. 1,57,05,934-14-2. During the year, however, the sum of Rs. 33,604-12 was paid towards the redemption of the market loans, thus reducing the aggregate loan liability to Rs. 1,56,72,330-2-2.

22. The total amount at the credit of the Sinking Funds was Rs. 29,98,490-12-8. Of this sum, Rs. 13,98,224-1 are invested in $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Government securities in the hands of the Comptroller-General; Rs. 15,57,004-7-4 partly invested in 4 per cent. Government securities and partly in 6 per cent. Municipal Debentures in the custody of the trustees of the Municipal Loan Reserve Fund; Rs. 52,413-10-5 in the hands of the Comptroller-General of Accounts, and Rs. 20,848-7-9 in those of the aforesaid trustees. It is understood that since the close of the year the Municipal Commissioners have finally accepted the terms on which the Government of India have offered to consolidate the Government loans.

* In addition to this, there were certain miscellaneous receipts under capital account amounting to Rs. 5,405.

Municipal rates.

23. The rates of the past, as compared with those of the previous year, were—

			1877.		1878.
House-rate	...	...	7	per cent.	9
Water-rate	...	...	4½	"	3½
Police-rate	...	...	2	"	2½
Lighting-rate	...	...	2	"	2

The percentage of collections fell from 86·6 to 73·3; the cause of the failure has been already commented on.

24. During the year the assessment of houses and lands in 11 out of the 18 wards of the town was revised. In addition to this general work of revision, the assessment of 5,714 houses in different parts of the town was enhanced on account of the construction of new or additional buildings. In the case of 494 houses the assessment was reduced, owing to partial or entire demolition of houses, removal of tenants, &c. The financial result of these operations was an increase in the assessed value of property in the town amounting to Rs. 4,38,023, and a decrease amounting to Rs. 68,860, or a net increase of Rs. 3,69,163. In the course of the assessment it was found that the value of property along the Strand Bank road has of late years considerably increased.

Assessment.

25. The total number of municipal licenses granted was 26,626. Of these, 157 were issued to joint-stock companies; 1,450 to merchants, brokers, &c.; 208 to barristers, attorneys, and pleaders; 10 to surgeons; 127 to hotel-keepers, manufacturers, &c.; 127 to mookhtears and law agents; 121 to licentiates of medicine, apothecaries and veterinary surgeons; 83 to owners of cargo-boats, and 345 to brokers and dealers in precious stones. The rest were issued to petty dealers, pawn-brokers, money-changers, native doctors, kobirages and midwives, &c. The income derived from this source amounted to Rs. 2,55,127 during the year.

License Department.

26. During the past year the supply of filtered water in the town was on an average 7,260,320 gallons daily, being an increase in the annual daily average of 541,054 gallons over that of the previous year.

Water-supply.

Seven hundred and sixty-five premises were connected with the water-supply during the year—762 for domestic and 3 for business purposes. The total number of premises now connected with the water-supply system is 11,177.* In addition to this, there was a supply of nearly a million gallons per day of unfiltered water, which was used in flushing drains and watering the streets. Although the total quantity of water thus supplied was so large, yet it is believed to be still inadequate for the requirements of the town. After deducting the quantity consumed in flushing drains, watering the streets, and consumption outside the town limits, the people get about three gallons per head per diem. This barely suffices for their cooking and drinking; and for all other domestic purposes they have to draw their supplies from tanks, wells, and the river. The Commissioners have prepared a scheme which is expected to give an additional supply of eight million gallons of pure water daily at a cost of thirty-six lakhs of rupees. This scheme, when carried out, is designed to afford a total of about twelve gallons per head, which, though possibly not sufficient for all the requirements of the people, will obviate the necessity of their using impure water for domestic purposes.

The water analyst reports that the quality of the filtered water supplied by the Municipality was far purer than that of the majority of large towns in Europe.

* There is a discrepancy between the figures given in the Engineer's report, which have been here adopted, and those given in paragraph 68 of the Commissioners' report, where the number of premises connected is said to be 11,583.

27. In 1878, 64,247 lineal feet, or 12·16 miles of new sewers were constructed. The total length of sewers now constructed amounts to 139·33 miles,* still leaving 48·46 miles to be constructed. The number of premises connected with the street sewers during the year was 1,308, thus raising the total number of houses so connected to 12,898.

Drainage.

The important question of how to dispose of the storm water passing through the town sewers without contaminating the waters of the Circular Canal was discussed between the Calcutta Municipality and the Canal authorities during the year. A scheme has been devised and is now being carried out by which the storm water will be conveyed to the Salt Water Lakes by a separate system of sewers and channels, arranged so as to provide at the same time for the drainage of the suburbs, which lie between the Canal and the Circular Road, and of certain portions of Baliaghatta and Entally.

28. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with satisfaction the account of the progress made during the year in the direction of bustee reform. About 14 miles of the most offensive drains which formerly intersected these neighbourhoods have been filled up, a work which has contributed materially to improve the sanitary condition of what had until lately formed the most noxious portions of the city. The sites of most of the drains have been converted into roads and so pipe-sewered as to drain the adjoining lands which are consequently now not so damp as they formerly used to be. Several roads have been made through these bustees by their owners, and the width of others has been increased so as to make them accessible to conservancy carts. More than a thousand privies have been built in the bustees for the accommodation of the inhabitants, and for the prevention of the defilement of waste lands.

Bustee improvement.

29. Improved conservancy arrangements have also been made during the year for the cleanliness of gowala bustees or hamlets inhabited by milkmen. A large number of gowalas have been removed from the town, and the cow-houses of others have been improved. The refuse from the existing sheds is daily removed by the Conservancy Department at a charge of four annas per head of cattle.

30. In consequence of a defect in the law, which does not make the filling up of foul wells compulsory, the operations in regard to wells have been limited to the filling up of those which the owners give permission to fill up. During the year under report 38 foul tanks were taken up by the Engineer's Department for the purpose of filling them up with town sweepings. Of these, it is reported, 31 have been completed. Altogether 66 tanks have been filled up in this way. Several private tanks have been at the same time improved through the agency of the Conservancy Department at the cost of the owners. Much, however, still remains to be done in this direction. It appears from paragraph 72 of the report that 518 tanks require to be filled up, besides a number of hollows which, though not strictly tanks, are receptacles of filthy water and require to be reclaimed even more urgently than tanks. The area represented by the above number of tanks is 454·43 acres, with a capacity of 422,035,416 cubic feet. The materials available for filling them, namely the sweepings of the town, have been estimated at 15,075 cubic feet per diem, but after making allowance for shrinkage and contraction, these figures must be reduced to 3,359 cubic feet per diem, or about 1,200,000 cubic feet per annum. It will therefore take an indefinite period before the Commissioners can in this manner fill up all the tanks in the town. They represent, however, that there is no immediate necessity for such general reclamation; it would be inexpedient to have all the tanks filled up at once, until the water-supply of the town is so extended as to meet the whole of the requirements of the people. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes, however, that filthy tanks will be filled up as fast as materials become available, and that endeavours will be made as much as possible to improve the others.

Reclamation of tanks and wells.

* These figures, which have been taken from the Engineer's report, differ from those given in paragraph 58 of the Commissioners' report.

31. This department is now under the supervision of the Engineer. Eleven hundred nightmen are now employed in the work of removal of the soil. The total number of privies attended to by these men amount to 33,155, thus giving 30 privies to each man to clean.

32. During the past year a new contract for 21 years was entered into with the Oriental Gas Company. It provided for the thorough illumination of the town at a reduced cost of Rs. 4-13-4 per light per mensem. The former cost was Rs. 6 per mensem. The total number of gas-lamps lighted in the town during the year at the cost of the Municipality was 2,835, and the total number of oil-lamps was 751. The illuminating power of the gas supplied during the year was 14·01 candles, and its quality was reported by the analyst to have been very good.

33. The number of deaths registered in the town during the year was 16,396, against 13,704 in the previous year. This gives a death-rate of 38·1 per thousand of the population, a percentage higher than that of 1875, which was the highest year of mortality ever known in Calcutta since the drainage was improved and a pure system of water-supply was introduced in the town; but there is ample evidence to show that the year was an exceptionally unhealthy one over the whole of Lower Bengal, and there is no reason to suppose that this increase as compared with preceding years is due to any increase of insanitary condition in Calcutta.

34. The following statement shows the amount of mortality from the most prevalent diseases :—

Causes of mortality.					Number of deaths.
Cholera	..	..	...	...	1,338
Diarrhoea and dysentery	...	...	...	...	2,010

Small-pox was remarkably prevalent, but the epidemic, after raging for some months of the present year, is understood to have now entirely passed away.

The deaths during the year among the various races who inhabit Calcutta were—

Of this number—

37. The Commissioners devote a portion of their report to an account of the proceedings for the assessment and collection of the license tax in Calcutta, and the report of the Chairman is forwarded as an annexure. The appeal benches held 102 sittings and disposed of 2,375 objections. The Government has already in the Resolution on the License Tax report of the Board of Revenue expressed its sense of the services rendered by the Commissioners who at the sacrifice of their own time and leisure sat on these benches. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot, however, admit the force of the objection to which so much weight is attached, that the Commissioners could not co-operate with the Chairman in assisting in the assessment of the tax "as they could not consistently perform the functions of assessors and appellate authority at the same time." This argument loses all its weight unless the same Commissioners who assisted the Chairman in revising the assessment afterwards sat upon the appellate bench. As this could have been in no way necessary, the Lieutenant-Governor must express his regret that much valuable local information was thereby lost to the Chairman.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution, with a copy of the report, be forwarded to the Government of India in the Home, Revenue and Agricultural Department, for information.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Chairman of the Corporation for the information of the Commissioners, and that copies of it, together with that of the report, be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, to the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, and to the Surgeon-General, Bengal.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that copies of it, together with that of the report, be distributed as usual to public officers and departments who have hitherto been supplied with the report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—INLAND EMIGRATION,

Calcutta, the 3rd December 1879.

READ—

Report on Inland Emigration for the year 1878-79.

THE office of Superintendent of Emigration was held by Dr. Vincent Richards during the whole of the year under report. The report is submitted by Dr. Grant, the permanent incumbent of the appointment, who has returned from furlough since the close of the year.

2. In the first paragraph of the resolution on the report for 1877-78, reference was made to the difficulty experienced in procuring accurate or complete statistics in the case of sirdari gangs of coolies proceeding independently (class C) to the labour districts, and the necessity for obtaining more accurate statistics both of sirdari and of contractors' coolies was strongly insisted on. Registering officers were accordingly directed during the past year to forward to the Superintendent of Emigration every registration effected, and abstracts of all the contracts executed by emigrants with recruiters and garden sirdars, and with the view of supplementing these arrangements, and further securing the accuracy of the statistics of district registration, new forms of returns were prescribed, which will give full particulars regarding all the coolies registered in the several districts of Bengal. It may be hoped that in future the returns will show far greater accuracy than has hitherto been attained.

3. The provisions of the Inland Emigration Act having been extended to the district of Chittagong and to the Chittagong Hill Tracts by Act II of 1878, the Magistrate of Chittagong and the Deputy Commissioner of the Hill Tracts were made ex-officio Inspectors of Laborers, and an annual rate of 12 annas was fixed as the rate to be paid by all employers of labour for each labourer serving in those districts under a contract to labour. The first annual report of the Magistrate of Chittagong was received in May last, and has been separately disposed of. Various modifications of the rules under the Act were effected during the year with the object of improving generally the working of the department. The most important of them, which were designed for reducing the risks to their health to which emigrants are exposed during the river passage to the labour districts, will be noticed further on.

4. The number of contractors licensed to recruit and forward labourers was twenty, or six less than last year. Three men retired from business during the year, and two were refused a renewal of their licenses, while two others had their licenses practically suspended for considerable periods, in consequence of the unsatisfactory manner in which their business was conducted. The system adopted by some of the Calcutta firms interested in the supply of labour to the tea districts, of establishing depôts, and obtaining contractors licenses for their own special agents, appears likely to produce marked results on the character of recruiting operations in Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Dr. Grant that a system which places the supply of labour more immediately in the hands of those interested in the work for which the labourers are wanted has decided advantages over the system of employing professional agents hitherto in vogue.

5. The number of recruiters licensed during the year was 222 less than in the previous year. Some improvement is observed in the proportion of licenses cancelled, the percentage being 3·40 against 4·10 in 1877-78. The marked falling off in the percentage of cancellations in the case of Mr. Hendry's recruiters seems to indicate greater care in the selection of his men.

6. The following statement shows the number of emigrants and their dependents registered and transmitted through the Calcutta depôts, and the casualties attending their progress from the time of registration to that of arrival at their destination :—

The emigrants despatched to Assam from the Calcutta depôts via Dhubri have been excluded from the last totals, owing to absence of information regarding the casualties between Dhubri and their final destination.

7. The following statements show the number of class C emigrants recruited by garden-sirdars and forwarded to the labour districts independently of contractors' depôts, the losses by the way, and the total numbers reaching their final destination :—

8. These statements exhibit in a comprehensive form the losses from all causes at various stages of the journey sustained by the different recruiting and contracting agencies, from the time when the coolies were collected together till the time when they landed in the labour districts. The losses are due to detention by the authorities, to discharges, to rejections for unfitness, to incapacity to proceed on the journey on account of sickness or other infirmity, to desertions, and to death. The first statement shows that 25,712 coolies were collected together for the purpose of being registered, that 504 out of that number were lost to the recruiters before the remainder were despatched to Calcutta, and that 497 were lost on the way down; making a total loss of 1,001 souls. At Calcutta 1,780, who were in depôt at the close of the preceding year, were added to the remainder, giving a total in the Calcutta depôts of 26,493. Out of these, 2,938 were lost to the recruiters at Calcutta, and 4 were lost on the way to Goalundo, reducing the number that arrived at Goalundo to 21,541. With the addition of those left in depôt here at the close of the preceding year, the number rose to 21,839 souls. Of these, 220 were lost at Goalundo and 856 on the river journey; the losses amongst those who proceeded to Assam by way of Dhubri being unaccounted for. It appears, therefore, that out of a total of 30,229 persons collected for the purpose of emigrating to the tea districts, 5,193, or about one-sixth, were lost for the object for which they were collected, owing to the casualties enumerated above. Of the total number of persons so collected, 14,766 were brought together by depôt recruiters, who make this business their means of livelihood, 13,024 by garden-sirdar recruiters, who act directly in the interest of the tea companies, and 2,439 by garden-sirdars (class C). Six were born on the way who have not been taken into account in these figures. Of the 20,792 coolies forwarded through depôts who arrived at their destination, 10,349 belonged to the first and 10,443 to the second class. That is, 70 per cent. of the depôt recruiters' coolies, and 80 per cent. of the garden-sirdars' coolies, arrived at their destination. This may be accepted, though perhaps not absolutely, as an indication of the superiority of the latter method of recruiting over the former, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe, from the report under review, that the system is gaining favour. The numbers recruited in this manner were—

In 1878-79	...	...	...	11,917

9. In considering the question of mortality among the coolies recruited, some margin must probably be allowed in reference to those who are "left behind." In the death-rates of the reports they cannot well be included; yet it is much to be feared that some of those who are reported to be left behind do not survive to return to their homes. The recorded mortality is based upon the following figures:—

Out of 25,712 registered in the districts, 18 died, giving a death-rate of 0·07 on the whole, 0·04 on class A emigrants, and 0·10 on class B emigrants.

Out of 25,208 despatched to Calcutta, 32 died, giving a death-rate of 0·12 on the whole, 0·14 on class A, and 0·11 on class B emigrants.

Out of 26,493 in the Calcutta depôts, 602 died, giving a death-rate of 2·27 on the whole, 2·17 on class A, and 2·36 on class B emigrants.

Out of 21,839 in the Goalundo depôts, 167 died, giving a death-rate of 0·76 on the whole, 0·54 on class A, and 0·98 on class B emigrants.

The numbers embarked for Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet were respectively 15,513, 5,829, and 277. Out of the Assam emigrants, 589 died; out of those for Cachar, 232; and out of those for Sylhet, two died. The percentages were as follows:—

	On the whole.	Class A.	Class B.
For Assam	3·79	3·88	3·67
For Cachar	3·98	3·30	4·28
For Sylhet	0·72	...	1·04

These comparisons, on the whole, tell unfavourably on the class B emigrants, as under nearly all conditions their death-rate is higher than in the case of the class A emigrants.

10. The total number registered by licensed recruiters (class A) was less than that of the previous year, being only 13,795, as against 18,377 in 1877-78. The districts of Chota Nagpore were the chief sources of supply; 60·48 per cent. having been registered there, and the rest in other districts. As compared with 1877-78, a larger proportion of this class of coolies was registered in Chota Nagpore, and a smaller proportion in the 24-Pergunnahs. This appears to indicate a more honest system of recruitment than that which prevailed in 1877-78, but a fuller knowledge of all the circumstances is, as Dr. Grant points out, needed before any definite conclusion can be arrived at on the subject. Of the whole number registered, 13,114, including one born on the way, were admitted into depôt in Calcutta. In the interval between the registration of the coolies and their arrival at the Calcutta depôts—

209 or 1·52 per cent.	...	...	...	were detained.
44 „ 0·31 „	...	...	...	„ discharged.
29 „ 0·21 „	...	...	...	„ left behind.
376 „ 2·72 „	...	...	...	deserted.
24 „ 0·17 „	...	...	...	died.

A loss of 682, or nearly 5 per cent. of the total number, thus occurred before the coolies reached Calcutta. Baboo A. T. Ganguli, 36 per cent. of whose coolies deserted, was very rightly refused a renewal of his license.

11. Of the 11,917 coolies registered by garden-sirdar recruiters (class B), 11,599, including one born on the way, arrived at the Calcutta depôts. Of the remaining 319—

35 or 0·29 per cent.	...	...	...	were detained.
27 „ 0·22 „	...	...	...	„ left behind.
26 „ 0·21 „	...	...	...	died.

In 1878-79 the proportion of those under this class who absconded during the year was nearly double, while the death-rate was only a fourth of that of 1877-78.

12. Altogether 26,494 coolies, as against 24,068 in 1877-78, were temporarily accommodated in the Sealdah and Entally depôts in the course of the year. The following statement shows some of the chief points in connection with them:—

	1877-78.		1878-79.
	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.
Rejections, including relatives	1,203	5·0 nearly	852	3·21
Ditto, excluding ditto	869	3·61	449	1·7 nearly
Transferred to other depôts	493	2·06	64	0·24
Discharged, exclusive of transfers	892	3·0	711	2·7
Absconded	1,007	4·18	707	2·68
Deaths from cholera	202	0·83	488	1·76
Total deaths	315	1·30	602	2·27

13. It is satisfactory to find that the percentage of emigrants rejected at the Calcutta depôts as physically unfit to emigrate has diminished from nearly five per cent. in 1877-78 to 3.21 per cent. in 1878-79. In the Resolution on the last report, the Lieutenant-Governor expressed his opinion that the very large percentage of rejections was due to some serious defect in the system of examination of the coolies in the mofussil, and the particular attention of the emigration officers was directed to the subject. The measures adopted to secure greater strictness in the examinations in the mofussil appear to have produced very favourable results; and the Superintendent has been able to report that, from the coolies sent down from several places, there have been no rejections in Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the efforts which have commenced so well will be continued without relaxation.

14. The mortality in the Calcutta depôts during the year was considerably larger than that in the preceding year. The percentage of deaths from cholera was 1.76, and from all causes 2.27, against 0.83 and 1.30 respectively in 1877-78. This increase is attributed to the general unhealthiness of these Provinces during the year, rather than to any special circumstances connected with the system of conducting emigration operations. The acknowledged unhealthiness of the Sealdah and Entally depôts has, however, recently been the subject of special consideration by Government, and attention has been given to the improvement of the water-supply and other arrangements at these depôts.

15. The number of class C coolies, or those recruited by garden-sirdars authorized to recruit not more than 20 laborers and to proceed independently of the licensed depôts, was only 2,439, as against 12,259 in 1877-78. The majority of them were recruited in the Chota Nagpore Division. Of these, 1,064 proceeded by way of Goalundo, some for Assam and others for Cachar, but none for Sylhet; and the rest, or 1,375, proceeded by other routes, probably via Kooshtea, to Cachar and Sylhet. The casualties on the way are shown in the statements in paragraph 8 above.

16. The mortality in the depôts was, as has been shown above, very heavy; that on the river passage was still heavier. The mortality on board steamers and flats is exhibited in the report in the form given below:—

Total number of trips ...	...	65	71	63	75
Ditto without cholera ...	...	39	53	35	35
Ditto souls conveyed ...	...	16,464	14,646	17,366	16,495
Average percentage of total deaths ..	...	1.70	1.46	2.96	3.78
Average length of passage .	Days. Hours.	Days. Hours.	Days. Hours.	Days. Hours.	Days. Hours.
Ditto number carried each trip ...	...	15 17½	16 19	18 17	15 21
	...	253	200	275	219

The Lieutenant-Governor approves of Dr. Grant's decision to defer a fuller examination of this subject till the special report already called for is submitted, and His Honor will look forward with interest to the receipt of that report, as well as of the special report called for on the excessive mortality in the depôts.

17. With the view of lessening the mortality on board steamers, many useful suggestions made from time to time have been adopted. At the suggestion of Dr. DeRenzy, Sanitary Commissioner for Assam, the diet scale of the coolies has recently been altered in the hope that the proportion of the different articles now in use will prove more suitable to the coolies than that formerly prescribed. The arrangements for the water-supply of coolies have been re-modelled, in order to reduce the chances of the coolies drinking impure water to a minimum. For this purpose the number of tanks was increased from two to four; the number and size of their taps were similarly increased; and their covers were better secured to preserve the water in them from risk of contamination. An improvement was also made in the system of supplying water for latrine and bathing purposes; and a special apparatus, consisting of a water-trough with a range of taps and a board for washing clothes on, and a couple of pumps for the supply of an abundance of fresh water for drinking and washing, were introduced. Measures have also been adopted to secure that the water-supply arrangements are constantly inspected and reported on, and by this means the dangers arising from impurity of the water-supply should be almost, if not entirely, eliminated.

18. Emigration viâ Dhubri.—The total number of emigrants who used the Dhubri route during the year was 10,417, against 9,952 in the previous year, thus showing an increase of 465 emigrants in the year under review. Calculating that the aggregate number of emigrants received by the districts of Assam in 1878-79 was 24,939 as compared with 26,536 in 1877-78, the Superintendent of Emigration at Dhubri finds that in the former year about 40 per cent.; and in the latter about 36 per cent., of the emigrants to Assam passed through Dhubri, showing a relative, as well as an absolute, increase in the number that selected the Dhubri route in the past year. The number embarked fell off, as compared with the preceding year; but the deficiency was more than made good by the number marched up. Dr Grant points out that of 1,186 coolies who were transmitted from Calcutta viâ Dhubri to Assam, 325 are not mentioned in the returns received from Dhubri, having apparently marched through that station unreported and unnoticed, and suggests the necessity of adopting measures to remedy this defect in future. The new forms of way-bills which it is proposed to introduce for the use of batches marching to Dhubri should, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, provide an adequate check in this case.

19. Only 75 deaths from cholera occurred in the Dhubri depôts among over 10,000 emigrants who passed through; the rate of mortality being under 0.75 per cent. Mr. Campbell reports that about 90 per cent. of the deaths at the depôts were among patients who arrived ill with the disease, or were attacked shortly after arrival. Of the total number, 6,995, that embarked at Dhubri during the year, 170 or 2.43 per cent. died on the passage, chiefly of cholera. The death-rate during the previous year was 1.72. Mr. Campbell points out that the losses sustained during the journey to Dhubri from deaths, desertions, and other causes were comparatively trifling, as compared with the losses from similar causes among the emigrants who were subsequently embarked, while those who marched up beyond Dhubri suffered even greater losses than those who embarked. The fact that the coolies march up during the healthiest months of the year, viz December, January, and February, and that they are specially selected for the land journey, accounts in great measure for the low rate of mortality before reaching Dhubri.

20. Dr. Grant has referred to the probability, as deduced from the returns at present available, of the death-rate among coolies being influenced in some degree by the number of persons conveyed together. "It seems probable," he says, "that the percentage of deaths during transit, whether in steamers, flats, or boats, will under similar conditions be found, as a general rule, to be highest in the largest batches." If further observations should establish this hypothesis with any degree of certainty, and also show satisfactorily that cholera unquestionably prevails during certain months and almost disappears for the rest of the year, Dr. Grant's suggestions for restricting the size of the coolie batches and for fixing an emigration season will be fully considered.

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF WARDS' AND ATTACHED ESTATES
FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 9th December 1879.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of Wards' and Attached Estates for the year 1878-79.

THE present report, though not submitted till six weeks after the date prescribed by Government, has been forwarded at a much earlier date than the reports of previous years, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the stringent orders which have been issued by the Board for the punctual submission of the necessary returns will enable them in future to furnish the Government with a complete, as well as a punctual, review of this department of their administration. From the report for the past year no less than nine estates are excluded, in consequence of the returns not having been received. Of two other estates, which were released during the year, the returns are blank, as no collections were made during the period for which the estates were nominally under the management of the District Officers. But it is to be observed that no returns for these two estates were given in the previous year's report, and, as the estates were taken charge of in the year 1877, it would seem that no statistics regarding them have ever been furnished to Government. In the Resolution recorded upon the report of last year, the Lieutenant-Governor has recognized the difficulties which must attend the compilation of a report involving the receipt of so many separate returns; but it is not satisfactory to find that apparently in some instances estates may be taken charge of, managed, and released, without any returns of them being ever submitted at all. It is also to be regretted that, in the Narail estate in Jessore, which was taken in charge so long ago as 1870, the managers who have successively been appointed have as yet been unable to furnish any proper accounts of the share under the management of the Court.

2. Notwithstanding these instances of partial want of success, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the general excellence of the present report, and the evidence which it affords of the careful attention and administrative ability which have been displayed by the Court of Wards and its subordinate officers in dealing with the important interests committed to their charge. It should not be forgotten that the duties of the Court have to be carried out in the face of difficulties of no ordinary kind. If, in the great majority of cases, order has been evolved from chaos; if solvency has been substituted for pecuniary embarrassment; if debts have been paid off without crippling the ancestral property, and rent-rolls have been increased without injustice to the tenants, it must be acknowledged that the agency by which these reforms have been effected has justly earned the approval of Government, and the gratitude of the influential body with whose interests the operations of the Court are most closely connected—the zemindars of the Lower Provinces.

3. Up to the present time, a large portion of the benefits which the Court's administration confers has been given to the estates taken in charge at the expense of the general revenues of the country. An estate under the Court defrays the cost of the salaries of its own manager and his establishment; but it enjoys gratuitously the advantage of the supervision of the Collector, the Commissioner, and the Board of Revenue. The Secretary of State has desired that it may be considered whether some charge may not equitably be imposed upon these estates in view of the benefits which they derive from this superintendence, and an expression of the Board's opinion upon this question is now awaited by Government.

4. The number of estates under the charge of the Revenue authorities at the close of the year 1877-78 was 440.* Of these, 133 were released during the year under review, and 17 new estates were added, making a total of 324 estates under management during 1878-79. These were distributed as follow:—

Division.	Wards' estates	Attached estates.
Presidency	25	5
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar	22	0
Dacca	23	11
Chittagong	10	1
Patna	30	2
Bhagulpore	11	0
Orissa	10	2
Chota Nagpore	10	148

Of the attached estates shown in this table, 148 are petty estates sequestrated for debt in the Chota Nagpore Division. Of those estates, 45 have been brought under the provisions of the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates Act (VI of 1876), and the remaining 103 estates have been released from attachment since the close of the year.

5. Excluding the eleven estates from which no returns have been received, the current demand of Government revenue on all the estates under the charge of the Revenue authorities was Rs. 23,71,370, and the arrear demand was Rs. 5,18,222, making a total of Rs. 28,89,592. The payments of revenue amounted to Rs. 26,20,683, and the remissions to Rs. 3,041, leaving a balance of Rs. 2,73,125. It is to be observed that in these figures, as well as in those of the succeeding paragraphs, it is understood that the payments include some items properly belonging to the accounts of the following year, and consequently the totals of the payments, remissions, and balances do not agree with the total shown under the head of demand. It would have been better if this apparent discrepancy had been explained in the report. Nearly one-half of the total balance was due from a single estate in the Presidency Division, which was brought under management in the middle of the year. At the same time, since the title of Government to its revenue should take precedence of the claims of all other creditors, no arrears of this kind should be allowed to occur, and the Board have very properly issued a circular on the subject to the officers concerned. It affords a significant comment on the importance to Government of the somewhat stringent provisions of the present sale law, that it should be found that, in estates which are exempted from sale for arrears, the balances of unpaid revenue amount to nearly 10 per cent. on the demand, even though the estates are under the direct control of the officers of Government.

6. The total demand of rent due to superior landlords was Rs. 7,00,458, of which Rs. 4,85,836 were paid, and Rs. 193 remitted, leaving a balance of Rs. 2,14,488. This amount is in excess of the corresponding balance of the previous year, and the explanation given of this increase is not altogether satisfactory.

7. The current demand of rent due to the estates was Rs. 75,43,084, and the arrear demand on account of previous years amounted to Rs. 82,45,202, making a total of Rs. 1,57,88,286. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that these heavy arrears were considerably reduced, the collections of the year having reached the sum of Rs. 79,92,150, or 105 per cent. on the current demand. The collections in the Patna Division, which includes the great estate of Durbhunga, were especially good, amounting to no less than 119 per cent. The remissions were Rs. 20,93,093, of which above 18½ lakhs belonged to the two estates of Satkhira and Durbhunga. In the former of these estates the remissions were of merely a nominal character, as the accounts of previous years included large sums which were never really recoverable. In the Durbhunga estate, an amount of about three lakhs was remitted on account of such causes as failure of crops, reduction of rents, and death or desertion of ryots. The balance was Rs. 59,39,461, of which Rs. 26,56,154 represent current, and Rs. 32,83,307 arrear, balance. About three lakhs of this total were not realizable by law before the close of the year, above forty lakhs are in process of recovery, and the remainder is classed as irrecoverable or doubtful.

8. Under instructions from the Secretary of State, the Board were requested to include in their report figures showing the incidence of the road cess and public works cess upon the several estates under management, and the extent to which the estates had been reimbursed for these payments by recoveries from the ryots. This return has not been furnished in a complete form; but the required figures for 130 of the estates under the Court have been given in Appendix C, from which it appears that the estates were entitled to recover about 81 per cent. of the total Government demand on account of these cesses, and that about 83 per cent. of the recoverable amount was actually recovered. The Board remark that native proprietors managing their own estates are in a much better position than the Court of Wards for enforcing the realization of these demands; and it would therefore seem that there is little foundation for the complaint which has sometimes been made, that the law requires landholders to make payments which they have little prospect of afterwards recovering from their under-tenants and ryots.

9. The cost of management of wards' estates was 13 per cent. on the current demand, being somewhat higher than the percentage shown in last year's report. Attached estates were much more cheaply managed, the corresponding charge for them being only 4 per cent., a difference which is ascribed principally to the very low cost at which the extensive Sydupore Trust Estate is managed, this estate being let out in putnee. The total charges for management were Rs. 10,26,551 on a current demand of Rs. 78,59,795. The Board justly observe that no uniform percentage of cost can be looked for; but it seems desirable that in every case in which the charges exceed 20 per cent., a special report, with a view to their reduction, should be called for from the local authorities.

10. The result of the litigation of the year was generally satisfactory. Important suits were carried on in seven estates; and in four of these cases decisions were given in favour of the Court. The suits in the other three cases were still pending at the close of the year.

11. Burdwan Division.—The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to see that there has been no improvement in the collections on the Chakdighi estate, the condition of which was unfavourably noticed in the resolution on last year's report. The tenantry are stated to have had an exceedingly prosperous season, and as the estate has been in charge since 1874, any revision of the rent-roll which was necessary should have been long ago carried out. The large estate of Mysadul in Midnapore, with a gross rental of Rs. 4,35,652, and a net income of nearly two lakhs, came under management in February 1878. A large part of the estate having been farmed, the cost of management is small, and the collections of the year were satisfactory. Speedy measures should be taken for investing the large cash balance, if this has not already been done.

12. Presidency Division.—Of two important estates in this division, Paikpara and Narail, no returns for the year have been received. Seven-eighths of the Paikpara estate were released in June 1879, and the Collector's summary of the financial results of the Court of Wards' management deserves attention. He writes as follows:—

“This estate came under our charge in 1866, encumbered with a heavy debt of Rs. 14,64,679, and was released in 1879, with every debt discharged and satisfied, with additional landed property to the value of Rs. 56,402 purchased, and with Rs. 26,76,757, in Government securities in hand, and a clear cash balance of Rs. 2,89,000 on the 31st March last.”

It is greatly to be regretted that this fine property, for the improvement of which the officers of Government have laboured so long and so successfully, has not fallen into worthier hands. The present manager of the Narail estate was in charge for only about three months of the year, and could not be expected to furnish returns which his predecessors in office had for several years been unable to prepare. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, during the present year, a strenuous effort will be made to reduce the accounts of the estate to order, and to organize an efficient system for its future management. The remaining important estates in this division are those of Satkhira, Nuddea, and Nushirpore. In all these the expenses of management were small, and the collections of rent were satisfactory, except in Satkhira, where frequent changes in the office of manager caused some falling off. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with much satisfaction the marked improvement which has taken place in the estates in Moorshedabad, since the assumption of office by the present general manager.

13. Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division.—The attention of the Board should be drawn to the high cost of management in several of the Dinagapore estates in this division. The principal estate in the division is the Chaklajat, or zemindary property of the Rajah of Cooch Behar. This estate was successfully administered, and the high cost of management (32 per cent.) is due to operations undertaken for survey and re-settlement, which have resulted in a large increase of the rental.

14. Dacca Division.—The only large estate is that of Juggutkishore Acharjya in Mymensingh, which came under the charge of the Court in 1876, heavily burdened with debt. Above four lakhs have since been paid off, but a balance of nearly five lakhs still remains due, and the annual charge for interest is Rs. 33,914. The pendency of a suit in which the minor's title was contested has hitherto somewhat fettered the Court in the management of the property; but this suit has now been decided in the minor's favour, and as the net income of the estate is considerable, it may be hoped that the balance of debt will speedily be liquidated. The estate of Gungagovind Sein in Tipperah was released during the year, after having been in charge of the Court for six years, during which the annual net profits were raised from Rs. 11,484 to Rs. 17,446.

15. Chittagong Division.—The estates in this division call for no special remark. The estate of Romesh Chunder Chowdhry was taken charge of by the Court in December 1878, on the application of the minor's grandmother. The accounts are reported to be in a very confused state, and it is probable that a portion of the property will have to be sold to satisfy the outstanding debts.

16. Patna Division.—The importance of the Court's operations in this division will appear from the fact that the Government revenue of the estates in charge is Rs. 5,66,313, and that the current annual demand of rent is no less than Rs. 55,42,134. The major part of this is of course due to the returns of the great estate of Durbhunga, which has been released since the close of the year, the Maharajah having been formally installed in possession of his property in September last. The Deo estate in Gya, belonging to Maharajah Sir Joy Prokash Singh, which was taken charge of in 1877 at the owner's request, was restored to him at his instance in July last. The Maharajah apparently entertains insuperable objections to the sale of any portion of the property, though persistence in this course is only too likely to lead to the eventual sacrifice of the whole, as the debts on the estate amount to about ten lakhs of rupees.

The report contains a detailed and interesting account of the management of the Durbhunga estate during the year. Fair progress was made with the survey of the estate, and the irrigation works lately completed in the Khurruckpore division are reported to have been of great benefit. The rent-roll was increased by Rs. 26,737 during the year, and the collections amounted to 125 per cent. on the current demand, the figures being as follow :—

		Demand. Rs.	Collections. Rs.	Remissions. Rs.	Balance. Rs.
Current	...	21,65,734	27,16,212	3,09,092	18,05,444
Arrear	...	24,37,028
Total	...	46,02,762

The system of direct collections by circle officers, introduced in 1876-77, continued to work satisfactorily. The expenses of management, including the cost of the survey operations, were 15 per cent. on the actual collections. The litigation of the year was successful, 358 suits having been decided in favour of the Raj, and only 41 against it. The administration was attended by unfavourable results in only two particulars—in the realization of outstanding decrees, and in the recovery of Government cesses from under-tenants and ryots. On the whole, it may be said that the management was conducted upon sound principles efficiently carried out, and that the results are highly creditable to the manager and his subordinates.

The Narhan estate in the Durbhunga district was taken in charge by the Court in June 1877, with debts exceeding $5\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of rupees, the net income being about $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs. The debt has been reduced to a little more than $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, but unless a part of the estate is sold, a sacrifice which the family are very unwilling to incur, it will take 10 or 12 years to free the property from debt. The Board should insist upon more energy being shown in the collection of rent and the recovery of cesses. As a large part of the arrears are due from farmers, there ought to be no great difficulty in realizing the demands.

The management of the estates in the Sarun district appears to call for the vigilant supervision of the Court. The high cost of management is noticed in the report, and the narrative which is given of the administration of the estate of Sheoprasad Parbut is calculated to give rise to serious doubts of the competency of the general manager of wards' estates in the district.

17. Bhagulpore Division.—The two principal estates under the Court in this division are the Surjapore estate in Purneah and the Chanchal estate in Maldah, each of which has a net income of nearly a lakh of rupees. The management of the former of these estates was very successful. The debts, which at one time exceeded 12 lakhs of rupees, are being rapidly paid off, and the rent collections of the year were excellent. The minors are being educated at the Wards' Institution at Benares. The returns for the Chanchal estate are not so favourable. The Board are not satisfied with the progress made with the new settlement, and a large sum has been spent upon a suit brought in the name of one of the wards to contest the validity of an adoption made by the other. Under the circumstances of the case, this expenditure could not be avoided, but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board and the Legal Remembrancer will carefully watch the progress of the litigation, and will see that no unnecessary costs are incurred.

18. Orissa Division.—The low cost of management in this division is very noticeable, the average percentage being only 4·5 on the current demand of rent. In the Kanika estate in Cuttack, which is the only large property under the charge of the Court, debts to the amount of Rs. 53,600 were paid off during the year, and it may be hoped that this estate, which was burdened with a debt of Rs. 4,38,041 when taken in charge, will be shown in next year's report as entirely free from debt. The Sukinda estate in Cuttack was taken charge of during the year, under a precept from the Civil Court.

19. Chota Nagpore Division.—In the Dhanwar estate in this division the high cost of management is due, it is presumed, to the expenditure on the survey operations. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the return for last year showed an unpaid debt of Rs. 5,000, and that the same amount is shown in the present report, although there is a considerable cash balance at credit of the estate. In the Chota Nagpore estate, the rent collections are stated to have been better than in previous years, and considerable progress has been made in freeing the property from debt. Altogether, it may be said that this estate is an example of very successful management. When it was taken in charge ten years ago, the debts amounted to nearly five lakhs of rupees; and almost the whole of this has been paid off, while the rent-roll in the same period has been nearly doubled. The suit which has for some time been pending regarding the title of the Maharajah to his estate has been decided in his favour by the Privy Council.

20. During the year, 14 wards were receiving their education at the Calcutta Wards' Institution, at an average cost of Rs. 234 per month. The average is somewhat higher than that of last year, but the increase belongs entirely to the personal expenses of the wards, and is sufficiently accounted for by higher prices. The Board of Revenue recommend that the Institution should be more closely connected with the Department of Public Instruction, and they think it desirable that the present Director, a native gentleman of the highest literary distinction, but advanced in years, and oppressed by some physical infirmities, should be succeeded by an English educational officer. An annual report hardly seems to be the proper place for the discussion of such a question as this, though the Lieutenant-Governor admits that the appointment of Director is one of which the importance can hardly be rated too high. Although the immediate influence of the Director is confined to a small body of young men, each of these becomes a centre of influence in his turn; and the effect of habits acquired or principles inculcated in the wards' institution may be felt by thousands of humble ryots to whom the Court of Wards is an unknown name. To guide and govern those who will hereafter have to guide and govern others is a duty which demands special qualifications and involves unusual responsibilities.

The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to doubt the expediency of allowing youths of 19 or 20 years of age to remain in the lower classes of the Hindu school. Such youths have evidently no taste for learning, and they cannot receive, in a large class, the personal attention and supervision which their capacities require. It would be better if arrangements could be made for allowing them to study in the institution itself, under the eye of the resident teacher.

Two wards were removed from the institution during the year and two new wards were admitted. The health of the inmates was uniformly good; active out-door exercise is encouraged, and most of the boys are good riders. The Director reports favourably of their conduct during the year, and of their general attention to the rules of the institution.

21. The new Act for regulating the Court of Wards, Act IX (B.C.) of 1879, which was passed since the close of the year, contains some useful modifications of the former law on the subject. The Board of Revenue is now constituted the Court of Wards for the whole province. The Court is allowed a discretion to undertake or to decline the charge of estates which the Civil Court may desire to place under its management. The grant of leases extending beyond the period of a ward's minority is legalized, and all arrears of rent on account of property under the Court's charge can be recovered by the certificate procedure under Act VII (B.C.) of 1868. These amendments of the law will remove many of the difficulties which have been felt in dealing with these estates.

22. On a general review of the year's administration as detailed in the report, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to record an opinion that the management of the estates under the Court has on the whole been highly creditable to the officers concerned, and has conducted, in no insignificant measure, to the welfare and prosperity of the country at large. It is estimated that about one-sixteenth of the revenue-paying landed property in these provinces is administered by the Court of Wards. It is no small advantage that so considerable a proportion of the territorial area should be managed on a system which excludes all desire of personal profit or selfish aggrandizement, and which labours only for the benefit of those committed to its charge. Instances may doubtless be pointed out where some officers have mistaken their duties and where others have neglected them, but these errors cannot long escape detection, and when detected, they are promptly remedied. The principles of the Court's administration are, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, entirely sound, though the objects aimed at may sometimes be imperfectly realized. Such partial failures, inseparable as they are from the working of an extensive and complicated system, ought not to detract from the credit due to the Court for the judgment with which it has prescribed the right methods of management, and the general success which has attended its efforts to carry those methods into practice.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The increase in coaching traffic arises from the running of extra troop trains.

The decrease in pulses and edible grain over the main line also accounts for the falling off over the Jubbulpore line in good traffic.

The train mileage for the period is—

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending the 25th October 1879.

Report on Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending the 25th October 1879.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th November 1879.

From—W. INNES, Esq., Acting Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal Railway,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

THE total weight of goods carried over this railway during the above period was 10,12,324 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, shows an increase of 3,74,223 maunds. This increase is chiefly in jute, piece-goods, salt, and tea.

The following items show a decrease, viz.—
Railway material, seeds, and cotton.

Increases.

Jute, drums ... Mds. 3,60,414
This increase is owing to there being a greater demand for export and prices having improved.
Piece-goods ... Mds. 7,991
There is a steady increase in this article, which is attributable to there being a greater demand.
Salt ... Mds. 56,101
This staple has also increased, owing chiefly to the present low rates which divert the traffic from the native boat.
Tea ... Mds. 11,408
This increase is owing to there being a larger outturn of tea this season from the Darjeeling district.

Decreases.

Seeds ... Mds. 6,103
This decrease is due to the failure of crops and to there being less demand.
Cotton ... Mds. 1,016
The decrease in cotton is due to there being less demand and the market being dull.
I attach statement of increases and decreases.

Statement showing Increases and Decreases in Staples carried over this Railway during the four weeks ended the 25th October 1879, as compared with the corresponding period of previous year.

The decrease in firewood traffic is due to less import owing to wood-cutters being engaged in cutting paddy or otherwise.

The increase in hay, wooloo, and straw traffic is due to favourable market at selling stations.

The increase in paddy traffic is due to above cause.

The decrease in rice traffic is due to cultivators not selling it expecting a better market in future.

The increase in building materials is insignificant.

The decrease in machinery and sundries is due to less repairs having been done to rice mills during the month.

Rajshahye Collectorate, the 20th September 1879.

W. H. D'OLY, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned plot of railway C class land situated in the village of Mojahidpore, pergunnah Bhagulpore, in the town of Bhagulpore, which with other lands was acquired free of all incumbrances by Government under the Land Acquisition Act, and was made over to the East Indian Railway Company for temporary use, under the denomination of C class land, and which having reverted to Government on its relinquishment by the said Company, will be put up to sale at the Bhagulpore Collectorate, on Monday, the 12th January 1880, corresponding with 15th of Pous 1287, F.S.

2. Intending purchasers are informed that Government did not in any way encumber the land by settling it with tenants for any period or otherwise, but on the relinquishment of the land by the Railway Company, Government found that Dwarka Nath Sing, Mr. N. J. Gantzer, junior, Mussamut Zera, widow of Horil Mistry and Darogah Lohar, were in possession by erecting tiled-houses, golas, &c., and as the Railway Company had no proprietary title to the land, called upon the occupants to produce their pottahs and title-deeds to satisfy the Collector upon what terms they were holding, and on their failing to produce any document they were, in the month of March last, served with notices to quit, and remove their houses and materials thereof within a month from the dates thereof and the said period has expired.

3. The applications made to the Collector by the occupants, in which they set up the nature of their title to the land, may be seen at the Collectorate. Such applications, with the receipts of the occupants acknowledging service of notices to quit, will be handed over to the purchaser with the certificate of sale.

4. The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The plot of C class land to be sold revenue-free to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this plot of C class land will be considered as the proprietor of the land, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such land will be transferred to him.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government) and the land to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Provided always that in the exercise of these privileges, they shall not interfere with or obstruct the traffic of the said Grantees, and shall conform to such rules for the regulation of that traffic as may be drawn out by the said Grantees and approved of by the said Corporation. Provided also that it shall not be lawful for the said other parties to both take up and set down the same passenger on the said Grantees' lines. Provided also that if the said Grantees shall offer any obstruction or fail to afford reasonable facilities, to enable the said parties to whom any concession or contract shall be made or given as aforesaid to exercise the privilege of using the lines of the said Grantees as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said Corporation forthwith to make such rules with reasonable penalties for the breach thereof as they may think advisable for the purpose of regulating the use of the said lines and the traffic thereon.

5. Any Tramway or Tramways to be constructed under this agreement shall be constructed on the metre gauge of 3' 3 $\frac{3}{8}$ " or on such other gauge not exceeding 4' 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ " as may be mutually agreed upon, and especially the rails shall be laid and maintained in such manner that the uppermost surface of the rails shall be on a level with the surface of the road, and before the work of construction is begun, the drawings and specification, showing the proposed construction of each Tramway, shall be submitted to the said Corporation and be approved by them, and the cars and carriages intended to run on the said Tramways shall also be such as shall have been approved of by the Corporation.

6. If the said Corporation shall hereafter alter the level of any street or road along or across which any Tramway by this agreement authorized is laid, or authorized to be laid, the Grantees shall alter, or (as the case may be) lay their rails, so that the uppermost surface thereof shall be on a level with the surface of the road so altered. Provided always that any such alteration as aforesaid shall be so made as to interfere as little as possible with the safe and convenient working of the said Tramways, and in any case so as not to stop or prevent the free use and working thereof.

7. The cars and carriages of the said Grantees on the tracks of the said Tramways shall be worked with such power, animal or mechanical, as the said Grantees may think suitable. Provided that no steam carriages may be used without the special consent of the Corporation (Commissioners in Special General Meeting), and provided also that the said Corporation (Commissioners in Special General Meeting), shall have power at all times to make such regulations as to the rate of speed, number of passengers, and mode of use of the said tracks, as the convenience and safety of the public using the streets may require.

8. The sleepers, rails, materials, implements and erections placed and erected by the said Grantees or their assigns on the streets or roads under the powers hereby granted, shall be and remain the property of the said Grantees, but they shall not remove or displace the same or any of them or any part or parts thereof without the consent in writing of the said Corporation. No person other than the Grantees or persons authorized so to do under Clause 4 hereof, may use upon any Tramway or Tramways made under this agreement or under any agreement entered into under Clause 4 hereof, carriages with flanged wheels or other wheels suitable only to run on the prescribed rail.

9. The said Grantees or their assigns shall have power from time to time to fix the rates of fares for carrying persons and goods in the said cars or carriages, provided that the rate of fare for each person or parcel shall for any distance not over three miles not exceed three annas and shall not for any greater distance exceed the same proportion.

10. The said Grantees may (for the purpose of constructing and maintaining any Tramways under this agreement), under such superintendence as is hereinafter specified, open and break up the soil and pavement of the several public or other streets (as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876), and bridges in the city of Calcutta, and therein lay sleepers and rails, and from time to time repair, alter or remove the same, and may, for the purposes aforesaid, remove and use all earth and materials in such streets and bridges and do in and on such streets and bridges all other acts which they shall from time to time deem necessary for constructing and maintaining such Tramways subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—They shall give to the said Corporation notice in writing of their intention to open or break up any such street or bridge specifying the time at which they will begin to do so, and the portion of the road proposed to be opened or broken up; such notice to be given at least three days before the commencement of the work.

2nd.—They shall not open or break up or alter the level of any such street or bridge except under the superintendence and to the reasonable satisfaction of the Corporation, for which superintendence the Grantees or their assigns shall pay all reasonable expenses unless the Corporation neglect to give such superintendence at the time specified in the notice, or discontinue the same during the work.

3rd.—They shall not, without the consent of the said Corporation, open or break up at any one time a greater length than a quarter of a mile on any one line of Tramway.

4th.—They shall, with all convenient speed and in all cases within six weeks at the most, unless the said Corporation otherwise consent in writing, complete the work for which the said street or bridge shall be broken up and fill in the ground, and make good the surface, and, to the satisfaction of the said Corporation, restore the street or bridge to as good condition as that in which it was before it was opened or broken up, and clear away all surplus materials or rubbish occasioned thereby.

5th.—They shall make good all damage done to the gas and water-pipes and sewers whether belonging to the Corporation or to private individuals by the disturbance thereof.

6th.—They shall in the meantime, when such street or bridge is opened or broken up, cause it to be fenced and watched, and to be properly lighted at night.

11. The said Grantees shall, at their own expense at all times, maintain and keep in good condition and repair to the reasonable satisfaction of the said Corporation, the rails of which any of the Tramways shall for the time being consist and also, so much of any such street or bridge whereon any Tramway belonging to them is laid as lies between the rails of the Tramway, and in the case of double lines or turnouts or sidings, the portion of the road between the tramways, and in every case so much of the road as extends 18" beyond the rails of and on each side of any such Tramway, and in the course of carrying out these repairs, it shall not be necessary to give notice thereof to the said Corporation.

12. In exercising the powers given to them by Clauses 10 or 11, the said Grantees shall arrange their work so as to afford the least possible obstruction to the ordinary traffic of the streets, and so as also to admit of as free and unrestricted entry at all times into the sewers through the man-holes and lamp-holes for the time being in use, as is possible under the circumstances, and also so as to enable proper repairs to be made to water or gas pipes by the direction of the Corporation.

13. If the said Grantees shall commit any breach of Clauses 10 or 11 or 12, it shall be lawful for the said Corporation in their discretion where such breach shall be in the execution of any work or repairs at any time after seven days' notice to the said Grantees themselves to do and execute such work or repairs, and the expense incurred by the said Corporation in so doing, including the cost of superintendence, shall be repaid to them by the said Grantees, together with interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and the certificate of the Engineer of the said Corporation as to such cost shall be conclusive.

14. If any person or persons sustain any loss or damage by reason of any defect or want of repairs in any of the plant, rolling-stock or other properties of the said Grantees or by reason of any carelessness, neglect, or misconduct of their agents or servants in the management, construction or use of the said tramways or any portion thereof, or in the exercise of the powers given by Clauses 10 or 11, the same shall be made good by the said Grantees, and in the event of any suit being instituted against the said Corporation in respect of any of the matters hereinbefore mentioned, the said Grantees shall, within fourteen days from receipt of a notice thereof from the said Corporation, settle the same; but if the said Grantees choose to defend such suit, they shall be at liberty to do so upon their undertaking to indemnify the said Corporation against all losses, damages, and expenses in respect thereof: Provided always that if the said Grantees fail to settle such suit or to indemnify the said Corporation, as is hereinbefore provided, it shall be lawful for the said Corporation to settle the same without any consent or concurrence on the part of the said Grantees, and the sum which they shall have to pay in making such settlement together with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum from the date of payment, and with all expenses, which they may be put to, shall be recoverable as a debt from the said Grantees.

15. If at any time after the opening of any tramway for traffic the said Grantees shall discontinue the working of such tramway or any part thereof for the space of six calendar months (such discontinuance not being occasioned by circumstances beyond the control of the Grantees), it shall be lawful for the Corporation, without any previous notice to the said Grantees, to remove the tramway or part thereof so discontinued, and the said Grantees shall pay to the Corporation the cost of such removal and of the making good of such street or bridge through which the said tramway shall have been made, and the certificate of the Engineer of the said Corporation as to such cost shall be conclusive.

16. The said Grantees will, if required by the said Corporation before opening and breaking up the soil and pavement of any street or bridge under clause 10 of these presents, deposit in an approved Bank in Calcutta in the name of the said Corporation the sum of Rs. 5,000, or, in their option, promissory notes of the Government of India or Municipal Bonds of the nominal value of Rs. 5,000, and the same will remain so deposited until the completion by the said Grantees of the lines of tramway herein sanctioned for immediate construction. But all interest accruing on the said sum, or the said notes, shall be credited to the said Grantees and subject, as next hereinafter mentioned, be paid to them as the same shall accrue due: Provided nevertheless that the said Corporation shall be entitled to deduct out of the sum so deposited or the interest accruing on the said sum or notes or out of the proceeds of sale of the said notes all monies to which they may be entitled under any clause or clauses of these presents.

17. In consideration of the concession hereby granted, the said Grantees will pay to the said Corporation rent at the several rates hereinafter specified, viz. from the beginning of the first to the end of the ninth year, at the rate of Rs. 3,000 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,000 per annum per mile of single line; from the beginning of the 10th to the end of the 13th year, a rent at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line; from the beginning of the 14th year to the end of the 17th year, a rent at the rate of Rs. 3,500 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,500 per annum per mile of single line; from the beginning of the 18th to the end of the 21st year, a rent at the rate of Rs. 3,750 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,750 per annum per mile of single line; and from the beginning of the 22nd year, a rent at the rate of Rs. 4,000 per annum per mile of double line and of Rs. 3,000 per annum per mile of single line. And the rents aforesaid shall be payable half-yearly and shall form a first charge on the undertaking, and the date on which such rent on each line of tramways or part of a line shall begin to accrue shall be the date on which such line or part of a line of tramway shall be opened for public traffic: PROVIDED ALWAYS that no lines or sidings over which passengers or goods are not carried for hire, connecting the traffic lines with the stables, carriage sheds, or depôts or other property of the Grantees shall be included in mileage for which rent shall be payable.

18. If the said rent or any part thereof shall not be paid on due date, the said Grantees shall be liable to pay interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum from the due date until payment.

19. In consideration of the premises the Corporation shall allow to be deducted from the rent payable under this agreement, a sum equal to the amount levied upon the Grantees, as the municipal taxes upon their horses, carriages, and tramway lines (but not on their depôts and buildings or any other property or effects).

20. From and after the commencement of the 15th year of this contract to the end of the 21st, the said Grantees shall not be at liberty to enter upon any fresh engagements or expenditure which would increase their capital account in connection with this contract, without first notifying their intention to the said Corporation, and obtaining their approval thereof and sanction thereto in writing.

21. The Corporation shall have the right of purchasing the said tramways with the plant, buildings, stores, rolling stock and everything connected therewith upon the expiration of 21 years from the commencement of this contract upon declaring its intention so to do in writing not less than six months before the expiration of the said 21 years, and shall have a renewed right of purchase at the end of every seven years after the expiration of the said 21 years, upon similar notice being given, and the consideration for such purchase shall be a cash payment of one and two-fifths of the amount of the invested capital of the said Grantees or securities of the Government of India or securities the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or debentures of the said Corporation of such amount as to produce at the rate of interest current on such securities 7 per cent. per annum on the amount of the said invested capital, and if the consideration for such purchase shall be given in such securities as aforesaid, the said Grantees shall be entitled to have in addition a first mortgage of all the property, assets, and profits of the tramway or tramways which shall have been purchased from them.

22. In the event of the said Corporation failing to declare its intention, as above provided, to purchase the property of the said Grantees, the terms of this contract shall continue in force..

23. The provisions hereinbefore contained shall, so far as applicable, apply to all tramways to be constructed by the said Grantees by any route or routes to be hereafter fixed by the said Corporation or under clauses 1, 3, and 4 of these presents, and to the works connected with or incidental to such tramways.

24. The date of the commencement of this concession shall be the date on which notice of the sanction of the Government of Bengal to the same shall be given to the said Grantees.

25. Unless the said Grantees shall have commenced the work of laying down the said tramways within twelve months from the date of the recognition of this agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislature, the said Corporation shall be at liberty to cease and determine this contract, and to enter into arrangements with any other person or persons for the construction of tramways.

26. Nothing in this agreement shall take away or affect any power which the Corporation may have by law to open, or break up, or to widen, alter, divert or improve any street or road. Provided always—

1st.—That they shall cause as little detriment or inconvenience to the Grantees as circumstances will admit.

2nd.—That they may (if absolutely necessary, but not otherwise) order the temporary stoppage of traffic on the said tramways or any of them on giving twenty-four hours' previous notice in writing to the said Grantees.

3rd.—That before they commence any work, whereby the traffic on the tramway will be interrupted, they shall (except in cases of urgency, in which cases no notice shall be necessary) give to the Grantees notice of their intention to commence such work, specifying the time at which they will begin to do so; such notice to be given eighteen hours at least before the commencement of the work.

4th.—That in the event of their so interfering with or stopping the running of any tramway under this clause, an abatement proportioned to the length of road over which, and time during which running is stopped, shall be made from the rent hereinbefore reserved and payable by the said Grantees.

5th.—That any alteration of the position of any of the tramways, or the making good of any injury or damage that may be occasioned thereto by reason of such widening, alteration or improvement shall be executed by the Grantees at the expense of the Corporation.

27. If any doubt, difference or dispute shall arise between the said Grantees and the said Corporation touching the construction of these presents or any thing herein contained or touching or concerning any other matter or thing relating to these presents, then and in every such case such doubt, difference or dispute shall be referred to the arbitration of two persons, one to be chosen by the said Grantees and the other by the said Corporation within one calendar month after either of them shall have made to the other a requisition to that effect, and should the arbitrators fail to agree, they shall refer the question or questions at issue to the decision of an umpire to be chosen by the said arbitrators, and the decision of such arbitrators, if they agree or of such umpire if they disagree, shall be final, and in case either party shall neglect or refuse to appoint an arbitrator within the specified time, the arbitrator appointed by the other party shall make a decision alone, and the decision of such arbitrators, umpire, or arbitrator, as the case may be, shall be effectual and binding upon both parties.

28 The words "the said Corporation" used in this agreement shall include the present Corporation and their successors, and also all persons empowered by the said Corporation or their successors or by other duly constituted authority to do any act or thing or exercise any powers or authorities which the said Corporation are hereinbefore authorized or empowered to do or exercise.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Corporation of Calcutta having entered into an agreement for the construction and maintenance of street tramways in the town, which agreement has been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, the object of the present Bill, which follows the lines of the Bombay Tramways Act, 1874, is to confer the necessary legal powers on the contracting parties and to make proper provision for the working of the tramways.

Provision is also made for extending the Act to such Suburban tramways as may hereafter be undertaken.

CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL moved for leave to bring in a Bill to authorize the making and to regulate the working of street tramways in Calcutta. He said the first experiment in tramways in Calcutta, as hon'ble members were doubtless aware, had not left a very pleasant memory behind. It was undertaken by the late Justices in 1873 at the instance of the Government, and its failure was attributed to the action of the Government. The late Justices, in their administration report for 1875, thus noticed this fact. They stated—

1st.—That the tramway was constructed to meet the wishes of Government.

2nd.—That the tramway proved a financial failure owing to the action of Government, and not from causes within the control of the Corporation.

3rd.—That the Justices were prevented by Government from concluding a most advantageous arrangement for the disposal of the tramway at cost price. For the above reasons the Justices maintained that they had an equitable claim to be reimbursed the expense, amounting to about Rs. 1,60,000, incurred by them.

As the above scheme was initiated by Government, and its success marred by Government allowing the Port Commissioners and the Eastern Bengal Railway Company to have competing lines, the Justices repudiate all responsibility for the failure which has taken place and the waste of public money incurred, especially as, notwithstanding the failure of the scheme, the rate-payers might have been saved from all loss had not Government stepped in and prevented the Justices concluding the sale of the tramway to a capitalist of the city.

Such were the rise and the fall of the first tramway in Calcutta, if he might so express himself. But the present project was founded on a totally different basis altogether. It was now proposed that tramways should be constructed by a private company, and that the Municipality or the Corporation should give to them the franchise of the roads upon which the lines would be laid. The Municipality would charge a moderate rent, but the management of the tramways would be left entirely to the grantees. The Municipality at present derived no inconsiderable revenue from hackney coach receipts and from the horse and carriage tax on hackneys, and it was feared that a good portion of this revenue might be lost in consequence of the introduction of tramways. But that was, he might say, problematical. He was told that the hackney carriage traffic had not suffered from the introduction of tramways in Bombay. Besides, this loss would be recouped by the Municipality in two ways. It would, as he had stated, derive rent for the use of the roads, and also save the cost of repairs of nearly one-third of the roads on which the trams would run. To the public, he need hardly say, the introduction of tramways would be a great advantage, and the experience gained in Bombay showed that, given the same conditions, there was no reason why the scheme should not succeed in Calcutta.

The object of the present Bill was to confer the necessary legal powers on the Corporation and the grantees for carrying out the contract, which had been already agreed to between them and sanctioned by Government. It had not been thought advisable to embody all the terms of the contract in the Bill. While validity would be given to the agreement, occasion had been taken to secure the rights and interests and the convenience of the public. The Bill followed the lines of the Bombay Tramways Act, with such slight variations as the agreement already entered into between the Company and the Corporation might require. The project, he should mention, was in good hands. The promoters, Messrs. Parrish & Co., had already achieved much success in this line in the United Kingdom, and the Council might therefore fairly expect that they would carry out the scheme in Calcutta with equal success.

The details of the agreement had been fully considered by the Corporation and the grantees and their attorneys, and as the Government had sanctioned the agreement, he did not think it was necessary for him to dwell on the terms of the contract.

There were one or two provisions made in the Bill with the view of enabling the grantees to extend tramways to the suburbs, if the extension was thought desirable, and to these he would draw attention when he would move for the reading of the Bill. At present he moved for leave to introduce it.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he had already stated that the Corporation and the grantees had formally executed the agreement and that the Government had sanctioned it. Both the Corporation and the Company were anxious that they should commence the works at once, and they were therefore solicitous that, as this was the working season, no time might be lost in conferring upon them the necessary legal powers. Under the circumstances, he applied to His Honor the President to suspend the rules for the conduct of business in order that the Bill might be read in Council.

The PRESIDENT having declared the rules suspended—

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL moved that the Bill be read in Council. He had already given some account of the origin of this Bill. As the Bill had been in the hands of hon'ble members, he need not recapitulate its detailed provisions. He might mention that it sanctioned seven lines of tramway which were enumerated in section 2. It further provided that, subject to the approval of the Corporation of Calcutta and the Suburban Municipal Commissioners, and the sanction of the local Government, the grantees might take up any new lines which they might think fit, and if they extended their operations to the suburbs, the provisions of the Bill would apply mutatis mutandis. The other provisions of the Bill were matters of detail which might be best considered in select committee. There was one provision in the Bill which was borrowed from the Bombay Act. It gave power to the grantees to sell their rights and powers to other persons, and such persons should also be subject to the provisions of the Bill in the same way as the original grantees. That provision did not obtain in the agreement between the Corporation and the grantees, nor in the Bombay agreement, but it was in the Bombay Act, and he thought it might be fitly embodied in this Bill. There were some provisions in the English Tramway Acts which he for one thought might well be made applicable to Calcutta, but he reserved those points for consideration in select committee. With these words he moved that the Bill be read in Council.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Advocate-General, Mr. Field, Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Knight, Mr. Inglis, and the Mover, with instructions to report in four weeks.

AMENDMENT OF THE PORT IMPROVEMENT ACT.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND moved for leave to bring in a Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Improvement Act, 1870. He would not trouble the Council at any great length with an explanation of this Bill. It was simply a Bill to amend the borrowing powers of the Port Commissioners. The Government of India had decided that in future the Port Commissioners were to raise their money in the open market, and certain sections of the Act were declared by the Government of India to have been already impliedly repealed by an Act of 1871, which in its turn was repealed by an Act of 1879. Therefore it became necessary for this Legislature to pass an Act giving further powers of borrowing to the Port Commissioners, and at the same time to enable the Government of India to dispense with the primary lien which it held on its previous advances, and to put itself in future on an equality with the other creditors.

The details of the Bill were of a purely technical nature, and he therefore concluded by asking for leave to introduce it.

The motion was agreed to.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES (ANIMALS) BILL.

The HON'BLE MR. O'KINEALY moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide against the spreading of contagious diseases among animals. His Honor and the members of Council were no doubt well aware that the evils arising from the absence of any law sufficient to check the spread of such diseases had become so serious that an Act for the prevention of the latter was lately passed in the Imperial Council. This law extended only to those provinces of the empire in which there was no local legislature, and did not apply to Bengal.

Calcutta was the great horse mart of India, the centre of the import trade in those animals. The town itself contained 386 hackney coach stands; the suburbs about 246 more. It was easy to understand that if once any infectious disease got firmly rooted among the hundreds of animals maintained by the carriage-owners, it would take years before it could be eradicated, and the town would become a focus for its dissemination throughout India. And yet it was stated by the officers competent to give an opinion that diseased horses were not only driven about the city, but even into the largest stables.

Every motive which induced the Government of India to legislate for the Upper Provinces applied with tenfold force to induce the Government of Bengal to pass a somewhat similar enactment for Calcutta and the suburbs.

One of the great difficulties which was met with in overcoming contagious diseases arose from an absence of any authentic information regarding the animals affected. The owners who were interested in remaining silent would not give it, and the officials who were not so interested were not in a position to obtain it. Both matters were provided for in the Bill.

Then again it had been found by experience that once the disease had developed, the diseased animals seldom recovered, and prolonged existence, though of no advantage to the owners, was a source of potential loss to the people living in the neighbourhood. There also the Bill afforded protection in a manner somewhat similar to the Imperial Act.

The motion was agreed to.

DRAINAGE AND IMPROVEMENT OF LAND.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Field be added to the Select Committee on the Bill for the drainage and improvement of land

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 20th December.

PRACTICAL TRAINING INSTITUTION FOR CIVIL AND MECHANICAL ENGINEERS.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the Public Works Department (Establishments), No. 2310E, under date the 15th December 1879.

READ—

The report of the Committee appointed to consider the question of the establishment of an Educational and Practical Training Institution for Engineers at the Presidency in connection with the Public Works Department workshops.

Read again—

Proceedings of this Department for January 1878 (Establishments), No. 1A, being a resolution by the Lieutenant-Governor in this Department, appointing a Committee to consider and report on the measures necessary to establish the Practical Training School for Engineers at the Presidency.

RESOLUTION.—The establishment of a Practical Training Institution in Calcutta for Civil and Mechanical Engineers has for some time been under the consideration of this Government. An experiment has already been made in this direction by allowing passed students of the Civil Engineering classes of the Presidency College to join the workshops of the First Calcutta Division and the Akra Brick Manufactory for a two years' course of technical instruction; and the result has shown that there is a demand for such instruction, and that native youths of the middle class and of high caste will, without hesitation, work willingly with their own hands at the forge and at the lathe, in the carpenter's shop and in the brickfield, exactly as European apprentices would do.

2. This fact having been established, a Committee was appointed in January 1878 to consider and report what measures it was necessary or desirable to take for the establishment of a technical school to be connected with the workshops and manufactories of the Public Works Department at the Presidency. The Committee was further to consider whether it would not be desirable to remove the civil engineering branch of the Presidency College to the neighbourhood of the new institution, so that the two might be worked together, and theoretical instruction be combined with thorough practical technical training; and it was added that the necessity for constructing new workshops at the Presidency made it a convenient time for taking up the whole question, and for considering the best situation for the new institution, and the nature and extent of the buildings required.

3. The Committee unanimously recommend that the Civil Engineering Branch of the Presidency College should be incorporated with the proposed institution, the whole forming one great Technical School for the training of engineers and mechanics; but that the theoretical and practical branches should be under entirely independent management, the supervision and control of the former resting with the Educational Department, and that of the latter with the Public Works Department.

4. Meanwhile, the question of site was disposed of by the selection of premises at Seebpore near Howrah, and by the acquisition of a large area of land on the river bank immediately above those premises.

5. Arrangements are in progress for the purchase of those premises which are suited for a College, and already workshops have been constructed on the land adjoining on a scale that will, in the opinion of the Committee, fully meet the requirements of an engineering college and technical school in its earlier stages, and will admit of expansion hereafter to any extent that may be required.

6. In regard to the organization of the proposed institution, the Committee recommend that, at first, the following four classes of pupils should be trained :—

(1) Civil Engineers,
(2) Mechanical Engineers,

(3) Civil Overseers,
(4) Mechanical Overseers;

and that a fifth class for draftsmen and a sixth for the improvement of skilled workmen, corresponding to the mistry class at Roorkee and to Colonel Hyde's class at the Mint might be usefully established. That pupils for the two higher classes should be admitted up to the age of 19 on producing a certificate of having passed the University Entrance examination; that for the third class they should enter between the ages of 15 and 17, and for the fourth class up to 16; but that the restriction as to age should be relaxed on sufficient cause being shown.

7. The course for Civil and Mechanical Engineers should, in the Committee's opinion, be as follows:—

I.—Pure Mathematics.

Arithmetic and Algebra.	Trigonometry, Logarithms, and Mensuration.
Plane Geometry and Conic Sections.	Differential and Integral Calculus.
Practical or Descriptive Geometry.

II.—Applied Mathematics.

This theoretical course should be got over in four years. The practical work during these years would consist of three hours' daily training in the carpenter's and pattern shop, the smithy, the foundry, and the fitting shop, in which the pupils should go through the full Whitworth course. Thus, in the carpenter's shop they would learn how to set and use the axe, saw and plane, hammer and chisel, and to execute all the different joints used by carpenters and joiners; they should also learn the use of the various machine tools employed in the conversion of wood. In the smithy they should be taught forging, welding, the use of the file, and making simple tools. In the foundry they should learn the method of making patterns, moulding, and casting. In the fitting shop they should learn the use of the simple tools commonly employed, as well as of machine tools, and the method of fitting together the parts of machinery, steam-engines, &c.

In the cold seasons of the second, third, and fourth years, the students should go on survey parties, as the students of the Civil Engineering College do at present. The last year should be spent partly at Akra to learn brick-making, and partly on works in actual course of construction, in which a certain amount of work and responsibility of various kinds should be given to the pupils, and on which they would have an opportunity of learning masonry, brick-laying, &c., as well as the management of work-people and the keeping of accounts.

The pupils should go through the same preliminary course of practical training as the civil engineers, working three hours a day in the workshops; but in the later years of the course their attention should be particularly directed to the working up of iron and steel, and to the use of all forms of hand and engine tools employed in the making of machinery. If time could be spared, it would be very desirable that, during one cold season, they should work with the civil engineering students on a survey party.

They should, during their course, be frequently exercised in designs of machines and the preparation of complete drawings, specifications, and estimates. If possible, they should, during the fifth year, be deputed to some large engineering work in progress, on which they might have some definite occupation and responsibility. If no such opportunity offered itself, they would spend their fifth year also at the institution, and would be employed in supervising actual work in the shop.

8. The Committee further recommend that students in the civil and mechanical engineering classes should present themselves for the corresponding examinations of the University at the end of their fourth year; but no candidate, after passing this examination, should be admitted to a degree unless, at the end of the fifth year, he can produce a certificate from the Principal of the Institution, stating that he has completed the full course of practical training. This certificate would be given by the Principal upon the report made by the Superintendent of the Workshops, and by any other executive engineer under whom the student has been placed, as to his practical attainments. It must be observed, however, that, as the courses of study and the procedure recommended above differ in many respects from those now in force, it will be necessary to ask the Senate of the University to modify their regulations accordingly.

9. Civil overseers (class 3) will consist of young men seeking to qualify themselves for the upper subordinate establishment of the Public Works Department and analogous positions; and mechanical overseers (class 4) of those desirous of being trained as skilled mechanics to take charge of machinery in manufactories, and of marine and locomotive engines, &c., &c. The Committee recommend that the term of years for the full course should be for these lower classes the same as for the higher classes, viz. five years; but that the theoretical standard should not be so high, and that the period of practical training should be extended from a year to a year and a half. For both these classes there should be a qualifying Entrance examination in English, a vernacular language (colloquially), arithmetic, algebra to simple equations, and two books of Euclid. Any candidate who had passed the University Entrance examination in the subjects of English and mathematics should be admitted without further test.

10. The course for the lower classes will be as follows:—

I.—Mathematics.

Arithmetic and Algebra.		Trigonometry and Mensuration.
Modern Geometry.		Statics and Dynamics.

II.—Physics.

Elementary Chemistry.

III.—Drawing.

Orthographic projections.		Architectural drawing.
Scales and figures.		Topographical drawing.

*IV.—Surveying.*Theodolite.
Box sextant.Compass and plane-table.
Levelling.V.—Engineering.

Estimating and designing.

Strength of materials.
Construction.

This course should take about three and a half years, during which the students should spend four hours daily in the workshop. The practical training for civil overseers should be similar to that proposed for civil engineers; but the overseers should be sent to Akra in the fourth year, and the whole of the fifth year should be spent on works in progress.

MECHANICAL OVERSEERS.*I.—Mathematics.*Arithmetic and Algebra.
Modern Geometry.Plane Trigonometry and Mensuration.
Statics, Dynamics, and Hydrostatics.*II.—Natural Science.*Chemistry.
Physical Geography.Experimental Physics.
Metallurgy.*III.—Drawing.*Orthographic Projections.
Practical Geometry.
Free-hand drawing.

Drawing of machinery from models and actual machines.

*IV.—Mechanical Engineering.*Estimating.
Applied mechanics.Strength of materials.
Mechanism.

The steam-engine.

This theoretical course should be completed in three and a half years, and during this period the pupils should spend four hours daily in the workshops. The last year and a half of their apprenticeship should be spent entirely in the workshops.

11. The Committee also, with regard to mechanical overseers (class 4), draw attention to the fact that the Board of Trade regulations require that every person who is employed as an engineer on a steamer shall have served a full term of apprenticeship to his trade. On these and other grounds it is necessary to provide that the students in the mechanical overseer class should be apprenticed to the Superintendent of the Workshops, and be subject to all the legal conditions relating to apprentices. The departmental examinations of civil and mechanical overseers should be held at the end of their theoretical course; but the final certificate, which should be given by the Principal of the College and the Superintendent of the Workshops jointly, should be withheld until the satisfactory completion of the practical course.

12. The class of draftsmen (class 5) proposed by the Committee would be attached to the educational branch of the institution and would provide for the training of a superior class of draftsmen and estimators; and no draftsman would receive a certificate until he had shewn himself qualified not only to prepare designs and detailed drawings, but also to take out the detailed quantities and to prepare estimates from them. This class would require no workshop training, but it would probably be found desirable to train some draftsmen in the preparation of mechanical working drawings. In the mistry or artizan class (class 6), instruction in rough mechanical drawing and the use of scales, together with arithmetic, elementary geometry, and the mechanical powers, would be given free of charge to apprentices, artizans, and mechanics, whether European, East Indian, or native, and whether employed in the shops or outside.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the recommendations of the Committee, but he would, in addition, form a small vernacular class for the sons of artizans and mistries; these boys would work regularly in the shops, and would have only a few hours' school training in the vernacular.

14. In regard to the charge for education at the institution, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided, after careful consideration, that the fee for the two higher engineering classes shall be Rs. 8 per mensem during the four years of their instruction in class, but that existing students of the Civil Engineering Department of the Presidency College, who may elect one of the engineering courses in the new institution, may be allowed to continue their studies on a payment of Rs. 5 a month. For civil overseers the charge will be Rs. 3 per mensem during the $3\frac{1}{2}$ years of their instruction in class, and for draftsmen the fee will be the same. No fee will be charged to any student after the completion of his theoretical course. The mechanical overseer class will consist exclusively of regular apprentices, who must be boarders; and the charge will be for Europeans and Eurasians up to 30 in number Rs. 5 each per mensem, and for natives up to 40 in number Rs. 3 per mensem; but apprentices may be received in excess of that number on payment, if Europeans or Eurasians, of the full fee of Rs. 15 per mensem, and if natives of Rs. 8 per mensem. Existing Dehree students who join the institution will be allowed to continue on the terms on which they were originally received.

15. No charge will be made for instruction to skilled workmen in the mistry or artizan class, or to those boys who join the class for the sons of artizans.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor has decided that one scholarship of Rs. 20, three of Rs. 15, and six of Rs. 10, tenable for two years, shall be given annually to students entering the engineer classes of the institution; and that scholarships of the same number and value shall be again competed for at the end of the second year's course; provided that the number of scholarships awarded does not exceed one-half the number of candidates presenting themselves for examination. These scholarships will be given independently of the scholarships now open to those who pass the Entrance examination at the University. For the civil overseer classes ten scholarships of Rs. 7 per mensem, tenable for $3\frac{1}{2}$ years, subject to diligence and good conduct, will also be granted annually; provided, as in the engineer classes, the number of scholarships awarded does not exceed one-half the number of candidates.

17. In lieu of the five stipends of Rs. 50 a month, tenable for two years, which are at present given to the best five students of the Civil Engineering College who pass the final examination, either ten stipends of Rs. 50, or else four of Rs. 50 and ten of Rs. 30 each, will be granted to those engineer students at the new institution who pass the best examination at the end of the fourth year. Similarly, at the end of the $3\frac{1}{2}$ years' course of civil overseers, either ten stipends of Rs. 20, or else four of Rs. 20 and ten of Rs. 12, tenable for $1\frac{1}{2}$ years, will be granted. These stipends will be paid by the Public Works Department, and will be liable to forfeiture in case of misconduct.

18. To mechanical overseers, as apprentices, the system of scholarships will not be applicable. An equivalent for this will be provided by allowing those who make the best progress a share in the value of the work done by them after the expiration of the first year of their apprenticeship.

19. It will be obligatory in the case of apprentices (class 4) that they should board on the premises; and the boarding system will be extended as far as possible, so as to include all other students who may desire to take advantage of it. Any boarding-house that may thus be established for other than apprentices will be conducted on the principle of paying its own expenses, rent only excepted. It is hoped that a boarding charge of Rs. 20 a month for Europeans and Eurasians in the engineer classes, and Rs. 15 in the overseer classes, and a uniform charge of Rs. 8 for the native boarders will be found sufficient.

20. It is believed that the buildings which it is intended to purchase will furnish considerable room for boarders after every necessary provision has been made for class-rooms and other similar accommodation. In addition to this, the Lieutenant-Governor believes that it is the intention of a native nobleman, with characteristic liberality, to build a special residence on the premises for the reception of lads from the mofussil who come to join the engineering classes.

21. The financial aspects of the scheme may thus be briefly summarized. In the Educational Department there will be an estimated excess outlay of Rs. 11,644 nett in the first year, which will increase to Rs. 13,244 in the fourth year, when the charge will remain constant. This sum has been arrived at after allowing for the fee receipts from the new institution amounting to Rs. 3,720 more than the fees at present received from the students in the Civil Engineering College, and to a saving of Rs. 3,176 by closing the Dacca Artizan School, which school will no longer be required on the opening of the proposed institution. In the Public Works Department there will be an excess expenditure of Rs. 6,128 after allowing for a saving of Rs. 18,000 by closing the Dehree school. The total additional cost of the institution is therefore estimated to amount to Rs. 17,772 in the first year, and to Rs. 19,372 in the fourth and subsequent years.

22. It must be clearly understood that the Lieutenant-Governor does not guarantee an appointment in the public service to any one trained in the institution; but he will select the most distinguished students and the most capable apprentices to fill such vacancies as may arise, and will not appoint men in this country to the Public Works Department, or to district appointments, who have not been trained in this school, as soon as qualified men are obtainable from this source.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that this institution will do more good to the people of this country than any school which has yet been established. It will give native boys of all classes the means of obtaining a thoroughly practical education, and will enable them to leave the beaten track of clerical and ministerial service, for which alone they now care to qualify themselves, and will open to them a large and lucrative professional career. At the same time it will provide a suitable and useful training to European and Eurasian boys in this country, and place them in a position to earn an honorable livelihood in a profession for which they are well adapted.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. OXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind direction, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such resale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares opium for the year 1878-79, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 4,971 chests of Benares opium of the season 1878-79, 3,000 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary Benares opium of the season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 3,000 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1880, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	...	...	28,200
Benares	...	...	...	28,200
			Total	56,400

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the "quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

ARTICLE III.

The ports, harbours, roadsteads, basins, creeks, and rivers in the Indian dominions of each of the High Contracting Parties shall be open to the commerce and navigation of the subjects of the other, on the same conditions as those on which they are open to the subjects of the Party in whose dominions they are.

The High Contracting Parties reserve to themselves respectively the right of retaining, increasing, modifying, and abolishing the dues and charges on navigation in their respective Indian dominions, and of establishing new dues and charges of a like nature.

ARTICLE IV.

ARTICLE V.

The detailed measures to be adopted shall form the subject of a separate Convention between the Governors-General of British India and Portuguese India, to be executed within two years from the date when this Treaty comes into force.

As Altas Partes Contractantes reservam-se respectivamente o direito de conservar, augmentar, modificar ou abolir os direitos e encargos sobre a navegação nos seus respectivos dominios na India, e de estabelecer novos direitos e encargos de identica natureza.

ARTIGO IV.

Os privilegios e estipulações comprehendidos nos Artigos I, II, e III d'este Tratado serão extensivos aos Estados Nativos que por Tratado com Sua Magestade Britannica, ou por outra forma possam ter direito a ser collocados, nos assumptos ali mencionados respectivamente, nas mesmas condições que a India Britannica. O Governador-Geral da India Britannica communicará de tempo a tempo ao Governador-Geral da India Portuguesa uma lista d'esses Estados.

ARTIGO V.

ARTIGO VI.

As Altas Partes Contratantes, animadas do desejo de proporcionar aos seus respectivos subditos novas facilidades de communicação, e de dar maior extensão ao commercio exterior da India, concordam nos seguintes estipulações:

(a) Quando Sua Magestade Fidelissima informar Sua Magestade Britannica que se acha

1. The grant, upon the same terms as those upon which land has been granted to guaranteed railway companies in British India, of whatever land may be temporarily or permanently necessary for the construction and maintenance of the portion of the line lying within British territory.

2. The use of Her Majesty's best endeavours to obtain from any native State whose territory the line is intended to traverse, the grant on the same terms of whatever land may be so necessary for the said purpose, but subject to Her Britannic Majesty's Imperial jurisdiction and sovereignty.

5. The right of Her Britannic Majesty to construct and maintain an electric telegraph on such whole line, or any part thereof.

7. The exercise by Her Britannic Majesty, in respect of the portion of the said whole line situated within British India, of all powers usually exercised, or provided to be exercised, over any of the guaranteed railways aforesaid, and the subjection of the said company to any enactment for the regulation of the affairs of railways which may be passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor-General of British India.

(b) In the event of a contract, as contemplated in clause (a) of this Article, being entered into within two years from the date of this Treaty coming into force, or otherwise previous to the completion by Her Britannic Majesty of an Imperial State railway between the towns of New Hubli and Bellary, Her Britannic Majesty further engages organizada uma companhia por acções, para a construção de um caminho de ferro do porto de Mormugão á cidade de Nova Hubli, e que Sua Magestade se propõe conceder á dita companhia auctorisação e facilidades para a construção e conservação da parte do dito caminho de ferro situada na India Portuguesa, e para tornar o referido porto seguro e accommodado para fins commerciaes, Sua Magestade Britannica obriga-se, uma vez persuadida de que tal concessão é adequada e sufficiente, e que não faltará o capital necessario para a empresa, e depois de feita por Sua Magestade Fidelissima a referida concessão, a contratar com a sobredita companhia nas seguintes condições:

1. Concessão nos mesmos termos em que tem sido concedidos terrenos na India Britannica a companhias de caminhos de ferro garantidas, de quaesquer terrenos que possam ser temporaria ou permanentemente necessarios para a construção e conservação da parte da linha situada em territorio Britannico.

2. Emprego por parte de Sua Magestade de todas as diligencias para alcançar de qualquer Estado Nativo, cujo territorio a linha tenha de atravessar, a concessão, nos mesmos termos, de quaesquer terrenos que para o dito fim possam do mesmo modo ser necessarios, mas sujeita á Imperial jurisdicção e soberania de Sua Magestade Britannica.

3. Concessão de todas as facilidades usuaes e razoaveis para a construção e exploração da linha.

4. 5. Direito por parte de Sua Magestade Britannica de estabelecer e explorar um telegrapho electrico em toda a linha ou parte d'ella.

6. 7. Exercício por Sua Magestade Britannica, no que respeita á parte de toda a dita linha situada na India Britannica, de todos os poderes usualmente exercidos, ou que possam ser exercidos sobre qualquer dos sobreditos caminhos de ferro garantidos, e sujeição da dita companhia a qualquer disposição legal para regular os negocios de caminhos de ferro que fôr decretada pelo conselho Legislativo do Governador-Geral da India Britannica.

(b) No caso de se celebrar um contracto, como se acha estipulado na clausula (a) d'este Artigo, dentro de dois annos a contar da data em que este Tratado começar a vigorar, ou, mesmo, antes da conclusão por Sua Magestade Britannica de um caminho de ferro Imperial do Estado, entre as cidades de Nova Hubli e Bellary, Sua Magestade to include in such contract, should the said company so desire, the further right to complete and maintain the line of railway between the said towns, upon the same terms as those applicable to the line between the Portuguese frontier and New Hubli, together with the addition of an engagement on the part of the said company to take over on equitable terms to be mutually agreed upon or settled by arbitration, any portion of the said line then completed or under construction, and the works, stock, or appliances appertaining thereto.

(c) Whenever either of the High Contracting Parties may be desirous of ascertaining the feasibility and expediency of constructing a railway from the port of Marmagaum to the town of New Hubli, and the advantages of such a railway to commerce generally, as compared with a railway from the port of Karwar to the said town, the said parties shall, in concert, appoint a Mixed Commission under the provisions of Article XVI of this Treaty, which shall cause a thorough survey to be made of the routes available, and any other investigations which may be necessary, and shall submit a report on the question. Each of the High Contracting Parties shall pay the salaries of its own engineers or officers engaged on the Commission or investigations, together with the expenses which the Commission may occasion in its own territories.

(d) In the event of His Most Faithful Majesty not finding it practicable or expedient to grant a concession to any joint stock company as contemplated in clause (a) of this Article, but of the report of a Commission appointed under clause (c) of the same establishing to the satisfaction of both Governments that a railway can be constructed from Marmagaum to New Hubli at a reasonable cost and with fair prospects of becoming remunerative, and that such a railway would be preferable, in the interests of commerce generally to one from New Hubli to Karwar, the High Contracting Parties engage to adopt, in concert, such measures as may be compatible with their respective financial circumstances, with the view to insure the construction thereof at as early a date as may be practicable.

ARTICLE VII.

In order further to carry out the desire of the High Contracting Parties that their respective Indian dominions shall become one territory in all matters relating to commerce, it is agreed as follows:—

All Customs duties, whether on import or export now levied on the frontier lines between the Indian dominions of the High Contracting Parties, shall be abolished, and all Customs establishments connected therewith shall be discontinued. All articles of commerce, of whatever origin, which, according to the provisions of this Treaty, may be imported into or exported from the Indian dominions of either party, shall pass freely into or out of such dominions across such frontier lines, without being subject to any import, export, or transit duty, and shall be in all respects treated not less favourably than similar national products.

All goods, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Indian dominions of one of the High Contracting Parties, or which have been legally imported into such dominions, may be conveyed by sea out of such dominions into the Indian dominions of the other without payment of duties of Customs.

(c) Quando alguma das Altas Partes Contratantes desejar certificar-se da possibilidade e conveniencia da construção de um caminho de ferro do porto de Mormugão á cidade de Nova Hubli, e das vantagens d'esse caminho de ferro para o commercio em geral, comparado com um caminho de ferro do porto de Karwar á dita cidade, nomearão, de accordo, uma Comissão Mixta, conforme as estipulações do Artigo XVI d'este Tratado, a qual mandará fazer um exame completo das differentes directrizes que se possam adoptar, e quaesquer outras investigações que se reputem necessarias, e apresentará um relatorio sobre a questão. Cada uma das Altas Partes Contratantes pagará os ordenados dos seus engenheiros e empregados da dita Comissão, ou dos empregados nas ditas investigações, e bem assim pagará as despesas que a dita Comissão tiver a fazer dentro do seu proprio territorio.

(d) Se o Governo de Sua Magestade Fidelissima não julgar possivel ou conveniente fazer uma concessão a qualquer companhia por acções, como se menciona na clausula (a) d'este Artigo, mas se o relatorio da Comissão nomeada na conformidade da clausula (c) provar de modo que satisfaça ambos os Governos, que se póde construir de Mormugão á Nova Hubli um caminho de ferro por um preço razoavel, e com boa perspectiva de vir a ser remunerativo, e que esse caminho de ferro é preferivel, no interesse do commercio em geral, ao da Nova Hubli a Karwar, as Altas Partes Contratantes obrigam-se a adoptar, de accordo, as medidas que forem compatíveis com as suas respectivas circunstancias financeiras para assegurar a construção d'esse caminho de ferro no mais breve prazo possivel.

ARTIGO VII.

A fim de levar por diante o desejo das Altas Partes Contratantes de que os seus respectivos dominios na India formem um só territorio em todos os assumptos relativos ao commercio, fica estipulado que:—

Todos os direitos das Alfandegas, quer sobre importação, quer sobre exportação, actualmente cobrados na linha da fronteira entre os dominios na India das duas Altas Partes Contratantes, ficarão abolidos, e todos os postos aduaneiros para a sua cobrança e fiscalisação deixarão de existir. Todos os artigos de commercio de qualquer origem que, nos termos das estipulações d'este Tratado, forem importados ou exportados dos dominios da India de qualquer das Altas Partes Contratantes, entrarão n'esses dominios e delles sairão livremente pela linha da fronteira, sem que fiquem sujeitos á direito algum de importação, exportação, ou transito, e não serão a qualquer respeito tratados com menos favor do que os productos nacionaes similares.

Todas as mercadorias originarias dos dominios da India de uma das Altas Partes Contratantes ou nelles produzidas ou fabricadas, ou que hajam sido legalmente importadas n'esses dominios, poderão ser d'ahi transportadas por mar para os dominios, na India da outra sem pagamento de direitos de Alfandega.

With the view of preventing injury to the joint interests of the High Contracting Parties by the passage, free of duty, of dutiable articles across those frontiers of Portuguese India which march with Native States not entitled to the same Customs' privileges as British India, and by the import from, and export to, such States, by sea, of such articles, the Government of Portuguese India will levy, on all goods passing such frontiers, or so imported or exported, duties at the rates for the time being in force under this Treaty in respect of similar goods respectively imported into, or exported from, Portuguese India from or to foreign countries.

The Governor-General of British India will, from time to time, communicate to the Governor General of Portuguese India a list of the Native States entitled to the same Customs' privileges as British India.

ARTICLE VIII.

In order to insure that the complete freedom of intercourse between their respective Indian dominions, which it is the desire of the High Contracting Parties to provide, shall produce beneficial results, without prejudice to the financial interests of either, it is hereby agreed that there shall be a Customs Union between the said dominions on the following terms:—

The laws and regulations relating to the levy of Customs duties on goods exported or imported by sea, and the administration of the Department of Customs, shall be uniform throughout the said dominions, in so far as the High Contracting Parties, acting in concert, may deem practicable after taking into consideration any special circumstances which may exist in the case of the dominions of either of them.

The Tariff of Customs duties to be levied on goods exported or imported by sea shall, except as hereinafter provided, be uniform throughout the said dominions.

The Tariff annexed to this Treaty shall come into force upon the same date as the Treaty itself.

ARTICLE IX.

In order that each of the High Contracting Parties may preserve its legislative independence as regards its own dominions, without interfering with either the interests of the other or the objects of the Union, it is agreed as follows:—

(a) His Most Faithful Majesty reserves to himself the right to increase, reduce, or abolish the export duties on any articles grown, produced or manufactured in Portuguese India. The Portuguese Indian origin of any articles for which any such privilege is claimed shall be duly established at the Custom-house of the port of exportation.

(b) His Most Faithful Majesty also reserves to himself the right to increase, reduce, or abolish the import duties on such quantity of any articles as may be bonâ fide required for consumption within Portuguese India.

The quantity so required shall be from time to time determined by a Mixed Commission. The Commission shall be guided in its decision either by the consumption in the said dominions previous to the Union, with an augmentation, if

A fim de evitar prejuizo aos interesses reunidos das duas Altas Partes Contractantes, pela passagem, livre de direitos, de mercadorias a elles sujeitas pelas fronteiras da India Portuguesa que confinam com Estados Nativos sem direito aos mesmos privilegios aduaneiros que a India Britannica, e pela importação e exportação dessas mercadorias por mar para os ditos Estados, o Governo da India Portuguesa cobrará sobre todas as mercadorias que passarem por essas fronteiras, ou forem da referida forma importadas ou exportadas, direitos pelas tarifas estabelecidas na conformidade d'este Tratado para as mercadorias similares respectivamente importadas na India Portuguesa de paizes estrangeiros, ou d'ella exportadas para esses paizes.

ARTIGO VIII.

Para certeza de que a completa liberdade de relações entre os seus respectivos dominios na India, que as Altas Partes Contratantes desejam estabelecer, ha-de produzir beneficos resultados, sem prejuizo dos interesses financeiros de nenhum a d'ellas, fica estipulado que haverá uma União Aduaneira entre os referidos dominios, nos seguintes termos:—

As leis e regulamentos relativos á cobrança de direitos d'Alfandega sobre mercadorias exportadas ou importadas por mar, e á administração das Alfandegas serão uniformes nos referidos dominios, tanto quanto as Altas Partes Contratantes, procedendo de acordo, o julgarem praticavel, depois de tomar em consideração as circumstancias especiaes que possam darse nos dominios de qualquer d'ellas.

ARTIGO IX.

A fim de poderem manter no que respeita aos seus dominios a sua independencia legislativa, sem quebra dos seus interesses ou detrimento dos fins da União, concordam as duas Altas Partes Contractantes no seguinte:—

(a) Sua Magestade Fidelissima reservase o direito de augmentar, reduzir ou abolir os direitos de exportação sobre quaesquer artigos originarios da India Portuguesa, ou ali produzidos ou manufacturados.

A origem Indo-Portuguesa de quaesquer artigos para os quaes se reclama o beneficio d'esta reserva será devidamente comprovada na Alfandega do porto de exportação.

A mencionada porção será de tempo a tempo determinada por uma Comissão Mixta. A Comissão regular-se-ha na sua decisão, quer pelo consumo nos ditos dominios antes da União, com um augmento, se for necessario, em razão do sub-necessary, for subsequent increase of population and resources, or by the consumption per head of population in other parts of India, the circumstances of which are generally similar.

The whole quantity of any such articles which may be imported shall, in the first instance, be subjected to the payment of duty, and the amount of duty recovered upon any quantity for which exemption has been granted under the provisions of the preceding clauses shall, at the end of the year, be handed over out of the common receipt to the Government of Portuguese India, to be by them refunded pro rata to the several importers.

(c) A fixed quantity of the wines of Portugal, intended exclusively for consumption in His Most Faithful Majesty's Indian dominions, shall be admitted into the said dominions, on payment of the same import duty as at present, that is to say, at the rate of two xerafins and two tangas per almude, or two annas nine pices per gallon. The quantity entitled to this privilege is now fixed at 500 pipes or 41,500 imperial gallons, but shall, so long as this Treaty remains in force, be open to revision by a Mixed Commission, at the expiration of successive periods of three years.

(d) Wines of Portugal intended for consumption in British India shall not be subjected to duties different from, or higher than, those to which the wines commonly known as "Claret and Burgundy" may, from time to time, be subjected.

(e) Subject to the reservations contained in clauses (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this Article, His Most Faithful Majesty engages to give effect, in all Custom-houses in Portuguese India, to any modifications in the Tariff which the Government of British India may deem necessary: Provided always, that if the said modifications reduce or abolish duties on importation, and His Most Faithful Majesty does not concur in them, the amount of loss of duty occasioned thereby on the quantity of any articles bona fide required for consumption within Portuguese India, as compared with the duty previously levied on such quantity, shall be added to the share of His Most Faithful Majesty in the common receipt which may be determined under the fourth paragraph of Article X of this Treaty. The said quantity shall, in the event of any difference of opinion, be determined under clause (b) of this Article.

ARTICLE X.

The produce of the said Customs duties at the ports of British India and at the ports of Portuguese India, or at all of such ports as may from time to time be found to be practically affected by the present Treaty, shall constitute a common receipt.

The said common receipt, after deduction of refunds (if any), but not of expenses of collection, shall be divided at the close of each year, upon the principle of securing to His Most Faithful Majesty the whole of the duties collected, at both British Indian and Portuguese Indian ports, on all dutiable articles consumed in or produced in Portuguese India.

Such registers and accounts of traffic shall be kept at the Custom-houses, of both the High Contracting Parties, and upon any railway which may now or hereafter serve to connect their respective Indian dominions, as may be necessary to facilitate the division of the said common receipt.

A quantidade total d'esses artigos que podem ser importados será primeiramente sujeita ao pagamento de direitos, e a importancia dos direitos cobrados sobre a quantidade pela qual a isenção for concedida, segundo as disposições das clausulas precedentes, será, no fim do anno, entregue, da receita commum, ao Governo da India Portuguesa para ser por elle reembolsada pro rata aos diversos importadores.

(c.) Uma determinada quantidade de vinhos de Portugal destinada exclusivamente ao consumo nos dominios de Sua Magestade Fidelissima na India, será admittida nos ditos dominios, pagando os mesmos direitos de importação que actualmente, isto é, na razão de dous xerafins e duas tangas por almude, ou duas annas e nove pices por gallão. A quantidade com direito a este privilegio é agora fixada em 500 pipas ou 41,500 gallões imperiaes, mas, em quanto este Tratado estiver em vigor, será sujeita á revisão por uma Comissão Mixta no fim de periodos successivos de tres annos.

(e) Salvas as reservas contidas nas clausulas (a), (b), (c), e (d) d'este Artigo, Sua Magestade Fidelissima obriga-se a pôr em vigor em todas as Alfandegas da India Portuguesa as modificações que o Governo da India Britannica julgar necessario fazer na sua Tarifa: com a condição, porem, de que se as ditas modificações reduzirem ou abolirem direitos de importação, e Sua Magestade Fidelissima não concordar n'ellas, a totalidade do prejuizo nos direitos causado por ellas sobre a quantidade de artigos bona fide necessarios para consumo na India Portuguesa, comparada com o direito anteriormente imposto a essa quantidade, será adicionada á parte de Sua Magestade Fidelissima na receita commum, que poderá ser determinada nos termos do paragrapho quarto do Artigo X d'este Tratado. A dita quantidade, havendo qualquer differença de opinião, será determinada segundo a clausula (b) d'este Artigo.

ARTIGO X.

O producto dos sobreditos direitos de Alfandega nos portos da India Britannica e nos portos da India Portuguesa, ou em qualquer porto que de tempo a tempo se achar affectado praticamente pelo presente Tratado, constituirá receita commum.

A dita receita commum, feita a deducção dos reembolsos (se os houver), mas não das despezas da cobrança, será dividida no fim de cada anno, tendo em vista assegurar a Sua Magestade Fidelissima a totalidade dos direitos cobrados, tanto nos portos Britannicos como Portuguezes na India, sobre todos os artigos sujeitos a direitos que forem consumidos ou produzidos na India Portuguesa.

Haverá nas Alfandegas de ambas as Altas Partes Contratantes, e em qualquer caminho de ferro que possa servir agora ou no futuro para ligar os seus respectivos dominios na India, os registos e contas de trafico necessarios para facilitar a divisão da sobredita receita commum.

The said division shall be practically effected either in accordance with the actual ascertained traffic from year to year, or upon the basis of the estimated consumption per head of the population of Portuguese India, or otherwise, as the Governments of Bombay and of Portuguese India may from time to time determine, after full and fair consideration of all the circumstances of the case. In the event of any difference of opinion between them on the subject, the question shall be determined by a Mixed Commission.

The share of His Most Faithful Majesty in the common receipt, as thus ascertained, shall be augmented from the said receipt by three-fourths of its amount, the remainder shall constitute the share of Her Britannic Majesty.

ARTICLE XI.

The High Contracting Parties reserve to themselves respectively the right to maintain, modify, increase, or abolish all internal duties of excise, or otherwise on production, manufacture, or consumption existing in their Indian dominions, and to establish new duties of a similar nature: provided always that the products of the Indian dominions of the one shall not be subject, in the Indian dominions of the other, to any duties except such as may be imposed on similar national products.

The High Contracting Parties recognize, however, that in the case of all products subjected to a duty sufficiently heavy to cause a serious difference in the price to the consumer, it is highly important to adopt in their respective dominions, as far as may be practicable, a uniform system of administration and duties.

Consequently, and with the view as well of preventing injury to the revenues of Her Britannic Majesty from a diversity of systems, as of securing for His Most Faithful Majesty's Indian dominions the advantages of uniformity, the High Contracting Parties respectively engage to carry out the following stipulations regarding salt, spirits, and opium.

ARTICLE XII.

His Most Faithful Majesty engages to grant to Her Britannic Majesty's Government of Bombay, for the period during which this Treaty may remain in force, the exclusive privilege of regulating or undertaking the manufacture and sale of salt in Portuguese India under the following conditions:—

(a) The proprietors or tenants of salt-works may, under the direction of the agents of the said Government, and subject to conditions mutually agreed upon between them, continue to manufacture salt on their own account, or manufacture salt on account of the said agents, or farm out their salt-works to them.

(b) If the said proprietors or tenants cannot arrive at a voluntary agreement with the said agents, the Government of Portuguese India will take such measures as may be necessary to let the said salt-works in farm to, and under the direction or administration of the said agents, so that the said agents may be able to cause salt to be made there in such manner as they may judge most suitable: provided that when, on the expiration of the farm, the said proprietors obtain possession of the salt-works, they shall be entitled to compensation for damage (if any) resulting thereto from the farm, but shall not be liable to payment of Essa divisão far-se-ha conforme o trafico actualmente verificado, anno a anno, ou segundo o consumo calculado por cabeça da população da India Portuguesa, ou por qualquer outra forma que pelos Governos de Bombaim e da India Portuguesa fôr de tempo a tempo determinada, depois de haverem pesado todas as circumstancias d'este negocio. No caso de haver a este respeito divergencia de opinião entre ambos, a questão será resolvida por uma Comissão Mixta.

A parte de Sua Magestade Fielissima na receita common assim verificada será augmentada, do producto da dita receita, com mais tres quartas partes da sua importancia: o resto constituirá a parte de Sua Magestade Britannica.

ARTIGO XI.

Com respeito aos productos sujeitos a direitos sufficientemente elevados para causar sensivel differença de preço para o consumidor, reconhecem comtudo as Altas Partes Contratantes que é altamente importante que se adopte nos dominios de ambas, tanto quanto seja possivel, um systema uniforme de administração e direitos.

Consequentemente, no intuito de evitar diminuição nos rendimentos de Sua Magestade Britannica pela diversidade de systemas, e para assegurar as vantagens da uniformidade nos dominios de Sua Magestade Fielissima na India, as Altas Partes Contratantes obrigam-se a executar as seguintes estipulações relativas ao sal, bibidas espirituosas, e opio.

ARTIGO XII.

Sua Magestade Fielissima obriga-se a conceder ao Governo de Bombaim de Sua Magestade Britannica, por todo o tempo que este Tratado estiver em vigor, o privilegio exclusivo de regular ou emprender a fabricação e venda do sal nos dominios Portuguezes da India debaixo das seguintes condições:—

(a) Os proprietarios ou renderiros das marinhas poderão, sob a direcção de agentes do dito Governo, e sujeitos ás condições mutuamente pactuadas, continuar a fabricar sal por conta propria, ou fabricar por conta dos ditos agentes, ou arrendar-lhes as marinhas.

(b) Se os ditos proprietarios ou rendeiros não poderem chegar a accordo voluntario com os ditos agentes, o Governo da India Portuguesa adoptará as medidas necessarias para que as ditas marinhas sejam arrendadas aos ditos agentes, e fiquem sob a sua direcção ou administração, de modo que elles possam mandar ali fabricar o sal pela maneira que julgarem mais appropriada, com tanto que, quando, ao terminar o praso do arrendamento, os ditos proprietarios voltarem á posse das marinhas, fiquem com direito a ser indenizados pelos prejuizos (se os houver) resultantes para as marinhas do arrendamento, mas não obrigados a pagar indemnisação compensation for improvements which may have been effected therein.

MEMORANDUM.

1. This Tariff extends to the whole of British India except Aden.

2. Nothing herein contained affects the regulations now in force in British India relating to the transshipment of goods, or any regulations which may be applied to Portuguese India under Article VIII of the foregoing Treaty, or authorizes the levy of duties of Customs on any article carried from one port in British or Portuguese India to another, except salt, salted fish, opium, and spirit.

3. Goods not prohibited to be imported into, or used in British or Portuguese India, whereof any article liable to duty under this Tariff forms a part or ingredient, shall be chargeable with the full duty which would be payable on such goods if they were entirely composed of such article, or, if composed of more than one article liable to duty, then with the full duty which would be payable on such goods if they were entirely composed of the article charged with the highest rate of duty.

4. The Governments of British and Portuguese India may, from time to time, prescribe rules for ascertaining and determining what spirit imported into Portuguese India shall be deemed to have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption, so as to be subject only to an ad valorem duty of 10 per cent. under Schedule (A) of this Tariff, and for causing such spirit to be so rendered, if necessary, by their own officers, before the duty of Customs leviable thereon is levied, and at the expense of the person importing it.

Such rules, on being published in the respective official Gazettes, shall have the force of law, and whoever wilfully contravenes any such rule shall be liable to fine not exceeding 500 rupees.

In the absence of any such rules, or if any dispute arises as to their applicability, the executive officer of highest rank in the Department of Customs in the port shall decide what spirit is subject only to the said ad valorem duty, and such decision shall be final.

5. On all pepper exported by sea from the port of Cochin there shall be levied such duty not exceeding 9 rupees per khandi, as the Governor of Port St. George in Council from time to time determines; and at the close of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Collector of Customs at the said port shall, after deducting the expenses of collection, pay the duty collected under this section to the Governments of Travancore and Cochin in such proportion, and in such manner as the Governor of Port St. George in Council from time to time directs.

6. No opium shall be imported into or exported from any part of British India, except in accordance with the British Indian Opium Act, 1878, or any other law relating to opium for the time being in force in British India.

7. No opium shall be exported from any part of Portuguese India except in accordance with Article XIV of the foregoing Treaty.

Lisbon, December 26, 1878.

Declaration signed at Lisbon on the 26th day of December, 1878.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries of Her Britannic Majesty and of His Most Faithful Majesty, taking into consideration that the official Portuguese version of the Tariff annexed to the Treaty of Commerce and Extradition signed by them this day could not, owing to the Indian technicalities, and the partly local terminology of that instrument, be satisfactorily completed at Lisbon without the assistance of Custom-house experts from British and Portuguese India, hereby declare the English text annexed to the Treaty to be the official and authoritative text of the Tariff agreed to by the High Contracting Parties, and agree that the task of preparing the official Portuguese version, and bringing it into harmony with the English version, shall be confided to the Delegates to be named under Article XVII of the Treaty.

1. Esta Pauta vigora em toda a India Britannica, excepto Aden.

2. Não ha nella clausula alguma que seja contraria aos regulamentos em vigor na India Britannica acerca da baldeação de mercadorias, ou quaesquer regulamentos que possam ser applicaveis á India Portuguesa, em virtude do Artigo VIII do Tratado precedente, ou que auctorise a cobrança de direitos d'Alfandega sobre qualquer objecto transportado de qualquer porto para outro nas Indias Britannica ou Portuguesa, excepto sobre sal, peixe salgado, opio, e aguardentes.

3. Quaesquer mercadorias cuja importação e uso nas Indias Britannica ou Portuguesa não fôr prohibida, mas em cuja composição entrar qualquer artigo sujeito a direitos em virtude d'esta Pauta, terão a pagar a totalidade do direito que deverão pagar, se na sua composição entrasse exclusivamente o dito artigo, ou, no caso de mais de que um artigo sujeito a direitos entrar na sua composição, pagarão a totalidade do direito que deverão pagar no caso de serem exclusivamente feitas do artigo sujeito ao direito mais elevado.

4. Os Governos das Indias Britannica e Portuguesa poderão de tempo a tempo estabelecer a maneira de averiguar e determinar quaes as aguardentes importadas na India Portuguesa que deverão ser consideradas como effectiva e permanentemente improprias para bebida, de modo que fiquem tão sómente sujeitas ao direito de dez por cento ad valorem nos termos da Tabella (A) d'esta Pauta, e de reduzir as ditas aguardentes a esse estado, se assim fôr necessario, por intermedio dos seus proprios empregados, antes da cobrança dos direitos exigíveis sobre as mesmas, mas ficando as respectivas despesas por conta do importador.

Estas disposições, depois de publicadas nas respectivas Gazetas Officiaes, terão força de Lei; e qualquer pessoa que deliberadamente transgredir qualquer d'estas disposições incorrerá n'uma multa até quinhentas rupias.

Não havendo disposições a esse respeito ou no caso de haver contestação acerca do modo de as applicar, o funcionario mais graduado na Alfandega do porto decidirá quaes são as aguardentes que estão unicamente sujeitas ao dito direito ad valorem, e da sua decisão não haverá recurso.

5. Sobre a pimenta exportada por mar do porto de Cochin, cobrar-se-ha um direito que não excedera a nove rupias por kandi, conforme fôr determinado de tempo a tempo pelo Governador do Forte de São Jorge em conselho; e no fim de cada anno, ou logo depois, assim que poder ser, o Director da Alfandega do dito porto, depois de deduzidas as despesas de cobrança, pagará os direitos cobrados em conformidade com esta secção aos Governos de Travancor e Cochin, na proporção e modo que fôr determinado de tempo a tempo pelo Governador do Forte de São Jorge em conselho.

His Most Faithful Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs declared that His Majesty's Government, whilst fully determined to do everything in their power to hasten the preparatory labours required for the full execution of the Treaty stipulations, so as, if possible, to bring them to a conclusion within the three months, at the expiration of which, from the date of the exchange of ratifications, Article XXII stipulates that the Treaty shall come into force, nevertheless, cannot, in view of the varied and complicated nature of the reforms which it will be necessary to introduce into the administrative system of the Portuguese Colonies in India, engage with certainty that these preparatory labours shall be so far advanced, at the expiration of three months from to-day, as to enable the Treaty to come into force at the date thus specified.

Her Britannic Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary having taken act of the declaration made by His Most Faithful Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, declared himself authorized by his Government to propose to the Government of His Most Faithful Majesty that the Delegates to whom, under Article XVII of the Treaty, is confided the task of preparing the measures requisite for the execution of the Treaty, shall, not later than six weeks from the date at which they commence their joint labours, and at an earlier date if possible, report to the Governors-General of British and Portuguese India at what date their labours will be so far advanced as to allow of the Treaty coming into force; upon which the Governors-General aforesaid shall conjointly determine the date at which the Treaty shall accordingly come into force. He further declared himself authorized to state that the first quarterly instalment of the annual sum of four lacs of rupees which Her Britannic Majesty engages, under Article XV, to pay to His Most Faithful Majesty, in consideration of Articles XI, XII, XIII, and XIV of the Treaty, will be paid at the expiration of three months from the date at which the Treaty shall accordingly come into force.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, are republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort William, the 20th December 1879.

No. 2037.—Read again—

Accounts Proceedings for June 1870, Nos. 59 and 60.

„ „ for January 1874, No. 16.

RESOLUTION.—By Notification No. 167, dated 16th May 1870, a system of District Savings Banks was established, the yearly rate of interest on deposits therein being fixed at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per centum, and the monthly rate at one pie for each Rupee $1\frac{1}{2}$.

2. The market rate of interest being now higher, the Governor General in Council notifies that, with effect from the 1st January 1880, the monthly rate of interest on deposits in District, Presidency and Military Savings Banks shall be one pie for each $1\frac{1}{2}$ Rupee, which is equal to Rs. $4\frac{1}{8}$ per centum per annum. As this rate is now fixed in supersession of a lower rate, so it must be plainly understood that the Governor General in Council reserves the right of reducing the rate thus fixed again at any time at his discretion, and that it will not be open to any depositor to object to such reduction.

3. Moreover, the Governor General in Council deems it expedient to dispense with the restrictions of the existing Rules as to personal attendance and as to the hours for the transaction of business with the Savings Banks.

4. Accordingly, the Governor General in Council has passed the following Rules for District and other Government Savings Banks, revoking all previous Rules :—

I.—In these Rules—

“Depositor,” “Deposit,” and “Secretary” bear the meaning which they bear in The Government Savings Bank Act, 1873.

“Account” means the account of a Depositor in a Government Savings Bank.

“Balance” means the balance at credit of an account.

II.—Any person may become a Depositor on his own behalf, or on behalf of any other person. Deposits may also be made by the managers of benevolent or other public Associations, or by public Officers, of money deposited with them ex-officio as security for the discharge of any public duty or for the fidelity of any public officer, or for the accomplishment of any public object.

III.—Subject to the provisions of these Rules, the Government of India guarantees the repayment of every deposit with interest.

IV.—Without the special or general sanction of the Governor General in Council, no account will be opened for less than One Rupee; and no person may deposit more than Five Thousand Rupees, in all, between any 1st of April and the 31st March next following.

V.—Interest will not be allowed upon a smaller balance than $1\frac{1}{2}$ Rupee, or upon the excess in any balance over the highest multiple of $1\frac{1}{2}$ Rupee.

VI.—Interest will be allowed from the beginning of the calendar month succeeding that in which a deposit is made, to the end of the month preceding that in which it is withdrawn.

VII.—From the 1st January 1880, till farther notice, interest will be allowed upon deposits at the rate of one pie a month for every $1\frac{1}{2}$ Rupee, which is equal to one anna for every Rs. 18, or one Rupee for every Rs. 288, being at the rate of Rs. $4\frac{1}{8}$ per centum per annum. Saving with the special or general sanction of the Governor General in Council, the highest monthly interest allowed upon any balance shall be Rs. 17½.

VIII.—On the written request of any Depositor, his balance, or any part of it, will be invested by the Comptroller General in his own name in trust for, and at the risk of, the Depositor at current market rates, in stock of any Loan which he may specify; if no particular loan is specified, then stock of one of the Four Per Cent. Loans will be bought. The stock thus bought will be held by the Comptroller General on the Depositor's account, the interest thereon, less a commission of one-quarter per cent., being added to his deposit, on advice from the Comptroller General, and entered in his Deposit Book, the first time that it is subsequently presented. Stock held on account of a Depositor will, on his written request, be sold, and the proceeds added to his Deposit, or, if he desires it, will be converted into notes and delivered to him. A commission of $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. will be charged upon such purchases, sales and deliveries.

IX.—Every account will be made up on the 31st March, and the interest then due, calculated under these Rules, added to the balance upon which future interest will accrue. If an account is closed on any other date, interest due to the end of the preceding calendar month will be paid to the Depositor: but a Depositor who closes an account should not, ordinarily, be permitted immediately to re-open it, except on payment of a fine varying at the discretion of the Secretary from one to ten rupees.

X.—An account may be transferred free of charge to any other Government Savings Bank.

XI.—A Deposit Book will be supplied to each Depositor in which the Secretary, or, if the Savings Bank is at a public treasury, the Treasury Officer, will acknowledge every deposit. The personal attendance of a Depositor is not required; but no deposit will be received or payment made without the Depositor's Deposit Book, and the Government will not be responsible for any deposit the receipt of which is not acknowledged in a Deposit Book. The interest due to date will be entered in each Deposit Book the first time that it is produced after the 31st March. The first Deposit Book will be supplied free of charge; but if a Deposit Book is lost or injured, or if a closed account is re-opened, one rupee will be charged for a new book.

XII.—A Depositor may not operate frequently upon his account as if it were an ordinary banking account, or open more than one account in his own name or in the name of any member of his family, or for his own benefit or the benefit of any member of his family. The Comptroller General must take precautions to prevent any transgression of this Rule, and, in particular, any employment of an account as an ordinary drawing account. This Rule is not meant to prevent any one from opening more than one ex-officio or public account.

XIII.—The Secretary may refuse to open any account or may close any account, for any sufficient reason, as, for example, because he thinks that the account is likely to be used or is being used contrary to the object with which Government Savings Banks are established, namely, the encouragement of saving. But every such refusal or closure, and the reasons for it, should be reported to the Comptroller General.

XIV.—When the Secretary thinks it proper to close any account, he shall give notice, in writing, to the Depositor, of such closure. After the date of such notice, no deposit shall be accepted on the account so closed, and no interest shall be allowed upon the balance of the closed account after the end of the calendar month then current.

XVI.—The Governor General in Council reserves the right to alter or add to these Rules at any time.

XVII.—A copy of The Government Savings Banks Act, 1873, and of these Rules, shall be printed in each Deposit Book, and the signature, or, if he cannot read, mark of the Depositor, obtained to the annexed declaration before any deposit is accepted from him.

Declaration to be recorded in accordance with Rule XVI.

I acknowledge that I have read these Rules (or, if he cannot read, that these Rules have been read to me).

The part of the upper deck upon which such hospital shall be erected, shall be pointed out and measured off by the surveying officers. The property, which is known as the Chota Hajjan Tea Garden, is situated on the Suddea Road, 32 miles from Debrugarh, in the district of Luckimpore, Assam, being grant No. 114, Government survey, and comprises 1,296 acres held in fee simple, 100 acres more or less of which are planted with a good Assam hybrid variety of tea ranging from one to four years of age from which a crop of 201 maunds of tea has been realized this season, 146 maunds having been sold at a gross average of As. 8-6 per lb. W. E. H. FORSYTH, Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th December 1879, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon in three weeks :—

A Bill for amending the Calcutta Port Improvement Act, 1870.

WHEREAS upon the appointment of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta to be Conservators of the said Port under the provisions of section 95 of Bengal Act V of 1870, the sum of Rs. 17,65,000 was amongst others due from the said Commissioners to the Secretary of State for India in Council, and it was subsequently agreed between the said Commissioners and the said Secretary of State that the former should be held liable for interest only on the said Rs. 17,65,000, and should not be called upon to repay the principal, and it is expedient to provide for payment of interest on the said sum; and whereas the said Commissioners have accumulated funds amounting to about 5½ lakhs of rupees, hereinafter called the reserve fund, to meet sudden and urgent disbursements connected with the said Port, and it is expedient to exempt the same from liability for certain debts of the said Commissioners; and whereas it is expedient to empower the said Commissioners to borrow money for the estimated costs of any works hereafter to be undertaken by them, and to borrow from Government the sum of Rs. 54,22,567-3-0 in respect of works hitherto undertaken by them and to provide for the repayment of the same, and to further amend Bengal Act V of 1870: It is hereby enacted as follows :—

I.—This Act may be called “The Port Commissioners’ Amendment Act, 1880;”

It shall be read with, and taken as part of, Bengal Act V of 1870, as amended by Bengal Act VII of 1871 and Bengal Act III of 1872, and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

II.—Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 82, and 90 of Bengal Act V of 1870 and Schedules A, B and C annexed thereto, are hereby repealed.

This repeal shall not affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or any right, title, obligation, or liability accrued, before the commencement of this Act.

III.—All property vested in, or acquired or held by, and all moneys paid or payable to, the Commissioners shall be held upon trust for the purposes of this Act and not otherwise.

IV.—It shall be lawful for the Commissioners to borrow from the Secretary of State for India in Council the sum of Rs. 54,22,567-3-0 upon the terms hereinafter mentioned.

V.—The said sum shall be repaid by the Commissioners to the said Secretary of State by half-yearly instalments of such amount that not less than one-fifth of the whole shall be repaid within ten years, not less than one-half within twenty years, and the whole within thirty years from the commencement of this Act.

VI.—Interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum upon the said amount and upon the said sum of Rs. 17,65,000 shall be paid by the Commissioners to the said Secretary of State half-yearly; the first of such payments to be made on the 30th day of June 1880.

VII.—In case of default of payment of any such instalment or interest, the Government may proceed to realize the same in the manner prescribed by sections 17 and 18 of this Act, but nothing in this Act shall be deemed to confer upon Government any greater right in respect of realization than that conferred upon other creditors of the Commissioners under this Act.

VIII.—Notwithstanding the provisions of section 5, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, if they think fit, out of any moneys which may come to their hands under the provisions of this Act, to repay to the Secretary of State in Council any sum which for the time being may remain due to him under the provisions of this Act for principal, although the time fixed for the repayment of the same shall not have arrived: provided always that no such repayment shall be made of any sum less than ten thousand rupees, nor of any sum not being a multiple of ten thousand rupees; and from and after any such repayment no further sum as interest shall be payable to the said Secretary of State in Council in respect of the sum which shall have been so repaid.

IX.—If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, so direct, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners from time to time to raise money for the estimated cost of any works or arrangements sanctioned by him to such extent as he may from time to time direct.

X.—In such case it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to raise a loan or loans on the security of the property, other than the said reserve fund, and the interest thereon, vested in or acquired by them under this Act, or on the security of the total aggregate amount of the proceeds of all or any of the tolls, duties, rates, and charges leviable under this Act.

XI.—Unless the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council shall by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette otherwise direct, such loans shall be contracted in India and in the Indian currency, and the Commissioners shall accumulate, in the case of each of such loans, a sinking fund of such an amount as will suffice to liquidate such loan within thirty years from the date of the contracting of the same.

XII.—Such loans and the interest thereon shall be a first charge on all property acquired by the Commissioners under this Act, and on all tolls, duties, rates, and charges leviable under this Act.

XIII.—All the moneys so to be raised shall be applied by the Commissioners upon the construction and repair of works and erections necessary or expedient for the carrying out of the purposes of this Act, and upon the acquisition of immoveable and moveable property requisite for such construction or repair as aforesaid, and to the payment of such salaries, fees, and expenses, and such principal and interest as may be due in respect of such construction or repair as aforesaid.

XIV.—Whenever the half-yearly account, directed by Bengal Act V of 1870 to be laid before the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall show a surplus for the half-year of income over expenditure, such surplus, or so much thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor shall think fit, shall be applied by the Commissioners in paying off any of the debentures that may be issued under this Act, the principal sum due in respect whereof may be then payable; or such surplus may, if the Lieutenant-Governor shall so direct in whole or part, be invested by the Commissioners in the purchase in their corporate name of Government securities or of their own debentures, and the interest thereof may be accumulated and invested in like manner, with power to the Commissioners at any time to dispose of any such securities or debentures, and to apply the proceeds and interest thereof, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, in or towards any of the purposes of this Act.

XV.—The Commissioners may at any time, according to the provisions aforesaid, and with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, raise in any of the ways aforesaid any money that may be required to pay any amount for the time being due from the Commissioners under this Act.

XVI.—All debentures which may be issued under the authority of this Act shall be in the form contained in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be transferable by endorsement, and the right to sue in respect of the moneys secured by any of such debentures shall be vested in the holders thereof for the time being without any preference by reason of some of such debentures being prior in date to others.

XVII.—If any loan made under this Act, or the interest accrued thereupon, is not repaid according to the conditions of this loan, the local Government may of its own motion, and shall upon the application of lenders representing not less than one-third in value of the total of the loan on which default has been committed, attach the tolls, duties, rates, fund, or property on the security of which the loan was made. After such attachment no person, except an officer appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall in any way deal with the attached toll, duty, rate, fund, or property; but such officer may do all acts in respect thereof which the borrower might have done if such attachment had not taken place, and shall apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the loan, and of all interest and charges due in respect thereof, and of all expenses involved by the attachment and subsequent proceedings.

XVIII.—The attachment of any toll, duty, rate, fund, or any property held as security for the loan shall be made by a notice addressed to the Commissioners prohibiting the collection of such toll, duty, rate, or fund, or suspending the management of such property by the Commissioners, and vesting the administration thereof in such officer as the local Government may appoint. This notice shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and otherwise as may be directed by the local Government within the local limits of the Commissioners. The moneys collected or received under such attachment shall be paid into the Government treasury, and the accounts of such moneys shall be prepared in such form as the local Government may, on the report of the Accountant-General, from time to time direct. A copy of such accounts shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and, if the Government of India so direct, submitted to it.

XIX.—The Commissioners may from time to time make such bye-laws, consistent with this Act, and with the Indian Ports Act, 1875, as they may think necessary for any of the following purposes (that is to say):—

(a) for regulating, declaring, and defining the wharves, quays, stages, jetties, and piers on and from which goods shall be landed from, and shipped in, vessels within the port;

(b) for the safe and convenient use of such wharves, quays, stages, jetties, and piers, and of landing-places, tramways, warehouses, sheds, and other works in and adjoining the same;

(c) for regulating the reception and removal of goods within and from the premises of the Commissioners, and for declaring the procedure to be followed for taking charge of goods which may have been damaged before landing or may be alleged to be so damaged;

(d) for the mode of payment of tolls, charges, dues and rates levied under this Act;

(e) for providing water for ships and for licensing and regulating water-boats within the port;

(f) for the removal of wrecks from the port or the river, and keeping clean the port, the river, the bank of the river, and the works of the Commissioners, and for preventing filth and rubbish being thrown therein or thereon;

(g) for otherwise carrying out the purposes of this Act, and from time to time to vary, alter, or make any such bye-law so made by them.

XX.—In section 39 (2) of the said Bengal Act, V of 1870, the words “for the conveyance of passengers and” shall be inserted after the word “appliances,” and the said section shall be read and construed as if the words hereby directed to be inserted therein had been originally therein inserted.

SCHEDULE (referred to in section 16):

FORM OF DEBENTURE.

The Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

The 18

No.

By virtue of the Act No. . . . of 18 . . . of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, entitled "an Act to appoint Commissioners for making improvements in the port of Calcutta," we, the Commissioners for making improvements in the port of Calcutta, in consideration of the sum of rupees paid to us by A B of

. promise to pay to the said or order the said sum of rupees after the date hereof, together with interest at the rate of per centum per annum payable half-yearly on the day of and the day of (Signatures of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman and two Commissioners).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In consequence of the decision of the Government of India that the Port Commissioners should in future borrow only in the open market, and that, to enable them to do so, the Government should surrender its preferential lien on the Commissioners' property, it becomes necessary to amend Bengal Act V of 1870. Sections 41 and 42 of that Act having been impliedly repealed by Act XXIV of 1871, which last Act is now repealed by Act XI of 1879, it is further necessary for the local legislature to grant fresh borrowing powers to the Port Commissioners. In consequence of a portion of the existing debt due from the Commissioners to Government having been incurred under Act XXIV of 1871, it is beyond the powers of the Local Council to alter the mode of repayment of that portion, and as it is desirable that the mode of repayment of all the existing repayable Government loans should be the same, it is provided that the Commissioners should take from Government, on the terms of payment proposed, a fresh loan equal to the aggregate sum due on the existing repayable loans, and should apply the amount in discharging these loans.

In the rules under the Local Authorities' Loan Act, 1879, the Governor-General in Council will make the requisite provision for the loans under that Act being immediately paid off if necessary.

Opportunity is also taken to make a slight amendment of section 82 of Bengal Act V of 1870, relating to the power of the Commissioners to make bye-laws.

CANAL REVENUE REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, No. 43741.A, under date the 19th December 1879.

READ—

The Canal Revenue Report for the year 1878-79 and the note by the Chief Engineer on the same.

The capital outlay on irrigation works during the year under review was Rs. 28,34,204, and the total outlay under this head amounted to Rs. 4,93,73,192, of which Rs. 4,82,47,938 have been expended on productive works; the balance, Rs. 11,25,254, is the expenditure on works other than productive, but for which capital accounts are kept, divided into "Ordinary" charged to Imperial funds, Rs. 8,88,504, and "Ordinary" charged to Provincial funds, Rs. 2,91,750.

The amount of interest for 1878-79 payable by the Government of Bengal to the Imperial treasury is Rs. 21,59,507.

GRAND TOTAL				8,51,163	4,94,772	3,29,760

The great increase in the revenue of the year is mainly due to the fact that the Sone Canals have been brought more fully into operation. The receipts from irrigation would, however, have been much greater had a larger proportion of the assessments been realized. In Orissa and Midnapore most of the demand falls due on the 1st of February, but little time was therefore left for collecting the revenue before the end of the financial year. On the Sone Canals the non-realization of the large outstanding balance of Rs. 3,04,411 was due to delay in the preparation of the demand statements, unsatisfactory measurements, and the destruction of a large part of the rubber crops by insects, on account of which considerable remissions will have to be made. It is satisfactory to be able to state, with regard to the first two causes, that a great improvement has taken place, and that of the arrears upwards of 50 per cent. have since been realized.

The working expenses amounted to Rs. 8,05,610, against Rs. 7,02,857 in 1877-78 and Rs. 5,97,960 in 1876-77. The increase is wholly on the Sone, and is mostly due to the additional length of canal and distributaries brought into operation.

The areas assessed for water-rates, compared with those of the former year, are as follow :—

The increase in the assessed area under the Orissa Canals was 12,755 acres, besides which 11,567 acres were irrigated free of charge on the newly-opened second and third ranges of the High Level Canal. Also 20,350 acres on the lower portions of the Kendrapara and Patamoondée Canals received surplus water and could not be assessed; thus the total area watered was 143,167 acres, against 109,000 acres in 1877-78. The success attending the irrigation operations in Orissa has in a great measure been due to the energy and ability of Mr. Wylly, the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, who has been ably assisted by his subordinates and by the engineering staff. Of the 105,500 acres no less than 94,492 acres were leased for five years under the following conditions:—

- (1) That the whole irrigable khurreef area of the village must be included.
- (2) That the assessment be based on former measurements, or on the cadastral survey maps when available.
- (3) That the rate for flow irrigation be Rs. 1-8 and Re. 1 for lift per acre. To those not taking out leases for five years, or only desirous of using water for portion of a village, the charge to be Rs. 3 for flow and Rs. 2 for lift per acre.

The great increase in the irrigated area in Midnapore, viz. from 19,819 acres in 1877-78 to 58,731 acres in 1878-79, is attributed partly to a deficiency of rain in the early part of the khurreef season, and partly to the fact that canal water is thoroughly appreciated by the people with whom long leases are popular. During the last khurreef season the area irrigated has reached the unprecedented figure of 96,000 acres, most of which has been leased for four and five years.

On the Sone Canals the falling off in the khurreef area irrigated is due to the rainfall of August and September 1878 having been so much heavier than in the corresponding period of 1877; it is also partly due to the higher water-rate of Rs. 2-8 per acre, against Re. 1 in 1877, when orders were given to save as much of the crops as possible irrespective of the returns. The falling off in rubbee is attributed to the destruction of a large portion of the crops of 1877-78 by insects, and to heavy rain in the cold season which followed an injudicious application of excess irrigation. Both these causes doubtless hindered the cultivators from taking water for the rubbee crops in 1878-79 as freely as they did in the previous year.

19,624 acres of sugarcane were irrigated in 1878-79, against 9,891 in 1877-78. The increase is important, as the rate is Rs. 5 per acre. The following statement of the exports of jaggrey from Shahabad by the East Indian Railway during the past eight years gives some idea of the great increase of sugarcane cultivation in that district since the construction of the canals and the introduction by Messrs. Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne, of Bihia, of their simple and handy mill for extracting the juice:—

A system of three-year leases, based on differential rates for rubbee and khurreef crops, was introduced last year on the Sone Canals. but with little success. The object, as stated by the Chief Engineer in paragraph 65 of his report, "was to avoid the continually recurring measurements of the irrigated areas, annual application for water, and other harassing details; but this was entirely frustrated when the people sowed rice on rubbee lands, rubbee on rice lands, and sugarcane on both. It is clear that no lease based on crops for a term of years can possibly be satisfactory. The unit of assessment must be the land. It is believed that an arrangement of this sort would be generally popular, and measures will be adopted to introduce the system." The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in this view of the question, and will be glad to see the system of long leases for large areas, which has proved so successful in Orissa and Midnapore, introduced on the Sone Canals also.

The construction of village channels by the people is a matter of great importance on the Sone Canals. On this depends in a great measure the spread of irrigation. Messrs Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne have constructed 60 miles on their estates at Bihia in Shahabad. From other zemindars in the same district 142 applications for village channels have been received, and Rs. 10,675 have been deposited for their construction. Much difficulty is, however, experienced in obtaining the consent of proprietors through whose lands the channel must pass, and the law has in most cases to be put in force.

The revenue from navigation has somewhat fallen off from that of the last year, which on the Midnapore and Hidgelee Canals was quite exceptional on account of the great demand for food grains for the Madras famine. The following statement shows that on the whole there has been a steady advance:—

Year	TOLL COLLECTIONS
	Orissa.	Midnapore	Hidgelee.	Sone	Total.
	Rs	Rs.	Rs	Rs	Rs
1872-73	10,044	20,994	14,454	...	45,492

1874-75	21,412	44,886	52,209	...	1,18,507
1875-76	16,377	51,810	22,540	...	90,727
1876-77	22,881	67,651	44,572	4,852	1,39,956
1877-78	33,844	1,06,917	60,971	26,774	2,28,506
1878-79	57,042	77,340	59,723	29,332	2,23,437

The increase in Orissa is due to the enhancement in the tollage rates as explained in the Chief Engineer's note, paragraph 27. On the Sone Canals, though there was an increase of tollage amounting to Rs. 2,558 only, the private traffic increased by Rs. 10,353 with a corresponding diminution in carriage of materials for the work. The latter figure of course is the true test of the extent to which the canals are appreciated by the public.

During the year steam navigation was started on the Kendraparah Canal in Orissa between Chandbally and Cuttack, on the Midnapore Canal between Calcutta and Midnapore, and on the Patna Canal in Behar between Dinapore and Baroon near Dehree. In Orissa the experiment has proved most successful, the little steam-launch Pioneer having cleared all her working expenses and shown a profit of Rs. 7,466. The steamers employed on the other canals were not well-adapted for the traffic, and have worked at a loss; but the steady increase in the receipts has fully warranted the continuance of the service, and when the new steamers now under construction are brought into use, no doubts are entertained of their success.

No revenue has as yet been derived from plantations; but a large number of trees have been planted out on all the canals, and in the course of a few years it is expected that a considerable profit may be derived from them.

A sugar-mill has been established on the Arrah Canal to utilize the water at one of the Falls to the extent of 50-horse power, for which Rs 3,750 per annum is to be paid. A small experimental flour mill has also been erected on the Buxar Canal. It is hoped that this beginning may lead to an extended use of the vast power available on the canals, and at the same time prove a valuable source of revenue.

The results of the irrigation operations of the year, as shown in paragraph 98 of the Chief Engineer's note, cannot be considered otherwise than very satisfactory. "The receipts have exceeded the working expenses by Rs. 45,523, and thus for the first time irrigation in Bengal has shown a profit, which would have been greater had the outstanding balances been collected. "Calculated by the earnings of the canals, the surplus of the year's operations "would be Rs. 2,66,758 as follows:—

The report by the Deputy Revenue Superintendents in Orissa and Midnapore give full information regarding the working of the system in this district. The reports of the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-West, and Sone Circles are very complete; but especially deserving of notice is that by Mr. Odling, Executive Engineer of the Arrah Division. Referring to the 74th paragraph of the Chief Engineer's note, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the Commissioner of Patna, in the last paragraph of his report, has prominently brought forward certain defects in the system in vogue on the Sone Canals, and quoted some disparaging remarks made by one of the collecting officers. It is to be regretted that he did not also notice the marked improvement reported by the same officer; and seeing that the shortcomings referred to had, at the time he wrote, been to a great extent remedied, the necessity for quoting from a previous letter in which they had been noticed is not apparent.

The Lieutenant-Governor fully appreciates and highly commends the great interest taken by Mr. Edgar, the Collector of Shahabad, in all matters connected with irrigation in his district. He has given close attention to the subject, and afforded many valuable suggestions for the better working of this system, which will, it is believed, ultimately lead to a great development in the revenue.

The Government of Bengal is responsible for the payment of the interest on the large sums which have been expended on the irrigation works in the province: it is of great importance therefore that all the officers, in any way connected with the canals, should exert themselves to the utmost for the development of the revenue, both by judiciously encouraging the spread of irrigation, and by keeping down the expenses of working and revenue establishments.

In January last Colonel (now General) Haig, R.E., Chief Engineer and Joint-Secretary in this Department, retired from the service. The Lieutenant-Governor desires now to place on record his appreciation of the conscientious and able manner in which he performed his duties. Sir A. Eden has always received from him the most valuable assistance, and it is mainly due to him that the position of irrigation in Bengal is now more promising than it ever was before.

The Lieutenant-Governor greatly regrets the loss which the service has sustained by the retirement of Mr. Walker, Superintending Engineer, whose able management of the Orissa work for many years is deserving of the highest commendation. He also fully endorses the remarks made by the Chief Engineer in the last paragraph of his note regarding the officers therein mentioned, viz. Major Heywood, R.E., Superintending Engineer, Mr. Odling and Mr. Fouracres, Executive Engineers, and Messrs. Douglas and Inglis, Assistant Engineers.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

STATE OF THE SALT MARKET.

No. 1167B, dated Fort William, the 3rd December 1879.

From—COLMAN MACAULAY, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the second quarter of 1879-80; comprising the months of July, August, and September 1879.

HON'BLE C. T. BUCKLAND.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared in the quarter under report amounted to 27,37,846 maunds 19 seers and $5\frac{1}{2}$ chittacks, against 21,24,562 maunds 22 seers and 7 chittacks in the previous quarter, and 25,97,649 maunds 37 seers and 8 chittacks in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 73 79,362-10, against Rs. 56,37,039-14-4 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 71,94,349-0-10 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in the districts of Cuttack, Balasore, Pooree, and 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter from the stock of the different seasons' manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in Table I:—

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. OXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind direction, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

AMENDMENT OF THE CALCUTTA PORT IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1870.

THE HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND moved that the Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Improvement Act, 1870, be read in Council. He did not propose to trouble the Council with any lengthy remarks and explanations on the sections of the Bill. It was not the custom at meetings of the Port Commissioners to make speeches of any length. There was, however, a statement in the preamble of the Bill which might perhaps puzzle some hon'ble members: he alluded to the statement about a certain sum of Rs. 17,65,000. That sum represented the value of what might be called the block of the port, and consisted of buoys, chains, anchors, and other things of that kind, most of which were under water. The Government valued the stock at Rs. 17,65,000 when they made over charge of the port, and that was why it stood upon a separate footing from the rest of the money which had been borrowed from the Government. Then, again, in the preamble, there was mentioned a sum of Rs. 54,22,567. That sum would have to be altered, because the Port Commissioners were in the habit of paying off their debts very steadily, and the debt would consist of about Rs. 53,22,567 by the time the Bill became law.

The Bill repealed many provisions of the Act of 1870, but it did not affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or of any right, title, obligation, or liability which accrued under the old Act.

Then he came to a section which provided for a special arrangement. Although the Port Commissioners were not to borrow from the Government any more, this Act enabled them immediately to borrow from the Government the whole sum necessary to repay the existing debt to the Government. They would lend the Port Commissioners with one hand and take it back with the other. Having lent them this sum, (say) 54 lakhs, they would immediately repay themselves the debt now due to them, and stand upon the same footing as all the future creditors of the Port Commissioners. The other sections were re-enacted almost verbatim with the necessary alterations.

Then they came eventually to a new section, 19, which was a modification of section 82 of Act V of 1870, relating to the power of the Commissioners to make bye-laws. The learned Advocate-General would probably remember that his opinion was taken regarding the meaning of section 82 of Act V of 1870. When the Act of 1870 was drafted, section 82 was set forth in one long sentence, and because in the first sentence it was said that the Port Commissioners might make rules for their own servants, therefore the lawyers were afraid that the courts might hold that all their rules under the section would apply only to their servants. Doubtless to an ordinary mind it seemed astonishing that bye-laws which were only to regulate the conduct of the Port Commissioners' servants should need to be published and sanctioned by the Government. But in order to give the highest authority to the proposed alteration of the power to make bye-laws, the section in the present Bill was taken from the latest Bill turned out from the anvil of the Government of India, namely, the Rangoon Port Bill.

There remained section 20 of the Bill, in which it was provided that the words "conveyance of passengers and" should be inserted after the word "appliances" in section 39, paragraph 2, of Act V of 1870, relating to the tramway which the Port Commissioners had. As a matter of fact they had not at present the means of carrying passengers, nor the proper contrivances to enable them to do so, and the goods traffic was so considerable that it was very improbable that they would ever be able to carry passengers, especially if the East Indian Railway came to this side of the river. But it might be possible that it would be the duty of the Commissioners to carry passengers in connection with goods, and therefore with the words now proposed they would keep themselves within the law.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he had not intended to make any comments upon this Bill, but the remarks which had fallen from the hon'ble mover suggested a doubt as to whether the Port Commissioners should be vested with the power given by section 20 of the Bill of carrying passengers in the town by their tramways. Hon'ble members were aware that there was already a Bill before the Council regarding tramways in Calcutta, and if the Port Commissioners should take advantage of the power proposed to be conferred upon them of carrying passengers in their tramways, there would be competition between them and the grantees of the Municipal Corporation. As on a former occasion, competition led to the ruin of the Municipal tramway, so competition again, between the Municipal grantees and the Port Commissioners would, he was afraid, be to the disadvantage of both, if not ruinous to one of them. The hon'ble mover said that the Port Commissioners had not now the necessary appliances for carrying passengers in their tramway, and that they did not intend to carry passengers, but that it was thought desirable to have the power; in other words, if the Port Commissioners should find that the carrying of passengers would be profitable, they might make the necessary appliances and exercise the power proposed to be given to them.

BABOO KRISTODAS PAL did not think it advisable to have two competing lines of tramway between a few yards of each other, such as the Calcutta and Port Commissioners' tramways would be.

There was also another provision in the Bill which called for remark: he alluded to section 19, clause (c), which gave power to the Port Commissioners to provide water for ships and for licensing and regulating water-boats within the port. He did not know whether hon'ble members were aware that there had been a contention going on for some time past between the Port Commissioners and the Town Commissioners in respect of supply of water to the shipping, and that the Town Commissioners had claimed the right and had gone to heavy expense to provide the necessary apparatus for the purpose. He did not know to what extent this power would be exercised by the Port Commissioners, but it was a question whether they should have power regarding a duty which had hitherto been discharged by the Town Commissioners in a satisfactory manner. Not only would they under the Bill have the power of supplying water to the shipping, but also to regulate water-boats within the port. He did not think it would be just or expedient to give another Corporation power over the arrangements and appliances of a rival Corporation in the discharge of its own duties. The water-boats in the port now belonged to the Town Commissioners; with those boats water was supplied, and they ought to have full power to regulate their own boats. He did not know for what reason, or with what object, this power was claimed by the Port Commissioners; but he hoped the Select Committee would take this point into consideration.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he had no doubt that the Select Committee to whom this Bill would be referred would look into all the papers on the subject, and make such provisions in the Bill as they might think necessary. He did not understand the hon'ble member to oppose the reading of the Bill, and if the principle of the Bill was accepted, the details could thereafter be discussed in Select Committee.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND said he should be happy to consider in Select Committee the suggestions which the hon'ble member had made.

The Bill was then referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie, the Hon'ble Mr. Field, the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis, the Hon'ble Baboo Peary Mohun Mookerjee, and the mover, with instructions to report in three weeks.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AMONG ANIMALS.

The HON'BLE MR. O'KINEALY moved that the Bill to provide against the spreading of contagious diseases among animals be read in Council.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he was sorry to observe that in introducing this Bill the hon'ble member in charge had placed before the Council such scant information showing the necessity for the measure. The statement of objects and reasons was dismissed with about ten lines, and was not accompanied by any official papers whatever, showing whether there had been any such increase of contagious diseases among animals in Calcutta as to necessitate the proposed measure.

In his introductory speech the hon'ble member laid great stress on the Bill which had been introduced into the Council of His Excellency the Governor-General. He said—

“Every motive which induced the Government of India to legislate for the Upper Provinces applied with tenfold force to induce the Government of Bengal to pass a somewhat similar enactment for Calcutta and its suburbs.”

It was not for BABOO KRISTODAS PAL to enquire whether there were good and valid reasons for the introduction of a Bill of this kind in the other Council, but every member of His Honor's Council had a right to know what reasons did exist for the entertainment of a measure of this kind for those provinces. If the rate of mortality amongst horses in Calcutta had not been more than what was ordinarily the case, and if no necessity was established for such a rigorous law as was proposed, he did not think this Council would be justified in sanctioning it. He dared say the hon'ble member would be able to put the Council in possession of papers which would show the necessity for such legislation. But looking to the Bill as it was put before the Council, he must confess that the machinery it provided would perhaps do more harm than good. In the first place the Bill was not complete in the definition of "contagious disease." It said—

"'Contagious disease' means glanders, farcy, and any disease which the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare to be a contagious disease for the purposes of this Act."

With all deference, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL submitted that it was the duty of this Council to define by its own enactment what diseases should be brought within the scope of the Bill. Surely His Honor the President would admit that, aided by his Council, he was more competent to define "contagious disease" than he would be as the head of the Executive Government.

Again, it was provided that owners of diseased animals should give notice when any animal was affected with any contagious disease. With regard to the diseases of glanders and farcy, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL could say on behalf of native gentlemen that he doubted whether one out of a hundred could at the early stage of the disease discover what it was, and it would therefore be very hard if from suspicion that an animal was so affected a person who did not give information should be subjected to a penalty of Rs. 500 as provided in the Bill.

Then again it was provided that an animal affected with glanders or farcy was to be slaughtered on the certificate of a Veterinary Surgeon, or in his absence of a Civil Surgeon or an Assistant Surgeon. Now, if the disease should really exist, and a competent person should certify to the fact of the disease, certainly there could be no reasonable objection to the destruction of the animal. But it was well known that the Assistant Surgeons as a body knew nothing about horse diseases, and it would be most dangerous to authorize them to grant certificates and empower police officers to act upon such certificates. With regard to Civil Surgeons, he did not know how far they were acquainted with such diseases: it was Veterinary Surgeons alone who possessed a special knowledge of the subject. If this provision were restricted to Veterinary Surgeons, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL would not object to it; but, as it was framed, it applied also to Civil Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons, the majority of whom, as he had already remarked, could not be presumed to possess a scientific knowledge of horse diseases, and the result he feared would be abuse of power and oppression. Armed with a certificate thus given, the police officer would seize the suspected animal, and if so inclined might slaughter it; or on pretence of suspicion he might first seize the animal, and afterwards take a certificate from an incompetent Assistant Surgeon, and under its authority destroy a valuable horse. If Civil Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons without special training could not fairly be expected to be acquainted with diseases among animals, how much less could a police officer be expected to have such knowledge; but the section in question gave power to a police officer to seize a horse on mere suspicion of disease. He thought such a provision would lead to much hardship and oppression. For his own part BABOO KRISTODAS PAL thought the object of the Bill was good, but the machinery for putting it into force should be different from what was contemplated in it. If a hospital were established, and if suspected animals were taken to such an hospital and there kept under observation, and in cases of actual outbreak of disease the infected animal were slaughtered, probably a sufficient safeguard against a wanton interference with private rights would be provided. It was observable that the English Contagious Diseases of Animals Act provided that, when a diseased animal was slaughtered, compensation should be given to the owner of the animal so slaughtered, but no such provision obtained in this Bill.

And lastly, he considered it his duty to enter his protest against that part of the Bill which authorized the slaughtering of cows and oxen under suspicion of being affected with contagious diseases. Such a provision would be most revolting to the religious feelings of the Hindu community. The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill had neither in the statement of objects and reasons, nor in his introductory speech, said anything to show that cows and oxen were subject to glanders or farcy, but the Bill as it was framed had for its object the suppression of those contagious diseases.

BABOO KRISTODAS PAL had thought it proper to refer to an experienced Veterinary Surgeon on this point, and he wrote as follows:—

Cows, oxen, and all horned cattle are not susceptible to “glanders” or “farcy.” Even when they are inoculated with the matter taken from an affected horse, they fail to take the disease.

Then, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL thought, the hon’ble member must mean some other contagious diseases than glanders and farcy. But if he did so, he ought to have proved that such contagious diseases were prevalent among cattle, and that there was an extraordinary mortality in consequence before he asked for legislative interference. All that had been said was about horses, but cows and oxen were included in the Bill. If it was at all thought necessary to extend the Bill to cows and oxen, he would suggest that provision be made for the isolation and treatment of diseased cows and oxen, instead of a summary law for their slaughter. BABOO KRISTODAS PAL did hope that hon’ble members would take this point into consideration and not sanction any provision of law which was calculated to grossly outrage the religious feelings of the Hindus.

The HON’BLE MR. O’KINEALY said he understood the hon’ble member who had just spoken to say, first, that there was no reason for the introduction of this Bill; and secondly, that the object of the Bill was good. MR. O’KINEALY thought under those circumstances that it was hardly necessary for him to enter into details and give reasons which induced the Government of Bengal to introduce this Bill. The reasons which induced the Supreme Government to introduce a somewhat similar enactment had been elaborately given in the Gazette of the Government of India, and he for his part thought that any gentleman referring to those papers would see that the Government had made out a prima facie case for the introduction of the law. If the hon’ble member was not satisfied with that, and he wished to know any other reasons which induced the Government of Bengal to take up this measure, MR. O’KINEALY would be happy to place in his hands all the papers that were at his disposal. He did not think that the Government would be satisfied to pay money compensation for horses affected with glanders or farcy which in 99 cases out of a hundred would die.

But all these objections went rather to the details of the Bill than to the Bill itself, and as the hon’ble member who had raised those objections would be placed upon the Committee, he would have every opportunity for discussing the details.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT, before putting the motion, said that to a great extent he concurred in the objections which had been taken by the hon’ble member on the left (Baboo Kristodas Pal) in his remarks on the subject of this Bill. The Bill, he might say, was pressed upon this Government by the Government of India for very good reasons, which he was sorry to say had not been stated to the Council. There had been a great deal of mortality of late amongst horses, and especially so amongst the Government troops. His Excellency’s Body-guard had been almost decimated last year by an infectious disease which they were said to have contracted in Calcutta; and he might mention that a detachment on duty as his own body-guard had also suffered some time ago, and the Colonel of the regiment from which his body-guard was supplied had brought to notice two years ago the great danger to horses in Calcutta in consequence of frequent outbreaks of glanders and farcy amongst horses brought down to Calcutta. If these two very prominent cases occurred under the eyes of our own officers, there was good reason to believe that the disease was general in the town: if it affected Government in this way, it might be understood that it also affected private persons to a still greater extent. When a disease of this sort got into the town and spread about—and it had spread about—there was no calculating the mischief it might do. There had been considerable correspondence on the subject which was not published. Admitting that it was an evil, Government was clearly bound, with a view to protect private property, to do something;

but he thought there was a great deal of truth in what had been said as to the manner in which the Bill proposed that remedial measures should be carried out. He thought that, while protecting those who kept horses, the Council must as far as possible protect the interests of those who were exposed to be dealt with under the Act as being suspected of having diseased animals. He thought the Bill was very rough and summary in its mode of procedure, and that such procedure was rather calculated to suit the interior of the country than a very large town like Calcutta, where there were numerous facilities for putting diseased animals under proper treatment, and so ascertaining what was wrong with them through the agency of specially skilled men. He thought there was a good deal in the objection that Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons should not be allowed to meddle with these things; they could really know little or nothing of horse diseases. The certificate should be given by a qualified Veterinary Surgeon, of whom there were plenty in Calcutta, and he also thought that arrangements should be made for a hospital of observation to which suspicious cases of animals diseased might be removed until all doubts as to the disease were disposed of.

As to the definition of "contagious disease," he could not accept, as had been proposed by Baboo Kristodas Pal, the responsibility of deciding, with the help of the twelve gentlemen around him, what were contagious diseases: he would sooner, when any question arose, consult Veterinary Surgeons, and would therefore leave the section as had been originally proposed. He believed that, as to this definition great difficulty was felt in the Council of the Governor-General. He thought it was better to leave some amount of elasticity in the definition in order that, when any new disease broke out, after consulting qualified veterinary officers, such disease might be included.

As to cows and oxen, he was not at all prepared to agree that this Act ought to be made into a Cattle Diseases Act. He understood that the Bill was to be confined to dealing with diseases amongst horses, and he did not think that anything had occurred to show that any provision of the sort in regard to the diseases of other cattle was required in Calcutta, and he should be very glad that the Select Committee should consider whether there was any ground for including oxen and heifers and cows in the definition of "animal" in the interpretation clause. He did not think that that was the main object of the Bill, and he was sorry that the provision should have been brought into the Bill in such a manner, as he could quite understand the provision of the Bill as it stood must be very offensive to the religious prejudices of the people. He would be the last person to accept such prejudices when unreasonably urged as an objection to a measure really affecting the interests of the public at large; but looking to the way in which this Act had been drawn, he thought there was much in the Bill which might become very offensive to Hindus with regard to the destruction by the owners of cows and cattle which were supposed to be affected with contagious diseases. These, however, were all subjects that would be taken up by the Select Committee, and he hoped they would give their careful consideration to them before dealing with the subject.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Field, the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis, the Hon'ble Kristodas Pal, the Hon'ble Syed Ameer Hossein, and the mover, with instructions to report in four weeks.

CESS FOR ROADS AND PROVINCIAL PUBLIC WORKS.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved for leave to bring in a Bill to repeal "The District Road Cess Act, 1871" and "The Provincial Public Works Act, 1877," and to amend and consolidate the law for providing by local rating for the construction charges and maintenance of communications and of provincial public works.

Eight years ago their late colleague Mr. Schalch carried through this Council a Bill to provide by local rating for communications, which was known as the Road Cess Act. MR. DAMPIER would only be paying a just tribute of praise to the memory of Mr. Schalch if he said that owing to the intimate practical knowledge which Mr. Schalch brought to bear on the framing of the Bill, and to the minute attention and care with which, while at the Board of Revenue, he watched its first introduction, the measure had been successful beyond expectation, and it was owing to those causes that there were so few points in which alteration was found necessary in the law. As must be expected, however, in the course of eight years' working some points had come to the surface in which the Act might properly be amended, and they were points of some importance. In 1877 a Bill to provide by local rating for provincial public works was passed, under which the tax was to be assessed on the same principle and collected by the same procedure and by the same machinery as the Road Cess; it was obviously desirable, when the Council was about to amend the earlier law, that they should take the opportunity of consolidating the two.

The important points then in the Road Cess Act which required amendment were four, two of them in the direct interest of the tax-payer, the other two only so far in the interest of the tax-payer as all measures were for their benefit which facilitated administration.

The main point in the interest of the tax-payer was connected with the levy of cess from what were called lakhiraj or rent-free holdings, lands which were held rent-free within estates as distinguished from revenue-free lands which were recognized as such and borne on the general register of the Government as revenue-free. As the law now stood, these petty lands which were held rent-free were considered to be part of the estate within which they were geographically situated, and if there was any difficulty in settling that question, an arbitrary discretion was left to the Collector to decide that such land should be included for the purposes of the Act in this or that neighbouring estate. The law required the zemindar in whose estate these lands were so included to enter them in his returns for assessment, and in the first instance to pay the cess due on them, recovering it afterwards from these rent-free holders by the same process as that provided for the recovery of rents from tenants. The duty thus imposed on the zemindars was found to be burdensome and most distasteful. The items recoverable were often numerous, but the amount of each so trifling as to make many of them not worth collection; in one case which MR. DAMPIER had come across it could not be represented in any coin. Moreover, these lakhirajdars were not in the position of ryots dependent upon the superior zemindar or tenure-holder, but were independent and in a normal state of antagonism to them.

For these reasons zemindars and tenure-holders were naturally inclined to do all they could to avoid the acceptance of this liability: it was extremely difficult to identify the lands, and the authorities knew nothing about them; therefore it was easy for the zemindar or tenure-holder simply to omit entering them in his returns in order to avoid the burden of collecting the assessment; when this was done, the holder of the land thus escaped assessment altogether. On the other hand, if the zemindar, like Maharajah Norendra Krishna, who had been one of the greatest sufferers, was honest enough to include these lands in his returns, he was obliged to pay the assessment of which he could eventually recover a part only.

The main object of the amendment proposed in the Act was to give some relief in this respect. MR. DAMPIER would endeavour to lay before the Council a scheme for the registration of these petty lands, which he hoped would have some effect in making their holders come forward and pay these cesses directly to the Collector.

The second point for the relief of the tax-payer was this. As the law stood, if an estate was divided into two parts by what was known as butwarrah, so far as the revenue was concerned they became two different estates, neither of them being liable for the revenue payable by the other. Unfortunately in the Road Cess Act no provision was made for such cases, and re-adjustments of assessment under the Act could, strictly speaking, only be made after five years had elapsed since the first assessment. Therefore, until the expiration of the five years, each part of the divided estate remained legally liable for the entire assessment imposed upon the whole estate as it existed before partition. There was a similar condition of things where a separate account was opened for the payment of revenue under the provisions of Act XI of 1859.

The other amendments, as Mr. DAMPIER had said, were only indirectly in the interest of the tax-payer, but they were required to facilitate the working of the Act. First, as the procedure for the recovery of fines and arrears of assessment was found to be too dilatory and cumbrous, it was proposed to amend the law in that respect. The other point was with regard to the valuation of petty holdings. As the law stood, estates of which the revenue was less than Rs. 100, and tenures of which the gross rental was less than Rs. 100, might be valued by a certain summary process, the assessment so imposed being open to objection by the assessee. The object of this was to expedite matters, and to reduce to a minimum the trouble of the assessee where he accepted the assessment without objection; but no similar provision had been made in respect to lakhiraj property; and therefore, however small a lakhiraj property might be, provided it was recognized as revenue-free and borne on the register of Government as such, it must be valued according to the more perfect and lengthy process. It was proposed to authorize the Collector to value such small lakhiraj properties by summary procedure.

These were the four cardinal points in which the existing Act would be amended. The opportunity would be taken to make alterations here and there in some minor points which Mr. DAMPIER hoped would be such as would meet with the approval of the Council.

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 3rd January 1880.

	40 Hazareebagh, Dec. 26 '79	Nil	Weather—bright and very cold. Prospects good, but a little rain, which is usual at the time of the year, would be beneficial to rubber crops.
	41 Lohardugga, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rain would be of much benefit to rubber crops. Small-pox on the increase; otherwise public health good.
	42 Singhbhum, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—bright and cold. Paddy all reaped with good outturn everywhere. Winter crops doing well.
	43 Manbhum, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—fine and dry. Last few days perceptibly hotter. Paddy nearly all out. Wheat, barley, sugarcane and other dry weather crops promise well. Cattle disease reported from one or two stations.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

HENRY F. BLANFORD,

Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the five weeks ending the 29th November 1879.

Report on Goods Traffic for the five weeks ending the 29th November 1879.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 16th December 1879.

From—JAMES BRANDER, Esq., Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal Railway,
To The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

THE total weight of goods carried over this railway during the above period amounted to 8,41,813, as compared with 6,37,855 for the same period of last year, shewing an increase of 2,03,958. This increase was chiefly in grain including rice, jute in drums, piece-goods and miscellaneous goods.

The following items show the largest decrease, viz. jute in bales, railway materials, and salt.

Increases.

Grain, including rice Mds 14,767

The most of this increase is owing to large quantities of grain having been carried to the late inundated districts along our line.

Jute in drums Mds. 1,81,128

Piece-goods, European Mds. 12,055

Owing to increased facilities for transport to Northern Bengal districts and to the improved condition of the inhabitants

Miscellaneous goods Mds. 62,899

This increase is doubtless in consequence of the marked improvement which has lately taken place in trade generally.

Decreases.

Jute in bales Mds. 33,518

The demand for this may now be expected to revive.

Railway materials Mds. 17,359

In consequence of the supply to Northern Bengal State Railway being completed

Salt Mds. 11,740

In consequence of merchants having laid in their supplies earlier this season than usual.

I attach the usual statement of increase and decreases.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway during the month of November 1879.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE favorable rate ruling in the Calcutta market for jute has resulted in unprecedent heavy despatches during the month; in fact the traffic offering in this particular staple has been more than the present rolling-stock of the line could well cope with, although all available open trucks sheeted have also been used.

Increases.

Alc Mds. 604

Last November we carried 20 maunds only under this head. The weight lifted this month is made up of public consignments and Commissariat beer for the depot at Darjeeling.

Food-grain Mds. 36,507

This increase, in the face of a considerable decline in prices during the month in the Calcutta market, is promising. The new crop, which is just beginning to find its way to the port, is reported to be a bumper one, and should a sufficient margin be left between the selling price and that of the stuff on the ground, a large traffic may be looked for.

Ginger Mds. 8,366

The special reduced rate for this article has enabled holders to send the stuff forward. In November 1878 we lifted 220 maunds only, against 5,586 maunds during the current month.

Jute Mds. 95,546

The traffic in this staple is expanding so rapidly that great difficulty is being felt for want of sufficient rolling-stock to promptly move away all that is offering. During the month we have lifted no less than 1,14,007 maunds and when the bulky nature of the article as universally despatched over this line (in drums) is borne in mind, together with the small measurement capacity of the wagons, some idea of the difficulties which have to be contended with will be recognizable.

Piece-goods Mds. 13,583

Salt Mds. 10,475

A gross weight of 10,574 maunds of this staple has been carried during the current month, against 99 maunds in the corresponding month last year, a result that is no doubt due to the present reduced rate.

Sugar Mds. 1,018

The traffic in this article is insignificant. The movement is at present entirely regulated by the demand for local consumption, as there are no despatches towards the port.

Tobacco Mds. 14,344

The main portion of last season's crop of tobacco has been, I am told, already sent forward, and what is now being despatched is brought from a considerable distance from the line.

All other goods Mds. 17,349

There is no staple carried over this line that more surely shows the steady development of traffic than the miscellaneous consignments lifted under this head. During November 1878 we carried 12,265 maunds only, whereas for the month under review we have lifted 29,614 maunds.

Decreases.

Gunny Mds. 2,439

The high price offering for the raw material on the spot has no doubt had something to do with the falling off under this head. In fact it is just a question whether it is not better worth-while to send the stuff forward in its raw state.

Railway material Mds. 1,689

Tea Mds. 1,366

SANDEYS, the 21st December 1879.

G. M. DUNN, Traffic Superintendent

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of November 1879.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of November 1879 aggregated maunds 1,73,522 as compared with maunds 2,01,583 carried during the corresponding period of 1878, and maunds 1,38,262 carried during the previous month, showing a decrease of maunds 28,061 in the one case and an increase of maunds 35,260 in the other.

Increase.

Hides and horns	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	1,081
There is a great demand for this staple for export to the Continent and to America, and prices have risen in the Calcutta market.
Iron	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	169
This is merely dependent on local requirements.
Piece-goods	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	1,101
In June 1877 the import of piece-goods into Tirhoot represented 56 maunds, and for the month under review the import has risen to close on 11,000 maunds. A large quantity of the English bales imported are sent on into Nepal.
Seeds, indigo	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	21
This is somewhat early for import of this seed.
Seeds, oil	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	665
This represents a slight but steady increase, and it can be hoped that very much more of this traffic would be caught if the line were extended and feeder roads developed.
Salt	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	194
This is a slight increase.
Saltpetre	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	4,261
This is due to the sudden rise in the market prices.
Tobacco	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	1,482
The tobacco crops throughout the district have been very good and the plant continues to thrive. An impetus has been given to this traffic by the improved tobacco farm on the American principle introduced by Messrs. Begg, Dunlop & Co. at Pusa near Wini.
Miscellaneous goods	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	2,026
The traffic under this heading having risen to so high a figure, it will in future be classified in detail.

Decrease.

Coal	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	7,783
Due to the demand for brick-burning and other purposes having ceased.
Food-grain	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	28,280
Last year's traffic in this staple was exceptional, owing to the famine in Madras and to the general demand for this staple.
Indigo	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	1,292
The despatches of indigo late this year.
Railway material	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	1,088
This is entirely dependent on railway works under construction. This item will be struck out of future statements unless freight paying.
Sugar	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	618
The heavy rain and floods checked the growth of the sugarcane.

The decrease in brass and bell-metal ware is due to less import.

The decrease in coal is due to larger import in March 1879, and its taking other routes than the railway.

The increase in edible grains is due to greater import to favorable market, in the neighbourhood of Azingunge, owing to the failure of early crops on account of early floods of the Padma river and owing to destruction of crops by later flood.

The decrease in piece-goods is due to less import.

The increase in sugar and jaggree is due to greater import.

The increase in silk is trifling.

The increase in sundries is due to greater import.

The increase in oil and ghee is due to larger import.

The increase in wine and beer is trifling.
